Pathology And The Postmodern Mental Illness As Discourse And Experience:

Pathology and the Postmodern Dwight Fee, 2000-02-11 This is a wonderful volume powerfully written timely insightful and filled with major pieces the passion intellectual rigor and sense of history found here promises to shape this field in the decades to come This volume sets the agenda for the future Norman K Denzin University of Illinois Pathology and the Postmodern explores the relationship between mental distress and social constructionism using new work from eminent scholars in the fields of sociology psychology and philosophy The authors address how specific cultural economic and historical forces converge in contemporary psychiatry and psychology how new syndromes subjectivities and identities are being constructed and The Cambridge Introduction to Postmodern Fiction Bran Nicol, 2009-10-08 A lucid exploration of the key features of postmodernism and the most important authors from Beckett to DeLillo The SAGE Handbook of Mental Health and Illness David Pilgrim, Bernice Pescosolido, Anne Rogers, 2011 This title integrates the conceptual empirical and evidence based threads of mental health as an area of study research and practice It approaches mental health from two perspectives firstly as a positive state of well being and secondly as psychological difference or abnormality in its social context Depression and Narrative Hilary Clark, 2008-10-09 Depression and Narrative examines stories of depression in the context of recent scholarship on illness and narrative which up to this point has largely focused on physical illness and disability Contributors from a number of disciplinary perspectives address these narrative accounts of depression by both sufferers and those who treat them as they appear in memoirs diaries novels poems oral interviews fact sheets blogs films and television shows Together they explore the stories we tell about depression its contested causes its gendering the transformations in identity that it entails and the problems it presents for communication associated as it is with stigma and shame Unlike certain physical illnesses such as cancer depression is stigmatized sometimes as a nonproblem the sufferer should snap out of it and sometimes as the slippery slope to madness Thus depression narratives have their work cut out for them This book highlights the work these stories do including bringing meaning to sufferers explaining depression justifying therapies and treatments and reducing the burden of shame accounting for a suffering that is in the end unaccountable A Cultural Approach to Emotional Disorders E. Deidre Pribram, 2016-01-13 In her latest contribution to the growing field of emotion studies Deidre Pribram makes a compelling argument for why culturalist approaches to the study of emotional disorders continue to be eschewed even as the sociocultural and historical study of mental illness flourishes The author ties this phenomenon to a tension between two fundamentally different approaches to emotion an individualist approach which regards emotions as the property of the individual whether biologically or psychologically and a culturalist approach which regards emotions as collective social processes with distinctive histories and meanings that work to produce particularized subjects While she links a strong preference for the individualist construct in Western culture to the rise of the psychological and psychiatric disciplines at the turn of the twentieth century Pribram also engages with a diverse set of case studies tied to psychological and aesthetic discourses on emotions These range from Van Gogh's status as emotionally disordered to the public emotional aesthetics of 19th century melodrama to the diagnostic categories of the DSMs and the fear of globalizing emotional disorders in the 21st century This genuinely interdisciplinary approach makes for a text with potential application in a wide range of disciplines within cultural studies including sociocultural and historical analysis of psychiatry and psychology gender theory subject and identity theory popular culture studies and history and theory of the arts

Analysing Qualitative Data in Psychology Evanthia Lyons, Adrian Coyle, 2007-10-25 Analysing Qualitative Data in Psychology equips students and researchers in psychology and the social sciences to carry out qualitative data analysis focusing on four major methods grounded theory interpretative phenomenological analysis discourse analysis and narrative analysis Assuming no prior knowledge of qualitative research chapters on the nature assumptions and practicalities of each method are written by acknowledged experts To help students and researchers make informed methodological choices about their own research the book addresses data collection and the writing up of research using each method while providing a sustained comparison of the four methods backed up with authoritative analyses using the different methods

Making Sense of Place Ian Convery, Gerard Corsane, Peter Davis, 2014 Essays dealing with the question of how sense of place is constructed in a variety of locations and media The term sense of place is an important multidisciplinary concept used to understand the complex processes through which individuals and groups define themselves and their relationship to their natural and cultural environments and which over the last twenty years or so has been increasingly defined theorized and used across diverse disciplines in different ways Sense of place mediates our relationship with the world and with each other it provides a profoundly important foundation for individual and community identity It can be an intimate deeply personal experience yet also something which we share with others It is at once recognizable but never constant rather it is embodied in the flux between familiarity and difference Research in this area requires culturally and geographically nuanced analyses approaches that are sensitive to difference and specificity event and locale The essays collected here drawn from a variety of disciplines including but not limited to sociology history geography outdoor education museum and heritage studies health and English literature offer an international perspective on the relationship between people and place via five interlinked sections Histories Landscapes and Identities Rural Sense of Place Urban Sense of Place Cultural Landscapes Conservation Biodiversity and Tourism Ian Convery is Reader in Conservation and Forestry National School of Forestry University of Cumbria Gerard Corsane is Senior Lecturer in Heritage Museum and Gallery Studies International Centre for Cultural and Heritage Studies Newcastle University Peter Davis is Professor of Museology International Centre for Cultural and Heritage Studies Newcastle University Contributors Doreen Massey Ian Convery Gerard Corsane Peter Davis David Storey Mark Haywood Penny Bradshaw Vincent O'Brien Michael Woods Jesse Heley Carol Richards Suzie Watkin Lois Mansfield Kenesh Djusipov Tamara Kudaibergenova Jennifer Rogers Eunice Simmons Andrew Weatherall Amanda Bingley Michael Clark journey and presents them both as she perceived them at the time and as she perceives them now looking back Through this process of reflective conversation she creates not only a legacy out of the people and situations that acted on her most powerfully but also a countertradition to the strategic approach that influenced her so strongly early in her career But this is not just history Throughout her career Hoffman has been in the forefront of family therapy She has interacted with and sometimes worked closely with many of family therapy's influential thinkers and actors including Jay Haley Virginia Satir Dick Auerswald Harry Aponte Peggy Papp Olga Silverstein the Milan team Peggy Penn Harry Goolishian Harlene Anderson Tom Andersen and Michael White The evolution of her thinking has paralleled the major developments in the field As she braids together continuity and innovation she finds her own voice a different voice and her own style more open more inclusive and less controlling In the second half of the book Hoffman demonstrates the many possibilities inherent in not knowing in working with a reflecting team in looking for the presenting edge and in grabbing the emotional main chance

Women Writing Trauma in the Global South Annemarie Pabel, 2022-09-08 Through exploring complex suffering in the writings of Aminatta Forna Isabel Allende and Anuradha Roy Women Writing Trauma in the Global South dismantles conceptual shortcomings and problematic imbalances at the core of existing theorizations around psychological trauma The global constellation of women writers from Sierra Leone Chile and India facilitates a productive analysis of how the texts navigate intertwined experiences of individual and systemic trauma The discussion departs from a recent critical turn in literary and cultural trauma studies and transgresses many interrelated boundaries of geocultural contexts language and genre Discovering the role of literary forms in reparative articulation and empathic witnessing this critical intervention develops new ideas for an inclusive conceptual expansion of trauma from the global peripheries and contributes to the ongoing debate on marginalized suffering

Institutional Trauma Lucy Thompson, 2025-11-07 This book develops a critical psychological account of trauma as an institutional phenomenon which is currently missing in psychological discourse While a great deal of attention has been paid to understanding trauma in individualized terms comparatively little attention has been paid to understanding trauma as a feature of institutions Based on the observation that experiences of trauma are deeply lodged in institutional conditions this book asks what comes into view when psychological trauma is approached as an institutional phenomenon Recognizing that the personal is political this book proposes an expanded institutional analytic of trauma and lays critical foundations for responses that treat institutions as sites of trauma and its management Drawing on a range of disciplines including critical psychology feminist theory postcolonial studies and critical trauma studies this expanded institutional analytic advocates for institutional transformation within and beyond the confines of dominant psychological knowledge's and practice Institutional Trauma is fascinating reading for academics students practitioners and anybody interested in understanding institutional power violence and harm
