Question Of Style In Philosophy And The Arts:

The Question of Style in Philosophy and the Arts Caroline van Eck, James McAllister, Renée van de Vall, 1995-05-11 Essays examining the historical transition in our perception of the arts and philosophy Ethics, Art, and Representations of the Holocaust Simone Gigliotti, Jacob Golomb, Caroline Steinberg Gould, 2013-11-22 The American Jewish philosopher Berel Lang has left an indelible impression on an unusually broad range of fields that few scholars can rival From his earliest innovations in philosophy and meta philosophy to his ground breaking work on representation historical writing and art after Auschwitz he has contributed original and penetrating insights to the philosophical literary and historical debates on ethics art and the representation of the Nazi Genocide In honor of Berel Lang s five decades of scholarly and philosophical contributions the editors of Ethics Art and Representations of the Holocaust invited seventeen eminent scholars from around the world to discuss Lang s impact on their own research and to reflect on how the Nazi genocide continues to resonate in contemporary debates about antisemitism commemoration and poetic representations Resisting what Alvin Rosenfeld warned as the end of the Holocaust the essays in this collection signal the Holocaust as an event without closure of enduring resonance to new generations of scholars of genocide Jewish studies and philosophy Readers will find original and provocative essays on topics as diverse as Nietzsche s reputed Nazi leanings Jewish anti apartheid activists in South Africa wartime rescue in Poland philosophical responses to the Holocaust hidden diaries in the Kovno Ghetto and analyses of reactions to trauma in classic literary works by Bernhard Schlink Sylvia Plath and Derek Walcott Philosophy and the Art of Writing Berel Lang, 1983

Philosophy as World Literature Jeffrey R. Di Leo, 2020-11-26 What does it mean to consider philosophy as a species of not just literature but world literature The authors in this collection explore philosophy through the lens of the worlding of literature that is how philosophy is connected and reconnected through global literary networks that cross borders mix stories and speak in translation and dialect Historically much of the world s most influential philosophy from Plato s dialogues and Augustine s confessions to Nietzsche s aphorisms and Sartre s plays was a form of literature as well as by extension a form of world literature Philosophy as World Literature offers a variety of accounts of how the worlding of literature problematizes the national categorizing of philosophy and brings new meanings and challenges to the discussion of intersections between philosophy and literature Questions on the Philosophy of Art Wilbur Fiske Stone (Jr.), 1897 more Laruelle and Art Jonathan Fardy, 2019-11-14 François Laruelle emerged from the hallowed generation of French postwar philosophers that included luminaries such as Jacques Derrida, Gilles Deleuze, Luce Irigaray and Jean Baudrillard yet his thinking differs radically from that of his better known contemporaries. In Laruelle and Art Jonathan Fardy provides the first academic monograph dedicated solely to Laruelle's unique contribution to aesthetic theory and specifically the non-philosophical project he terms non-aesthetics. This undertaking allows Laruelle to think about art outside the boundaries of standard philosophy, an approach that Fardy explicates through a series of case studies. By analysing the art of figures such as Julia Margaret Cameron, Anish Kapoor, Dan Flavin and James Turrell as well as the drama of Michael Frayn, Fardy's new book enables new and experienced readers of Laruelle to understand how the philosopher's thinking can open up new vistas of art and criticism.

Philosophy as a Literary Art Costica Bradatan, 2016-04-14 Despite philosophers' growing interest in the relation between philosophy and literature in general, over the last few decades comparatively few studies have been published dealing more narrowly with the literary aspects of philosophical texts. The relationship between philosophy and literature is too often taken to be literature as philosophy and very rarely philosophy as literature. It is the dissatisfaction with this one-sidedness that lies at the heart of the present volume. Philosophy has nothing to lose by engaging in a serious process of literary self-analysis. On the contrary, such an exercise would most likely make it stronger, more sophisticated, more playful and especially more self-reflexive. By not moving in this direction, philosophy places itself in the position of not following what has been deemed since Socrates at least the worthiest of all philosophical ideals: self-knowledge. This book was originally published as a special issue of The European Legacy.

Nancy and the Political Sanja Dejanovic, 2015-01-21 Focussed around three core themes: capitalism, the metaphysics of democracy and aesthetics, these 11 essays emphasise the potential of Nancy's political thought and collectively situate it within a broader intellectual context which includes engagement.

Encyclopedia of Philosophy Donald M. Borchert, 2006 This volume covering entries from Abbagnano, Nicola to Byzantine philosophy presents articles on Eastern and Western philosophies, medical and scientific ethics, the Holocaust, terrorism, censorship, biographical entries and much more.

Badiou and Deleuze Read Literature Jean-Jacques Lecercle, 2010-06-26 Considers the strong readings that Alain Badiou and Gilles Deleuze imposed on the texts they read. Why do philosophers read literature? How do they read it? Does their philosophy derive from their reading of literature? If so, to what extent? Anyone who reads contemporary European philosophers has to ask such questions. Lecercle demonstrates that philosophers need literature as much as literary critics need philosophy: it is an exercise not in the philosophy of literature where literature is a mere object of analysis but in philosophy and literature, a heady and unusual mix.

Aesthetic Criteria: Gombrich and the Philosophies of Science of Popper and Polanyi Sheldon Richmond, 2023-03-13

Metaphor and Metaphilosophy Sarah A. Mattice, 2014-10-08 Sarah A. Mattice explores contemporary philosophical activity and the way in which one aspect of language, metaphor, gives shape and boundary to the landscape of the discipline.

The book examines metaphors of combat play and aesthetic experience and emphasizes how the choices we make in philosophical language are deeply intertwined with what we think philosophy is and how it should be practiced Drawing on a broad range of resources from cognitive linguistics and hermeneutics to aesthetics and Chinese philosophy Mattice s argument provides insight into the evolution and future of philosophy itself The Language and Style of Film Criticism

Science, Art and Nature in Medieval and Modern Thought A.C. Crombie,1990-07-01 The author sees the history of Western Science as the history of a vision and an argument initiated by the ancient Greeks in their search for principles at once of nature and of argument itself This scientific vision explored and controlled by argument and the diversification of both vision and argument by scientific experience and by interaction with the wider contexts of intellectual culture constitute the long history of European scientific thought Underlying that development have been specific commitments to conceptions of nature and of science and its intellectual and moral assumptions accompanied by a recurrent critique their diversification has generated a series of different styles of scientific thinking and of making theoretical and practical decisions which the
