Atlantic Meets Pacific Francis Byrne, John Holm, 1992-12-03 Selected papers from the Society for Pidgin and Creole linguistics      Pidginization and Creolization Kees Versteegh, 1984-01-01 This book is concerned with the notions of pidginization and creolization and the role of these processes of language learning in the history of the Arabic language It is argued that when a new type of Arabic emerged after the Islamic conquests in the 7th century AD the language went through these processes as can be concluded from the sociolinguistic context of the period The radical changes in the language that led to the development of the modern dialects are then seen as the result of pidginization and creolization Data from the dialects are compared with phenomena in pidginized creolized languages and suggestions are given for the application of this framework to the history of other languages      Pidginization and Creolization Kees Versteegh, C.
