Shaping Flexibility In Vocational Education And Training Institutional Curricular And Professional Conditions:

Shaping Flexibility in Vocational Education and Training W.J. Nijhof, Anja Heikkinen, Loek F.M.

Nieuwenhuis, 2005-12-28 Flexibility seems to be the core concept of economic and educational change in our time The promise of solutions to many problems at the individual institutional and national level evokes as much controversy as acclaim This might be related to the different perspectives of actors and researchers involved in problem solving in Vocational Education and Training VET where on the one hand solutions should be sought in key qualifications and transferability in changing teaching and learning processes while on the other political institutional organisational and professional conditions are seen as the key interventions to build a responsive workforce on the basis of a re engineered VET system Consequently flexibility in connection with vocational education and training and the labour market has several divergent connotations

Labour-Market Flexibility and Individual Careers Simone R. Kirpal, 2011-01-12 With labour markets across the world and even in social democratic Europe in a state of unprecedented flux this exhaustive study addresses the problem of how to balance job market demands personal career interests and private life becomes a central issue for millions of employees So how do modern work and employment arrangements restructure individual careers and what is required of individuals in order to manage career transitions successfully over time This is one of very few in depth empirical studies to analyze how labour market trends organisational change and the subjective work orientations of individuals interact The author s detailed assessment is based on a comparison of the structural contexts work orientations and employment histories of nurses and ICT technicians in Germany and the UK These two core service occupations as well as the national contexts of the two European nations have quite different working environments and vocational traditions Nursing is an institutionalized semi profession with clear criteria of qualification and career continuity while information and communication technology ICT is a new evolving field with varied skill backgrounds and high job mobility To arrive at an understanding of how individual career trajectories are changing this book closely examines the interplay of labour market demands employees work and career orientations and the development of their skills It records the ways in which employees adapt to increased labour market flexibility which on the one hand induces discontinuities of careers employment and work and on the other generates new skill requirements and learning expectations as well as unforeseen opportunities

Cross-Functional Knowledge Management S.M. Riad Shams, Demetris Vrontis, Yaakov Weber, Evangelos

Tsoukatos, Alberto Ferraris, 2019-03-07 Diverse kinds of knowledge are vital for each organization that would successfully compete today in an international scenario The emergent relevance of knowledge and its management in an even more complex environment opens up the possibility to analyze investigate and deepen our understanding on different aspects related to several functional areas in business management Nowadays firms that create new knowledge and apply it effectively and efficiently will be successful at creating competitive advantages The choices of the firms in selecting and applying different knowledge process such as knowledge sourcing transferring and exploiting as well as knowledge tools may be crucial. Thus the role of knowledge as the key source of potential advantage for organizations and indeed whole economies is still a hot debate in the international landscape. This book develops insights for the management of knowledge in cross functional business areas to originate an innovative approach to the classical Knowledge Management KM field. This book provides a fresh perspective on different knowledge related topics in an international landscape highlighting the key role of knowledge and its management in business activities. Overall the primary aim of this book is to extend our understandings on how KM can be helpful in several cross functional management areas such as strategic management finance HRM and innovation as well as in different business circumstances such as M A internationalization processes and risk management.

Divergence and Convergence in Education and Work Vibe Aarkrog, Christian Helms Jørgensen, 2008. Are the educational systems in Europe becoming more similar or more different? This book deals with the issue of divergence and convergence in relation to systems learning environments and learners in vocational educational training. VET 18 VET researchers from eight countries contribute to the examination of divergence and convergence at three levels. At the national level this volume deals with the following questions: What are the consequences of the European policies that aim at converging the VET systems in Europe? What is the impact of globalization on the national systems? At the level of institutions the central issue concerns the relation between learning environments. What is the coherence between school based education and learning in the work place and how can they connect? Finally at the third level of the learners and their identities the focus is on the role of vocational educational training in the formation of biographies and identities. The book thus covers the central issues on the agenda in relation to future vocational education.

Supporting Workplace Learning Rob F. Poell, Marianne van Woerkom, 2011-01-19. During the 1990s the workplace was rediscovered as a rich source of learning. The issue of workplace learning has since received increasing attention from academics and practitioners alike but is still under researched empirically. This book brings together a range of state of the art research papers addressing interventions to support learning in the workplace. The authors are experienced international scholars who have an interest in making HRD and workplace learning practices more evidence based through practical relevant research. Although workplace learning is largely an autonomous process many organizations want to manage it as part of their broader HRD strategy. There are limits however to the extent to which the complex dynamics of learning in the workplace can be guided in pre determined desirable directions. This tension between the possible strengths of workplace learning and the limits of managing it is at the heart of this volume. The book is broken into three sections. The first section deals with workplace learning interventions including HRD practitioners strategies training and development activities and e learning programs. The second section investigates the impact of social support or lack thereof in workplace learning such as mentoring coaching and socialization practices. The third section addresses collective learning in the workplace looking at
