Sharks 1 Inshore Coastal Waters:

A Pocket Guide to Sharks of the World David A. Ebert, Marc Dando, Sarah Fowler, 2021-08-24 Sharks are some of the most misunderstood animals on the planet We still have a lot to learn about these fascinating creatures which are more seriously threatened with extinction and in greater need of conservation and management than any other major group of vertebrates A Pocket Guide to Sharks of the World is the only field guide to identify illustrate and describe every known shark species Its compact format makes it handy for many situations including recognizing living species fishery catches or parts sold at markets This expanded second edition presents lavish images details on newly discovered species and updated text throughout The book contains useful sections on identifying shark teeth and the shark fins most commonly encountered in the fin trade and takes a look at shark biology ecology and conservation A Pocket Guide to Sharks of the World will be an essential resource and definitive reference for years to come Back cover World Swordfish Fisheries: Latin America. Pt. A. South America. Section 1. Pacific. Segment A. Colombia, Ecuador and Peru William B. Folsom, Dennis M. Weidner, Mark Wildman, Julio A. Serrano, Karyl Brewster-Geisz, Dale M. Crory, 1997 Elasmobranch Biodiversity, Conservation and Management Sarah L. Fowler, Tim M. Reed, Frances Dipper, 2002 The Darwin Elasmobranch Biodiversity Conservation and Management project in Sabah held a three day international seminar that included a one day workshop in order to highlight freshwater and coastal elasmobranch conservation issues in the region and worldwide to disseminate the result of the project to other Malaysian states and countries and to raise awareness of the importance of considering aspects of elasmobranch biodiversity in the context of nature conservation commercial fisheries management and for subsistence fishing communities These proceedings contain numerous peer reviewed papers originally presented at the seminar which cover a wide range of topics with particular reference to species from freshwater and estuarine habitats The workshop served to develop recommendations concerning the future prospects of elasmobranch fisheries biodiversity conservation and management This paper records those conclusions which highlight the importance of elasmobranchs as top marine predators and keystone species noting that permanent damage to shark and ray populations are likely to have serious and unexpected negative consequences for commercial and subsistence yields of other important fish stocks Amendment 1 to the Consolidated Atlantic Highly Migratory Species Fishery Management Plan, Essential Fish Habitat, 2009 Synopsis of Biological Data on the School Shark, Galeorhinus Australis (Macleay 1881) A. M. Olsen, 1984 A Preliminary Evaluation of the Status of Shark Species José Ignacio Castro, Christa M. Woodley, Rebecca L. Brudek, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1999 The status of shark species is reviewed based on the available data A review of the history of shark fisheries demonstrates that intensive shark fisheries are not sustainable Numerous problems are encountered in assessing shark populations a general lack of biological and fishery data lack of suitable models and lack of validated age estimates Sharks have an unusual combination of biological characteristics slow growth and delayed maturation long reproductive cycles low fecundity and long life spans These characteristics make them vulnerable to overfishing A preliminary evaluation of the status of shark species is made on the basis of historical data the reproductive potential of each species and the level of exploitation of the species In this document exploited shark species are classified numerically according to their vulnerability The majority of these species are listed as Category 1 indicating that there are not sufficient data to assess the species Available data indicate that sharks are very vulnerable and are threatened by overexploitation in many parts of the world
