Looking at Architecture with Ruskin John Unrau, John Ruskin, 1978-01-01 Looking at Architecture with Ruskin John Unrau, 1978 A Philosopher Looks at Architecture Paul Guyer, 2021-05-20 What should our buildings look like Or is their usability more important than their appearance Paul Guyer argues that the fundamental goals of architecture first identified by the Roman architect Marcus Pollio Vitruvius good construction functionality and aesthetic appeal have remained valid despite constant changes in human activities building materials and technologies as well as in artistic styles and cultures Guyer discusses philosophers and architects throughout history including Alberti Kant Ruskin Wright and Loos and surveys the ways in which their ideas are brought to life in buildings across the world He also considers the works and words of contemporary architects including Annabelle Selldorf Herzog and de Meuron and Steven Holl and shows that despite changing times and fashions good architecture continues to be something worth striving for This new series offers short and personal perspectives by expert thinkers on topics that we all encounter in our everyday lives The Seven Lamps of Architecture John Ruskin, 2012-03-08 Classic work by great Victorian expresses his deepest convictions of the nature and role of architecture and its aesthetics Authoritative edition includes reproductions of 14 plates of Ruskin s architectural drawings The Sympathy of Things Lars Spuybroek, 2016-04-21 If there is one thing we can learn from John Ruskin it is that each age must find its own way to beauty writes Lars Spuybroek in The Sympathy of Things his ground breaking work which proposes a radical new aesthetics for the digital era Spuybroek argues that we must undo the twentieth century and learn to understand the aesthetic insights of the nineteenth century art critic John Ruskin from which he distils pointers for the contemporary age Linking philosophy design and the digital with art history architecture and craft Spuybroek explores the romantic notion of sympathy a core concept in Ruskin s aesthetics re evaluating it as the driving force of the twenty first century aesthetic experience For Ruskin beauty always comprises variation imperfection and fragility three concepts that wholly disappeared from our mindsets during the twentieth century but which Spuybroek argues to be central to contemporary aesthetics and design Revised throughout and a new foreword by philosopher Brian Massumi this is a new edition of a seminal work which has drawn praise from fields as diverse as digital architecture and speculative realism and will continue to be influential as it wrests Ruskin s ideas out of the Victorian era and reconstructs them for the modern age Proceedings of the Leeds Philosophical and Literary Society, Literary and Historical Section , 1925 The Architecture of Frederick Clarke Withers and the Progress of the Gothic Revival in America After 1850 Francis R. Kowsky, 1980 Reading Ruskin's Cultural Heritage Gill Chitty, 2023-04-28 John Ruskin s critical commentary on culture and society transformative in his own time established him as a leading critic of the 19th century His prescient thinking resonates powerfully with today s issues in cultural heritage conservation This volume presents his ideas in context key extracts from his works and future directions for his foundational ideas Ruskin s passionate responses to the environmental and social changes of his day chime with contemporary ideas on themes like sustainability ethical production and environmentalism Though widely recognised as a key figure in preservation history his heritage work is rarely appreciated in full context and breadth This volume presents six stimulating essays on Ruskin's readership and reception his transformative perceptions of heritage futures and provocative writing on cultural landscapes and the arts and crafts Extracts from both well known and lesser known works accompany each chapter to reflect the distinctive vocality of his texts from his writing on architecture and buildings to landscape and cultural heritage The volume offers a richer description of cultural context and meaning than usually afforded to Ruskin's work in conservation and critical heritage studies finding its resonance and relevance Written for an academic and professional audience in heritage studies and historic building conservation and particularly relevant for cultural heritage management this is a core text and reference work for undergraduate and postgraduate students in history of art and architecture heritage studies and architectural building conservation also central to interests of cultural historians and scholars of nineteenth century Victorian history and literature

Building Ruskin's Italy Stephen Kite, 2017-07-05 Based on extensive fieldwork and research into John Ruskin's still little interpreted archival material notebooks and drawings in the Ruskin Library Lancaster University UK and elsewhere Stephen Kite offers an unprecedented account of the evolution of Ruskin's architectural thinking and observation in the context of Italy where his watching of building achieved its greatest intensity Venice naturally figures large in a work that also examines other key sites including Verona Lucca Pisa Florence Milan and Monza here the fabrics are vividly read in their contexts against the rich evidence of Ruskin's diaries his pocket book sketches architectural worksheets drawings and daguerrotypes the early form of photography and the drafts and published editions of the texts Kite presents the complex story of Ruskin's visual thinking in architecture as a narrative of deepening interpretation and representation focusing on the humbler monuments of Italy He shows how Ruskin's early picturesque naturalism was transformed by the realisation that to understand the built realities confronting him in Italy demanded a closer engagement with the substance of the stones themselves reflecting Ruskin's sense of his task as a near archaeological gleaning and gathering of remains hidden in many a grass grown court and silent pathway and lightless canal
