Right To Die Caring Alternatives To Euthanasia:

The Right to Die? Mark Blocher, 1999 The Right to Die challenges us to accept that there is no disgrace in human mortality that human dignity can be cared for and respected in the midst of life's worst experiences Mark suggests that Christians must become proactive in providing alternatives to assisted suicide and euthanasia while offering at least three promises to the terminally ill person to the best of our ability we will not allow you to die in pain we will not allow you to die alone you will not be a burden to anyone

Euthanasia Josef Kuře, 2011-09-15 No one really wants to die or do they From classical times to our post modern era of medical high tech societies have struggled with the thorny issue of euthanasia and what it entails Who shall be entitled to a good death and in what form shall it arrive This book provides the reader with insight and enlightenment on the medical philosophical social cultural and existential aspects of good death amid our digitized individualized and ageing society hampered by rising health care costs but unchained from one standardized level of care

Community Care in Hong Kong Kar-wai TONG, Kenneth Nai-kuen FONG, 2014-10-16 Different global healthcare challenges bring threats to the healthcare system Like other developed countries Hong Kong is also focusing on how to manage the ageing population how to meet the rising public expectations and how to finance the ever increasing medical costs Strengthening community care services may provide a way out for settling these concerns Written by a team of renowned scholars and leading practitioners this book aims at evaluating how different parties can assist in building up local community capacity to achieve sustainable health and wellness The book is divided into three sections The first section discusses the different roles and practices of specialised community care that contribute to the relative success of the healthcare system in Hong Kong The second section makes use of various research practices to extrapolate future healthcare needs and practices in Hong Kong And the last one addresses the values of health care which underlie the healthcare culture structure and practice in Hong Kong over time Apart from pointing out the limitation of the current system this book will also discuss the future directions of the healthcare system in order to cope with the challenges in a changing society Published by City University of Hong Kong Press

these problems in ways faithful to Christian values requires a special commitment This book shows how to make and keep that commitment Death, Dying, and Organ Transplantation Franklin G. Miller, Robert D. Truog, 2012 This book challenges conventional medical ethics by exposing the inconsistency between the reality of end of life practices and established ethical justifications of them Behind the White Coat Dr Steve Farber, Steven H. Farber, 2003-03-15 Practical Decision Making in Health Care Ethics Raymond J. Devettere, 2009-12-04 For nearly fifteen years Practical Decision Making in Health Care Ethics has offered scholars and students a highly accessible and teachable alternative to the dominant principle based theories in the field Devettere's approach is not based on an ethics of abstract obligations and duties but following Aristotle on how to live a fulfilled and happy life in short an ethics of personal well being grounded in prudence the virtue of ethical decision making This third edition is revised and updated and includes discussions of several landmark cases including the tragic stories of Terri Schiavo and Jesse Gelsinger the first death caused by genetic research Devettere addresses new topics such as partial birth abortion law embryonic stem cell research infant euthanasia in The Netherlands recent Vatican statements on feeding tubes organ donation after cardiac death new developments in artificial hearts clinical trials developed by pharmaceutical companies to market new drugs ghostwritten scientific articles published in major medical journals and controversial HIV AIDS research in Africa This edition also includes a new chapter on the latest social and political issues in American health care Devettere's engaging text relies on commonsense moral concepts and avoids academic jargon It includes a glossary of legal medical and ethical terms an index of cases and thoroughly updated bibliographic essays at the end of each chapter that offer resources for further reading It is a true classic brilliantly conceived and executed and is now even more valuable to undergraduates and graduate students medical students health care professionals hospital ethics committees and institutional review boards and general readers interested in philosophy medicine and the rapidly changing field of health care ethics Last Rights Barbara Logue, 1993-01-01 Several recent trends demographic social and economic are increasing the incidence and public support of deliberate death among the old and sick The number of elderly people is at an all time high Medical technology can prolong the lives of these men and women but it cannot keep them independent free of pain or competent to manage their own affairs Never before have so many been so sick for so long Changes in the size and structure of the American family make long term home care almost impossible while exorbitant health costs and scarce resources limit the provision of high quality care by paid workers Researcher Barbara J Logue refers to any deliberate behavior that causes death as death control She points out that death control like birth control involves very serious and deeply personal decisions choices that ought to be made on the basis of reliable information with care and compassion without coercion She goes on to assert that like birth control death control should be performed legally and with the help of the medical community Without access to assisted deaths many frail old people are left to endure wretched deaths Some die slowly of neglect or malnutrition in nursing homes Others take their own lives sometimes by violent means while they can still act independently because they are afraid that no one will help them if they wait until they are very sick Some die alone fearful of implicating friends or relatives in their back alley euthanasia While some die too soon because they are poor uneducated or hard to manage others are overtreated and their deaths delayed because doctors and hospitals want to increase their income or fear prosecution if they help a patient die Barbara Logue describes these and many other hazards inherent in our present long term care system noting that all too often the system causes suffering instead of alleviating it After assessing the alternatives she urges that we must make compassionate death control as available as birth control We must regulate and monitor it like any other medical procedure taking steps to minimize the risks while maximizing the benefits

Health Care Policy in an Age of New Technologies Kant Patel, Mark E Rushefsky, 2015-05-20 Revolutionary advances in biomedical research and information systems technology pose new and difficult issues for American health care policy especially in the context of managed care Health Care Policy in a New Millennium takes on this challenging array of issues where the dignity of individual life meets the imperatives of national level health care systems patients rights rationing of care organ transplants genetic research confidentiality of medical records the right to die and other ethical dilemmas The book places these critical questions about the quality of life in our society in their political legal social economic and ethical contexts
