

Modern Poems about Identity

By Maya Anthony

Pixels and Self

In a world of pixels, where do I stand?
Crafting profiles, with a careful hand.
Yet behind the screens, filters, and glow,
Is there more to identity, waiting to show?

Avatars dance, statuses change,
Yet the heart's yearnings, remain the same.
Seeking connection, in a digital tide,
Where do reality and virtual collide?

In the vast web, where lines blur,
Find the essence, pure and sure.
Beyond the pixels, the true self does reside,
In both digital and real, side by side.

Sharing The Same Identity Poems:

Lyric Poetry and Social Identity in Archaic Greece Jessica Romney, 2020-04-22 Lyric Poetry and Social Identity in Archaic Greece examines how Greek men presented themselves and their social groups to one another. The author examines identity rhetoric in sympotic lyric, how Greek poets constructed images of self for their groups focusing in turn on the construction of identity in martial-themed poetry, the protection of group identities in the face of political exile, and the negotiation between individual and group as seen in political lyric. By conducting a close reading of six poems and then a broad survey of martial lyric, exile poetry, political lyric, and sympotic lyric as a whole, Jessica Romney demonstrates that sympotic lyric focuses on the same basic behaviors and values to construct social identities regardless of the content or subgenre of the poems in question. The volume also argues that the performance of identity depends on the context as well as the material of performance. Furthermore, the book demonstrates that sympotic lyric overwhelmingly prefers to use identity rhetoric that insists on the inherent sameness of group members. All non-English text and quotes are translated with the original languages given alongside the translation or in the endnotes.

Southern Identity and Southern Estrangement in Medieval Chinese Poetry Ping Wang, Nicholas Morrow Williams, 2015-01-01 From ancient times China's remote and exotic South, a shifting and expanding region beyond the Yangtze River, has been an enduring theme in Chinese literature. For poets and scholar-officials in medieval China, the South was a barbaric frontier region of alienation and disease. But it was also a place of richness and fascination, and for some a site of cultural triumph over exile. The eight essays in this collection explore how tensions between pride in southern culture and anxiety over the alien qualities of the southern frontier were behind many of the distinctive features of medieval Chinese literature. They examine how prominent writers from this period depicted themselves and the South in poetic form through attitudes that included patriotic attachment and bitter exile. By the Tang dynasty, poetic symbols and clichés about the exotic South had become well established, though many writers were still able to use these in innovative ways. Southern Identity and Southern Estrangement in Medieval Chinese Poetry is the first work in English to examine the cultural south in classical Chinese poetry. The book incorporates original research on key poets such as Lu Ji, Jiang Yan, Wang Bo, and Li Bai. It also offers a broad survey of cultural and historical trends during the medieval period as depicted in poetry. The book will be of interest to students of Chinese literature and cultural history. Ping Wang is assistant professor of Chinese at University of Washington Seattle. Nicholas Morrow Williams is research assistant professor at the Mr. Simon Suen and Mrs. Mary Suen Sino Humanitas Institute, Hong Kong Baptist University. A long overdue appreciation of the South as a center for the production of medieval Chinese literature, as well as a focal point of Chinese cultural and intellectual reflection and identity, this collection of essays by a stellar roster of leading scholars offers an immensely rich contribution to the study of classical Chinese poetry. Martin Kern, Greg 84 and Joanna P13 Zeluck, Professor in Asian Studies, Princeton University. This book presents a systematic study of how the symbol of the southland was reinvented in medieval Chinese literature, taking readers on a cultural and geographic journey to survey the continuous rewriting of the South and its identity Yu Yu Cheng Distinguished Professor of Chinese Literature National Taiwan University

BABAYEVA-SHUKUROVA, SHAHISMAYIL ISMAYILOV, CIHANGIR ISHBILIR, 2025-08-25 The history of world philosophical thought is mainly based on the study and presentation of the development path of Western philosophy. There is an objective reality here. Because in Europe philosophy emerged at the level of science even before our era and developed at a great speed. The famous Plato Academy which operated in Ancient Greece played an important role in the history of world philosophical thought. The names and services of Socrates who is considered the teacher of Western philosophy and Aristotle whom Plato's Academy gave to humanity are famous in the world. For many years Aristotle has been considered the most powerful representative of world philosophical thought. The foundations of the vast majority of scientific fields that exist in the modern world today were laid by Aristotle. In the Middle Ages and later periods Western philosophy also had world renowned philosophers such as Georg Hegel, Immanuel Kant, Friedrich Nietzsche and others. Along with all this philosophical thought in the Turkic world has emerged since ancient times and has undergone its own unique development. However for several reasons the study and teaching and even the promotion of Turkish philosophical thought has remained in the background. First of all since Turkish philosophical thought in ancient times arose and developed mainly through oral folk literature and folklore examples are rightly considered examples of fiction it has not been studied from a philosophical perspective for a long time. In my opinion in the light of independence there is a sufficiently rich material for conducting research on philosophical thought in the oral folk literature of each of the Turkic peoples and writing monographs. Secondly the socio political and philosophical movements of the Turkic peoples in ancient times and the Middle Ages were largely criticized and not included in the scope of scientific research during the Soviet era which was a strictly atheist society because they were of a religious nature. Movements such as Hurufism and Sufism which had been active for a long time in the Middle Ages were generally considered religious and mystical teachings and presented as reactionary movements outside the scientific circulation. Thirdly since the concept of national philosophy was limited during the Soviet period and only the direction of forming a unified Soviet socio philosophical thought was considered a priority the history of philosophical thought of the Turkic peoples was not even remembered. Only since the eighties of the 20th century have efforts been made to bring the history of philosophical thought of individual Turkic peoples including Azerbaijan to the agenda. In any case the department of History of Azerbaijani Philosophical Thought is one of the relatively young scientific institutions of the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology of ANAS. As is known since the period of independence along with the history of world philosophical thought a certain revival has been observed in the field of studying the path of development of the philosophical thought of the Turkic peoples. However this process has been developed over the past thirty years with the expansion of the tendency to study the history of philosophical thought of each of the Turkic peoples separately. Thus dissertations monographs and articles dedicated to the history of philosophical thought of the Turkic Uzbek Kazakh Kyrgyz Turkmen peoples as well as the history of philosophical thought of Azerbaijan or the scientific heritage of those who created philosophy in those peoples have begun to appear mainly since the period of independence This in turn has brought to mind the necessity of the emergence of the concepts of the history of all Turkic philosophical thought or Turkish philosophy

The Lesbian Muse and Poetic Identity, 1889-1930 Sarah Parker, 2015-10-06 Throughout history the poetic muse has tended to be a passive female and the poet male This dynamic caused problems for late Victorian and twentieth century women poets how could the muse be reclaimed and moved on from the passive role of old Parker looks at fin de si cle and modernist lyric poets to investigate how they overcame these challenges and identifies three key strategies the reconfiguring of the muse as a contemporary instead of a historical mythological figure the muse as a male figure and an interchangeable poet muse relationship granting agency to both

Identity, Multiplicity, and Resistance in Taiwanese Poetry Wen-chi Li, 2025-04-04 Li and his contributors explore how Taiwanese poets conceptualize their identities employing multiple voices to challenge political hegemony and re evaluate Taiwan s colonial legacy and nationalism Poetry in Taiwan exists at the intersection of Taiwanese Mandarin and Japanese languages and traditions The rise of China has contributed to the shrinking of Taiwan s international space leading to Taiwanese cultures often being viewed as tributaries or by products of China on the global stage They focus on Taiwanese poetry to highlight a history of local resistance in gender identity cultural and linguistic contexts They deconstruct the hegemony and homogeneity of Chineseness exploring multiple ways to reposition Taiwan on the map of world literature Essential reading for scholars of Sinophone literature as well as those interested in the history and culture of Taiwan

Sharing the Past J.A. Weingarten, 2019-07-15 Sharing the Past is an unprecedentedly detailed account of the intertwining discourses of Canadian history and creative literature When social history emerged as its own field of study in the 1960s it promised new stories that would bring readers away from the elite writing of academics and closer to the everyday experiences of people Yet the academy s continued emphasis on professional distance and objectivity made it difficult for historians to connect with the experiences of those about whom they wrote and those same emphases made it all but impossible for non academic experts to be institutionally recognized as historians Drawing on interviews and new archival materials to construct a history of Canadian poetry written since 1960 Sharing the Past argues that the project of social history has achieved its fullest expression in lyric poetry a genre in which personal experiences anchor history Developing this genre since 1960 Canadian poets have provided an inclusive model for a truly social history that indiscriminately shares the right to speak authoritatively of the past

Identity and Belonging Among Chinese Australians Jennifer Martin, Dharma Arunachalam, Helen Forbes-Mewett, 2023-11-20 This book describes the ethnic identity construction involved in being feeling and doing Chinese for multi generation Australian born Chinese who were born and raised in a different social environment It demonstrates how Chineseness is manifested in a multitude of ways and totally debunks any notion that being Chinese is a simple identity marker The book shows that while there are commonalities with the American born the experiences of Australia born Chinese are distinct in many ways This book is a timely and critically examination of the inescapability of Chineseness particularly when social and economic stability is threatened and those in power are looking for a scapegoat      Erôs in Ancient Greece Ed Sanders, Chiara Thumiger, Christopher Carey, N. J. Lowe, 2013-01-31 This volume brings together 18 articles which examine eros as an emotion in ancient Greek culture Taking into account all important thinking about the nature of eros from the 8th century BCE to the 3rd century CE it covers a very broad range of sources and theoretical approaches both in the chronological and the generic sense      Observing Teacher Identities through Video Analysis Amy Vetter, Melissa Schieble, 2015-09-25 Teaching is often seen as an identity process with teachers constructing and enacting their identities through daily interactions with students parents and colleagues This volume explores how conducting video analysis helps teachers gain valuable perspectives on their own identities and improve classroom practice over time This form of interactional awareness fosters reflection and action on creating classroom conditions that encourage equitable learning The volume follows preservice English teachers as they examine video records of their practice during student teaching and how the evidence impacts their development as literacy teachers of diverse adolescents By applying an analytic framework to video analysis the authors demonstrate how novice teachers use positioning theory to transform their own identity performance in the classroom Education scholars teachers and professional developers will greatly benefit from this unique perspective on teacher identity work      Identity and Society in American Poetry Robin Mookerjee, 2008      Humor in Modern American Poetry Rachel Trousdale, 2017-11-16 Modern poetry at least according to the current consensus is difficult and often depressing But as Humor in Modern American Poetry shows modern poetry is full of humorous moments from comic verse published in popular magazines to the absurd juxtapositions of The Cantos The essays in this collection show that humor is as essential to the serious work of William Carlos Williams as it is to the light verse of Phyllis McGinley For the writers in this volume the point of humor is not to provide comic relief a brief counterpoint to the poem's more serious themes humor is central to the poem's projects These poets use humor to claim their own poetic authority to re define literary tradition to show what audience they are writing for to make political attacks and perhaps most surprisingly to promote sympathy among their readers The essays in this book include single author studies discussions of literary circles and theories of form Taken together they help to begin a new conversation about modernist poetry one that treats its lighthearted moments not as decorative but as substantive Humor defines groups and marks social boundaries but it also leads us to transgress those boundaries it forges ties between the writer and the reader blurs the line between public and private and becomes a spur to self awareness      Language and Identity in Modern Egypt Reem Bassiouney, 2015-01-27 Focussing on nationalist discourse before during and after the revolution of 2011 Reem Bassiouney explores the two way relationship between language in Egyptian public discourse and
