reparations models apply to the modern day conflict in Israel and Palestine The author points to the examples of her grandmother and mother Czechoslovakian Jews who survived the Auschwitz Plaszow and Markkleeberg camps together but disagreed about applying for the post World War II Wiedergutmachung to make good again reparation programs Slyomovics maintains that we can use the legacies of German reparations to reconsider approaches to reparations in the future and the result is an investigation of practical implications complicated by the difficult legal ethnographic and personal questions that reparations inevitably prompt

Samson Raphael Hirsch's Religious Universalism and the German-Jewish Quest for Emancipation Moshe Y. Miller, 2024-02-20 In Samson Raphael Hirsch's Religious Universalism and the German Jewish Quest for Emancipation Moshe Miller argues that nineteenth century German Jews of all persuasions actively sought acceptance within German society and aspired to achieve full emancipation from the many legal strictures on their status as citizens and residents But where non Orthodox Jews sought a large measure of cultural assimilation Orthodox Jews were content with more delimited acculturation However they were no less enthusiastic about achieving emancipation and acceptance in German society There was one issue though which was seen by non Jewish critics of emancipation as a barrier to granting civic rights to Jews namely the alleged tribalism of the Jewish ethic and the supposedly Orthodox notion of Jews as the Chosen People These charges could not go unanswered and in the writings of Rabbi Samson Raphael Hirsch 1808 1888 a leading thinker of the Orthodox camp they did not Hirsch stressed the universalism of the Jewish ethic and the humanistic concern for the welfare of all mankind which he believed was one of the core teachings of Judaism His colleagues in the German Orthodox rabbinate largely concurred with Hirsch's assessment This account places Hirsch's views in their historical context and provides a detailed account of his attitude toward non Jews and the Christianity practiced by the vast majority of nineteenth century Europeans

Searching for Meaning in the Holocaust Sidney M. Bolkosky, 2002-07-30 Scholars survivors and other interested parties have offered over the years their own interpretations of the meaning of the Holocaust and the lessons we can learn from it However the quest to find a rational explanation for this seemingly irrational course of events has led to both controversy and continued efforts at assigning meaning to this most horrible of events Examining oral histories provided by survivors written accounts and explanations scholarly analysis and commonly held assumptions Bolkosky challenges the usual collection of platitudes about the lessons or the meanings we can derive from the Holocaust Indeed he argues against the kind of reductionism that such a quest for meaning has led to and he analyzes the nature of the perpetrators in order to support his position on the inconclusivity of the study of the Holocaust Dealing with the perpetrators of the Holocaust as manifestations of twentieth century civilized trends foreseen by the likes of Kafka Ortega y Gasset Arthur Koestler and Max Weber Bolkosky suggests a new nature of evil and criminality along the lines developed by Hannah Arendt Raul Hilberg and Richard Rosenstein Woven into the fabric of the text are insights from literary and historical writers sociologists and philosophers This interdisciplinary attempt to shed new light on efforts to determine the meanings and lessons of the Holocaust provides readers with a challenging approach to considering the oral histories of survivors and the popular and professional assumptions surrounding this devastating moment in history      The Carpathian Diaspora

Yeshayahu A. Jelinek, 2007 Subcarpathian Rus is a region in former Czechoslovakia and Hungary and the Jews who lived in this area comprised a unique community Until the Holocaust Subcarpathian Jews lived peacefully among other local groups They owned and worked their own land as small scale farmers and lumberjacks and were known for their Orthodox piety The cities of Uzhhorod Mukachevo and Sighet were major centers of Hasidism This is the first major scholarly history of Subcarpathian Jewry The Carpathian Diaspora traces the fascinating story of these Jews through three regimes The Habsburg Empire before World War I Czechoslovakia during the interwar years and Hungary during World War II and the Holocaust The book includes maps tables and a photographic essay of community life      After Representation? R. Clifton

Spargo, Robert Ehrenreich, 2009-11-11 After Representation explores one of the major issues in Holocaust studies the intersection of memory and ethics in artistic expression particularly within literature As experts in the study of literature and culture the scholars in this collection examine the shifting cultural contexts for Holocaust representation and reveal how writers whether they write as witnesses to the Holocaust or at an imaginative distance from the Nazi genocide articulate the shadowy borderline between fact and fiction between event and expression and between the condition of life endured in atrocity and the hope of a meaningful existence What imaginative literature brings to the study of the Holocaust is an ability to test the limits of language and its conventions After Representation moves beyond the suspicion of representation and explores the changing meaning of the Holocaust for different generations audiences and contexts      The Jews of Kaszony,
