Questioning The Media A Critical Introduction:

Questioning the Media John Downing, John D. H. Downing, Ali Mohammadi, Annabelle Sreberny, 1995-03-15 Clearly written with careful signposting of relevant debates this reader in the critical tradition is a model of an introductory cultural and media studies text the writing is accessible the concepts and arguments are sophisticated and the tone is one of committed engagement Media International Australia Questioning the Media John Derek Hall Downing, 1990 Mass Media James B. Martin, 2002 Mass media has become an integral part of the human experience News travels around the world in a split second affecting people in other countries in untold ways Although being on top of the news may be good at least for news junkies mass media also transmits values or the lack thereof condenses complex events and thoughts to simplified sound bites and often ignores the essence of an event or story The selective bibliography gathers the books and magazine literature over the previous ten years while providing access through author title and subject indexes

Questioning the Media John Downing, Ali Mohammadi, Annabelle Sreberny-Mohammadi, 1991 The Art of Dialogue Ineke de Feijter, 2007 Media and culture are deeply intertwined in contemporary society Religions have problems relating to this media culture which is shaped by media processes and conditioned by digital media and interactive forms of communication Media set the agenda and they profoundly challenge religions both with respect to their public communication and their very existence and public relevance People increasingly use media for shaping their religious identity and their search with respect to questions of ultimate meaning Barely any theological studies exist that reflect on religious policies and their subsequent praxis in the field of communication The author analyzes Christian policy views and identifies the main problems and opportunities in relating to media culture Reading Media Theory Brett Mills, David M. Barlow, 2014-06-11 What does the Frankfurt School have to say about the creative industries Does the spread of Google prove we now live in an information society How is Madonna an example of postmodernism How new is new media Does the power of Facebook mean we're all media makers now This groundbreaking volume part reader part textbook helps you to engage thoroughly with some of the major voices that have come to define the landscape of theory in media studies from the public sphere to postmodernism from mass communication theory to media effects from production to reception and beyond But much more than this by providing assistance and questions directly alongside the readings it crucially helps you develop the skills necessary to become a critical informed and analytical reader Each reading is supported on the facing page by author annotations which provide comments dissect the arguments explain key ideas and terminology make references to other relevant material and pose questions that emerge from the text Key features Opening chapters What is theory and What is reading bring alive the importance of both as key parts of media scholarship Pre reading substantial Introductory sections set each text and its author in context and show the relevance of the reading to contemporary culture Post reading Reflection sections summarise each reading's key points and suggests further areas to explore and think about 4 types of annotations help you engage with the reading context content structure and writing style as well as questions to provoke further thought Split into 4 sections Reading theory Key thinkers and schools Approaches and Media Theory in context New to the second edition New chapters on New Media and Audiences as Producers Reading Media Theory will assist you in developing close reading and analytic skills It will also increase your ability to outline key theories and debates assess different case studies critically link theoretical approaches to a particular historical context and to structure and present an argument As such it will be essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students of media studies cultural studies communication studies the sociology of the media popular culture and other related subjects

Media, Conflicts and the National Security Question Abiodun Adeniyi,Paul A. Obi,Sani K. Usman,Ibrahim U.

Yusuf,2025-03-15 This book explores how the media and journalism in a cross disciplinary sense has treated conflicts in Nigeria West Africa and the Sahel Contributors connect theoretical foundations with practical experiences in the study of media conflicts and national security seeking to unravel the mediated and communication logic s in news coverage and analyse the media s role in pre conflict in conflict and post conflict discourses The work maps out the impact of mediated narratives on security risk terrorism banditry and general society relying on local on the spot and ontological cultural experiences in Africa especially Nigeria Ghana Sierra Leone and other parts of West Africa Life after New Media Sarah Kember,Joanna Zylinska,2014-12-05 An argument for a shift in understanding new media from a fascination with devices to an examination of the complex processes of mediation In Life after New Media Sarah Kember and Joanna Zylinska make a case for a significant shift in our understanding of new media They argue that we should move beyond our fascination with objects computers smart phones iPods Kindles to an examination of the interlocking technical social and biological processes of mediation Doing so they say reveals that life itself can be understood as mediated subject to the same processes of reproduction transformation flattening and patenting undergone by other media forms By Kember and Zylinska's account the dispersal of media and technology into our biological and social lives intensifies our entanglement with nonhuman entities Mediation all encompassing and indivisible becomes for them a key trope for understanding our being in the technological world Drawing on the work of Bergson and Derrida while displaying a rigorous playfulness toward philosophy Kember and Zylinska examine the multiple flows of mediation Importantly they also consider the ethical necessity of making a cut to any media processes in order to contain them Considering topics that range from media enacted cosmic events to the intelligent home they propose a new way of doing media studies that is simultaneously critical and creative and that performs an encounter between theory and practice
