indicative The letter was not long has the same indeterminacy In actual context the anaphoric definite article will be resolved both for a question and for an indicative sentence Contextual resolutions are easily found for most cross references A question cannot be either true or it does not describe a state of affairs Neither does it express false because thought because it is an expression of suspended thought of lack of judgment To dress it in other philosophical styles a question is not a judgment it is not a proposition it is not an assertion A philosopher may try to paraphrase a question as an indicative sentence for instance as a statement of ignorance or as a statement of the desire to know Hintikka Wachowicz and Lang explore this territory Or he may interpret it as a meta statement intimating the direction in which the flow of the discourse is going

Where does applied linguistics fit into the sociology of knowledge? What are the questions that applied linguistics ought to be addressing? What are the dominant paradigms guiding research in the field? What kinds of problems can be solved through the mediation of applied linguistics? What aspects of linguistics can be
