Reduction Of School Violence:

Reducing School Violence Through Conflict Resolution David W. Johnson, Roger T. Johnson, 1995 In this book David and Roger Johnson offer an approach that involves interrelated programs for preventing violence and helping students learn to resolve conflicts constructively The authors discuss how schools can create a cooperative learning environment where students learn how to negotiate and mediate peer conflicts and teachers use academic controversies to enhance learning

Reduction of School Violence Beverley Holden Johns, 1997 Planning Assistance Programs to Reduce School Violence and Disruption Research for Better Schools, inc, 1976 Reducing School Shootings William H. Jaynes, 2021-02-01 This book calls for a multidimensional and comprehensive approach to reduce the number of school shootings rather than the simplistic unidimensional strategy that is commonly advocated Based on meta analyses examining which variables are most often related to positive changes in violent student behavior it also integrates other research and historical trends in order to formulate recommendations regarding how to reduce school shootings The topic of school shootings is one of the most vital issues in society today because 1 schools should be the safest places on Earth for children 2 if students do not feel safe they are not going to learn very well in school and 3 it is of such great concern to parents and society at large as evinced by the degree of news coverage that school shooting incidents receive Sadly despite the gravity of the problem many people tend to either respond in an emotional way or propose simplistic solutions Gun control legislation alone will not solve the problem instead it calls for a multi disciplinary and multifaceted approach involving parents teachers schools and healthcare This book investigates the status quo goals and solutions pursuing a fact based approach This book is of special interest to the academic community national leaders and other policymakers It is also suitable for courses on education psychology sociology criminal justice and other areas of law It will also appeal to the general audience A ^A New Model of School

Discipline David R. Dupper, 2010-03-25 This highly practical guide presents a transformative new model of school discipline for school personnel seeking to engage students and reduce behavior problems in the most effective pragmatic and cost efficient manner possible Reducing School Violence Through Conflict Resolution David Johnson, Roger Johnson, 1995-09-15 In this book David and Roger Johnson offer an approach that involves interrelated programs for preventing violence and helping students learn to resolve conflicts constructively The authors discuss how schools can create a cooperative learning environment where students learn how to negotiate and mediate peer conflicts and teachers use academic controversies to enhance learning Note This product listing is for the Adobe Acrobat PDF version of the book

Interventions to Reduce Bullying and Cyberbullying Peter K. Smith, Sheri Bauman, Dennis Wong, 2019-08-02 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Interventions to Reduce Bullying and Cyberbullying that was published in IJERPH School Violence in Context Rami Benbenishty, Ron Avi Astor, 2005-02-10 Drawing on one of the most comprehensive and representative studies of school violence ever conducted Benbenishty and Astor explore and differentiate the many manifestations of victimization in schools providing a new model for understanding school violence in context The authors make striking use of the geopolitical climate of the Middle East to model school violence in terms of its context within as well as outside of the school site This pioneering new work is unique in that it uses empirical data to show which variables and factors are similar across different cultures and which variables appear unique to different cultures This empirical contrast of universal with culturally specific patterns is sorely needed in the school violence literature The authors innovative research maps the contours of verbal social physical and sexual victimization and weapons possession as well as staff initiated violence against students presenting some startling findings along the way When comparing schools in Israel with schools in California the authors demonstrate for the first time that for most violent events the patterns of violent behaviors have the same relationship for different age groups genders and nations Conversely they highlight specific kinds of violence that are strongly influenced by culture They reveal for example how Arab boys encounter much more boy to boy sexual harassment than their Jewish peers and that teacher initiated victimization of students constitutes a significant and often overlooked type of school violence especially among certain cultural groups Crucially the authors expand the paradigm of understanding school violence to encompass the intersection of cultural ethnic neighborhood and family characteristics with intra school factors such as teacher student dynamics anti violence policies student participation grade level and religious and gender divisions It is only by understanding the multiple contexts of school violence they argue that truly effective prevention programs interventions research agendas and policies can be implemented In an age of heightened concern over school security this study has enormous implications for school violence theory research and policy throughout the world The patterns that emerge from the authors analysis form a blueprint for the research agenda needed to address new and exciting theoretical and practical questions regarding the intersections of context and school victimization The unique perspective on school violence will undoubtedly strike a chord with all readers informing scholars and students across the fields of social work psychology education sociology public health and peace conflict studies Its clearly written and accessible style will appeal to teachers principals policy makers and parents interested in the authors practical discussion of policy and intervention implications making this an invaluable tool for understanding preventing and handling violence in schools throughout the world

Children at Risk Arthur V. Carrington, 2002 There was a day when society shielded its children from the often cruel world At least in the so called developed countries the exposure of children to the worst perversions society can conjure up has never been greater Children have reached the exalted level of being treated seduced and targeted to as a market This bibliography brings together the literature providing access by subject groupings as well as author and title indexes

Critical Examinations of School Violence and Disturbance in K-12 Education Crews, Gordon A., 2016-02-02 In recent years a rise in incidents of juvenile delinquency and violence in American schools has led to increasing concern among school administrators students parents and the general public The frequency of these cases calls into question issues of safety risk factors and prevention strategies within the modern school system Critical Examinations of School Violence and Disturbance in K 12 Education is an authoritative reference source for the latest research on youth violence in schools offering a thorough analysis of contributing factors to such incidents and possible solutions to prevent future occurrences Highlighting relevant issues on zero tolerance policies historical perspectives and preventive actions this book is ideally designed for school administrators law enforcement teachers and researchers actively working in educational environments
