Proceedings of the Boston Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science 1966/1968 Robert S. Cohen, Marx W. Wartofsky, 2012-12-06 The fourth volume of Boston Studies in the Philosophy of Science consists mainly of papers which were contributed to our Colloquium during the past few years The volume represents a wide range of interests in contemporary philosophy of science issues in the philosophy of mind and of language the neurophysiology of perceptual and linguistic behavior philosophy of history and of the social sciences and studies in the fundamental categories and methods of philosophy and the interrelationships of the sciences with ethics and metaphysics Papers on the logic and methods of the natural sciences including biological physical and mathematical topics appear in the fifth volume of our series We have included in the present volume the first English translation of the classic and fundamental work on aphasia by Carl Wernicke together with a lucid and appreciative guide to his work by Dr Norman Geschwind The papers were not written to form a coherent volume nor have they been edited with such a purpose They represent current work in progress both in the United States and in Europe Although most of the authors are philosophers it is worth noting that we have essays of philosophical significance here written by a sociologist an anthropologist a political scientist and by three neurophysiologists We hope that collaboration among working scientists and working philosophers may develop further The Doctrine of the Holy Spirit Yacob Godebo, 2025-07-03 The Scriptures teach the church that in biblical times the coming of the Holy Spirit equally entailed objective gift of divine reality and subjective experience of his presence gifts and works There was objective pouring out and imparting of the Holy Spirit from the divine side and subjective experiential demonstration from the receivers side which resulted from the gifts endowed and power imparted along with the Holy Spirit Having given them either verbally uttered or visibly performed gifts the Holy Spirit then moved believers towards practical demonstration through subjective experience Believers subjective experience took place only as a result of the objective gift of the Holy Spirit and the resulting endowment and empowerment Thus in the objective content of his manifestation the Holy Spirit is the objective gift of God to indwell his people In the subjective content of his manifestation the Holy Spirit endows people with audibly uttered or visibly performed gifts The subjective experience of the Holy Spirit's presence therefore is an original theological input from God just like the objective impartation of the Holy Spirit Practitioners were just objects of divine purpose and their subjective experience was divine provided and divine initiated genuine experience beyond their consciousness and calculation

Reception of the Holy Spirit therefore means equally an experience of his presence gifts power and works in the church and in with and through believers from Hosanna to Maranatha The Freedom of God James Daryn Henry, 2018-05-30 The Freedom of God wrangles with the unfolding legacy of Christian theologian Robert Jenson and presents the first in depth study of his teaching on the Holy Spirit It is a specialist monograph that will entice those with interest in academic theology systematics and twentieth and twenty first century Christian thought especially the post Barthian historicist electionism and the post Rahnerian immanent and economic trinitarian project conversations Devoted readers of the works of Robert Jenson scholars of pneumatology third article theology or pentecostal renewal movements practitioners of liberation theology and supporters of ecumenical theology will all be particularly gripped by the analysis developed in this work As a text the Freedom of God could find a home in graduate seminars seminary classrooms and in classes for advanced undergraduates for those studying Jenson as a way into systematic theology and contemporary Christian thought or in any thematic doctrinal courses on the Holy Spirit or the Trinity
