Morphologie G. E. Booij,Christian Lehmann,Joachim Mugdan,2000 This series of HANDBOOKS OF LINGUISTICS AND COMMUNICATION SCIENCE is designed to illuminate a field which not only includes general linguistics and the study of linguistics as applied to specific languages but also covers those more recent areas which have developed from the increasing body of research into the manifold forms of communicative action and interaction For classic linguistics there appears to be a need for a review of the state of the art which will provide a reference base for the rapid advances in research undertaken from a variety of theoretical standpoints while in the more recent branches of communication science the handbooks will give researchers both an overview and orientation To attain these objectives the series will aim for a standard comparable to that of the leading handbooks in other disciplines and to this end will strive for comprehensiveness theoretical explicitness reliable documentation of data and findings and up to date methodology The editors both of the series and of the individual volumes and the individual contributors are committed to this aim The languages of publication are English German and French The main aim of the series is to provide an appropriate account of the state of the art in the various areas of linguistics and communication science covered by each of the various handbooks however no inflexible pre set limits will be imposed on the scope of each volume The series is open ended and can thus take account of further developments in the field This conception coupled with the necessity of allowing adequate time for each volume to be prepared with the necessary care means that there is no set time table for the publication of the whole series Each volume will be a self contained work

complete in itself The order in which the handbooks are published does not imply any rank ordering but is determined by the way in which the series is organized the editor of the whole series enlist a competent editor for each individual volume Once the principal editor for a volume has been found he or she then has a completely free hand in the choice of co editors and contributors The editors plan each volume independently of the others being governed only by general formal principles The series editor only intervene where questions of delineation between individual volumes are concerned It is felt that this modus operandi is best suited to achieving the objectives of the series namely to give a competent account of the present state of knowledge and of the perception of the problems in the area covered by each volume Phan Chau Trinh and His Political Writings Phan Chau Trinh, 2018-05-31 Phan Chau Trinh 1872 1926 was the earliest proponent of democracy and popular rights in Vietnam Throughout his life he favored a moderate approach to political change and advised the country's leaders to seek gradual progress for Vietnam within the French colonial system Unlike many of his contemporaries he did not favor anti French military alliances or insurgent military resistance arguing that to depend on foreign help is foolish and to resort to violence is self destructive As a result of his exposure to Chinese reformist literature Phan Chau Trinh assigned top priority to promoting democracy and human rights and to improving Vietnamese people's lives He believed that true independence could only be achieved by changing the Vietnamese political culture and he articulated penetrating criticism of the corruption and superficiality of Vietnam's officials His emphasis on changing the fundamental values governing the ruling class's behavior as well as his skepticism regarding anticolonial resistance set Phan Chau Trinh apart from his contemporaries and mark him as a true revolutionary Vinh Sinh's masterly introduction to Phan Chau Trinh's essays illuminate both this turbulent era and the courageous intelligence of the author Nguyen Cochinchina Li
