lively appearance to our introduction to Chicago The Automobile Company which had arranged to meet us upon our arrival with sufficient vehicles to take the party for a ride was not on hand owing to our early arrival Matos and Allen found their headquarters after a short trip on the elevated and arranged for a change of service Automobiles were sent in detachments as fast as they could be secured until all hands had been taken for a ride up the Boulevard along the shore of Lake Michigan to Lincoln Park and through its shady avenues Previous to reaching the Boulevard we passed over probably the worst paved streets in the entire country and the shaking up we received boded no good to the Pullman meals Along the shores of the Lake men women and children were posted with from one to four fishing rods each until the beach fairly bristled with them The scene resembled exactly a reproduction of some of the French prints of the banks of the Seine The Zoological Gardens in the park furnished considerable entertainment and amusement for the crowd The last mobile sent had been of the gasoline type and the party waiting for it were a little shy of the blue and sulphurous smoke issuing from beneath it But upon the agent's assurance that it was right they embarked It barely reached the Boulevard when it took fire and was vacated in a hurry It quickly burned out and left its occupants stranded The agent made a pretense of sending an electric in its place and thus got his bill settled in full The Committee found later that they had been buncoed out of a good ten dollar bill as no successor to the burned motor reached the party and they had to make their way back by trolleys Mean while they can only pray that retribution may some day fall upon Chicago About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Pilgrimage of Mary Commandery, No. 36, K.
