Meeting Of The Waters The Hindmarsh Island Affair:

The Meeting of the Waters Margaret Simons, 2003 Account and analysis of the fight between developers and local Australian Aborigines over the construction of a bridge between the mainland and Hindmarsh Island in South Australia in the 1990s Looks at how the battle divided the indigenous and white communities embroiled the Minister for Aboriginal Affairs and prompted a Royal Commission Includes endnotes references and index Faith stories Anna Hickey-Moody, 2023-04-25 Faith stories is an investigation of faith and belief systems in Australia and England Drawing on ethnography interviews focus groups for adults and arts based workshops for their children Hickey Moody takes a community based approach to examining belonging attachment faith belief and what really matters in diverse areas Each of the book s research sites is geographically and culturally specific in ways that shape residents experiences of community and belonging but they are united by enduring threads relating to colonisation diaspora and negotiating belonging in culturally diverse contexts Examining faith reveals that there are striking similarities between seemingly different cultures Understanding these connections can reduce conflict and promote cohesion in communities that are often struggling to adapt to huge changes This book provides rich resources for those who wish to explore faith and belief in complex social circumstances either as research or as community engagement

In such increasingly divided times work like this is needed now more than ever Gardening the World Veronica Strang, 2009 Around the world intensifying development and human demands for fresh water are placing unsustainable pressures on finite resources Countries are waging war over transboundary rivers and rural and urban communities are increasingly divided as irrigation demands compete with domestic desires Marginal groups are losing access to water as powerful elites protect their own interests and entire ecosystems are being severely degraded These problems are particularly evident in Australia with its industrialised economy and arid climate Yet there have been relatively few attempts to examine the social and cultural complexities that underlie people s engagements with water Based on long term ethnographic fieldwork in two major Australian river catchments the Mitchell River in Cape York and the Brisbane River in southeast Queensland this book examines their major water using and managing groups indigenous communities farmers industries recreational and domestic water users and environmental organisations It explores the issues that shape their different beliefs values and practices in relation to water and considers the specifically cultural or sub cultural meanings that they encode in their material surroundings Through an analysis of each group s diverse efforts to garden the world it provides insights into the complexities of human environmental relationships Quarterly Essay 16 Breach of Trust

Raimond Gaita, 2004-12-01 In the fourth Quarterly Essay of 2004 Raimond Gaita confronts essential questions about politics as it is practised today What do politicians mean when they talk about trust Why is truthfulness important Are we as politically and morally divided as the Americans Does the war on terror authorise leaders to do things that once were considered beyond the pale Gaita argues for a conception of politics in which morality is not an optional extra He discusses

why successful politicians must at times be economical with the truth but shows a way beyond cynicism on the one hand and moralising on the other Politics he says is conceivably a noble vocation as well as potentially a tragic one He looks closely at patriotism and its distortions and the temptation to betray our deepest values in the act of protecting ourselves Combining gentle evocation with gloves off argument Breach of Trust is a clarion call from one of Australia's leading thinkers I have never met anyone who believes that politicians should never lie But of course there are limits They are not set in the heavens but in culture Raimond Gaita Breach Of Trust Another Economy is Possible Manuel Castells, 2017-05-23 Throughout the Western world governments and financial elites responded to the financial crisis of 2008 by trying to restore the conditions of business as usual but the economic social and human damage inflicted by the crisis has given rise to a reconsideration of the inevitability of unfettered capitalism as a fact of life A number of economic practices and organizations emerged in Europe and the United States that embodied alternative values the value of life over the value of money the effectiveness of cooperation over cut throat competition the social responsibility of corporations and responsible regulation by governments over the short term speculative strategies that brought the economy to the brink of catastrophe This book examines the blossoming of innovative new experiments in organizing work and life that emerged in the wake of the financial crisis cooperatives barter networks ethical banking community currencies shared time banks solidarity networks sharing of goods non monetary transactions etc experiments that paved the way for the emergence of a sharing economy in all domains of activity oriented toward the satisfaction of human needs Other innovations included the creation of cryptographic virtual currencies epitomized by bitcoin which blended a libertarian entrepreneurial spirit with information technology to provide an alternative to standard forms of currency On the basis of a cross cultural analysis of alternative economic practices this book develops an important theoretical argument that the economy as a human practice is shaped by culture and that the diversity of cultures as revealed in a time of crisis implies the possibility of different economies depending on the values and power relations that define economic institutions This book will be of great interest to students and scholars in sociology economics and the social sciences generally and to anyone who wishes to understand how our societies and economies are changing today White Beech Germaine Greer, 2014-01-01 For years I had wandered Australia with an aching heart Everywhere I had ever travelled across the vast expanse of the fabulous country where I was born I had seen devastation denuded hills eroded slopes weeds from all over the world feral animals open cut mines as big as cities salt rivers salt earth abandoned townships whole beaches made of beer cans One bright day in December 2001 sixty two year old Germaine Greer found herself confronted by an irresistible challenge in the shape of sixty hectares of dairy farm one of many in south east Queensland that after a century of logging clearing and downright devastation had been abandoned to their fate She didn't think for a minute that by restoring the land she was saving the world She was in search of heart's ease Beyond the acres of exotic pasture grass and soft weed and the impenetrable curtains of tangled Lantana canes there were Macadamias dangling their strings of unripe nuts and Black Beans with red and yellow pea flowers growing on their branches and the few remaining White Beeches stupendous trees up to forty metres in height logged out within forty years of the arrival of the first white settlers To have turned down even a faint chance of bringing them back to their old haunts would have been to succumb to despair Once the process of rehabilitation had begun the chance proved to be a dead certainty When the first replanting shot up to make a forest and rare caterpillars turned up to feed on the leaves of the new young trees she knew beyond doubt that at least here biodepletion could be reversed Greer describes herself as an old dog who succeeded in learning a load of new tricks inspired and rejuvenated by her passionate love of Australia and of Earth most exuberant of small planets

Rights and Redemption Ann Curthoys, Ann Genovese, 2008 History has been central to a number of heated public debates in recent years As Indigenous people have sought redress through the law the role of history in the courts has become highly charged Rights and Redemption is a detailed investigation of the uses of history and historians in high profile cases involving Indigenous litigants something not previously attempted Ann Curthoys Ann Genovese and Alexander Reilly look at cases before the Federal Court during the era of the Howard government a time when Indigenous rights and the place of Aboriginal people in the national story were undermined in government laws and policies They investigate how the courts have made use of historians as expert witnesses and how the colonial past has been framed and understood by the courts Rights and Redemption is an important record of a unique period of litigation in Indigenous affairs in Australia and a meditation on ways in which law and history might improve Indigenous rights Book jacket

Aboriginal Religions in Australia Françoise Dussart, Howard Morphy, 2017-09-08 Over the last 25 years there has been an explosion of interest in the Aboriginal religions of Australia and this anthology provides a variety of recent writings by a wide range of scholars Australian Aboriginal Religions are probably the oldest extant religious systems Over some 50 000 years they have coped with change and re-invented themselves in an astonishingly creative way The Dreaming the mythical time when the Ancestor Spirits shaped the territories of the Aborigines and laid down a moral and ritual law for their occupants is the fundamental religious reality It is the basis of the Aborigines' view of their land or country kinship relationships ritual and art However the Dreaming is not a static principle since it is interpreted in different ways as in the extraordinary movement in contemporary indigenous painting and in attempts at an accommodation with Christianity The contributions of anthropologists cultural historians philosophers of religion and others are included in this anthology which not only guides readers through the literature but also ensures this still largely inaccessible material is available to a wider range of readers and non-specialist students and academics

Witnessing Australian Stories Kelly Jean Butler, 2017-07-28 This book is about how Australians have responded to stories about suffering and injustice in Australia presented in a range of public media including literature history films and television Those who have responded are both ordinary and prominent Australians politicians writers and scholars All have sought to come to terms with Australia's history by responding empathetically to stories of its marginalized citizens Drawing upon international scholarship on collective memory public history testimony and witnessing this book represents a cultural history of contemporary Australia It examines the forms of witnessing that dominated Australian public culture at the turn of the millennium Since the late 1980s witnessing has developed in Australia in response to the increasingly audible voices of indigenous peoples migrants and more recently asylum seekers As these voices became public they posed a challenge not only to scholars and politicians but also most importantly to ordinary citizens When former Prime Minister Kevin Rudd delivered his historic apology to Australia s indigenous peoples in February 2008 he performed an act of collective witnessing that affirmed the testimony and experiences of Aboriginal Australians The phenomenon of witnessing became crucial not only to the recognition and reparation of past injustices but to efforts to create a more cosmopolitan Australia in the present This is a vital addition to Transaction s critically acclaimed Memory and Narrative series Indigenous Intellectual Property Matthew Rimmer,2015-12-18 Taking an interdisciplinary approach unmatched by any other book on this topic this thoughtful Handbook considers the international struggle to provide for proper and just protection of Indigenous intellectual property IP In light of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples 2007 expert contributors assess the legal and policy controversies over Indigenous knowledge in the fields of international law copyright law trademark law patent law trade secrets law and cultural heritage The overarching discussion examines national developments in Indigenous IP in the United States Canada South Africa the European Union Australia New Zealand and Indonesia The Handbook provides a comprehensive overview of the historical origins of conflict over Indigenous knowledge and examines new challenges to Indigenous IP from emerging developments in information technology biotechnology and climate change Practitioners and scholars in the field of IP will learn a great deal from this Handbook about the issues and challenges that surround just protection of a variety of forms of IP for Indigenous communities Making Sense of History Geoffrey Partington,2013-07-20 Much more is known about the past that is interesting valuable and and relevant to our problems than any one of us can ever know Making Sense of History proposes we focus on Five Zones of Priority Livelihoods Protection from violence Freedom Relationships and Ideas Partington examines some perennial problems such as Progress or Regression Bias Prejudice and Moral Judgment Depth versus Breadth and the ongoing fabrication of myths and accusations of genocide and cannibalism Partington warns against looking to history for the certainties that physics or mathematics provide We have free will and make decisions rather than react uniformly to external forces Historical understanding is more like proverbial wisdom writ large than the theorems of Pythagoras or Einstein A more serious problem is the ideological capture of much history teaching in countries like Britain the United States Canada Australia and New Zealand Partington does not advocate vainglorious national pride but defends the achievement of those countries in making a better though imperfect balance between freedom and security than has been made at almost every other time or place The Meeting of

Deb Narayan Bandyopadhyay, Paul Brown, 2011-01-18 This collection of essays takes an interdisciplinary approach to the ecological social economic and in particular the cultural dimensions of the Australia India relationship The essays provide many levels of focus on environment place and culture Some evoke appreciation of particular places either in India or Australia Many explore how literature has treated landscape while some are comparative studies of cultural historical and political development The essays arise from a particular gathering of scholars The East India chapter of the Indian Association for the Study of Australia IASA held its inaugural international conference in Kolkata on 22-23 January 2009 Much of the work is comparative exploring common Indian and Australian themes of colonial and postcolonial experience implications of migration and diaspora and shared language and literature The work also explores shared environmental crisis manifest in landscapes such as the Mouths of the Ganges and Australia s Murray Darling Basin Such comparisons indicate our shared experience of the crisis of ecological social economic and cultural sustainability As human future is colonized through environmental degradation and determined by human migration and shared culture and values our relationship to place is revitalized and reassessed We seek simultaneously a reconciliation between humans and a realignment of the human nature relationship This is the most basic meaning of social and ecological sustainability
