Historian's Guide to Early British Maps Helen Wallis, Anita McConnell, 1995-04-06 Great Britain and Ireland enjoy a rich cartographic heritage yet historians have not made full use of early maps in their writings and research This is partly due to a lack of information about exactly which maps are available With the publication of this volume from the Royal Historical Society we now have a comprehensive guide to the early maps of Great Britain The book is divided into two parts part one describes the history and purpose of maps in a series of short essays on the early mapping of the British Isles part two comprises a guide to the collections national and regional Now available from Cambridge University Press this volume provides an essential reference tool for anyone requiring to access maps of the British Isles dating back to the medieval period and beyond 1984 Lothar Zögner, Staatsbibliothek Preussischer Kulturbesitz, 2016-04-25 This annually published Bibliography provides an overview of cartographical literature published around the world Each annual volume lists approximately 2 000 monographs and articles published in some 400 periodicals These are all analysed by an international group of collaborating experts Among the topics covered are the history of cartography cartographic personalities and institutions the making of maps areas such as topographical or atlas cartography or maps for the blind film and screen maps and the use of maps Titles are listed in their original language and can be looked up either in the Author Index or in the English French or German list of contents Sussex in the 18th and 19th Centuries John Howard Farrant, 1982 East Sussex Record Office East Sussex Record Office, 1988 William Faden and Norfolk's Eighteenth Century Landscape Andrew Macnair, Tom Williamson, 2010-08-24 William Faden's map of Norfolk published in 1797 was one of a large number of surveys of English counties produced in the second half of the eighteenth century This book with accompanying DVD presents a new digital version of the map and explains how this can be interrogated to produce a wealth of new historical information It discusses the making of the Norfolk map and Faden's own career within the wider context of the eighteenth century cartographic revolution It explores what the map and others like it can tell us about contemporary social and economic geography But it also shows how carefully examined the map can also inform us about the development of the Norfolk landscape in much more remote periods of time The book includes a digital version of the map on DVD Andrew Macnair is Research Fellow at the School of History in the University of East Anglia Tom Williamson is Professor of History and Head of the Landscape Group at the University of East Anglia Geographers Elizabeth Baigent, André Reyes Novaes, 2019-12-26 Women are the exclusive focus of the 38th volume of Geographers For the first time in the series history the entire volume is devoted to important work of distinguished female geographers amply demonstrating how these scholars' professional lives enrich the discipline's history It also illustrates how reading and writing their biographies not only expands our understanding of geography's past but points to its more diverse future The collection includes biographies of Doreen Massey winner of geography's Nobel prize the prix Vautrin Lud for her remarkable contribution to geography and neighbouring disciplines which discovered the importance of space through her work Helen Wallis geographer and historian of cartography who for many years had charge of the UK's foremost collection of maps Alice Saunier Set who applied her geographical training and formidable energy to teaching and educational reform in France Isabel Margarida Andr who lived through a turbulent political period in her native Portugal and meticulously investigated its effect on women and political geography and the many women who helped to create the UK's first Geography department the University of Oxford's School of Geography including Fanny Herbertson Nora MacMunn Marjorie Sweeting Mary Marshall Barbara Kennedy and other women geographers who are memorialised in a group article World Directory of Map Collections Olivier Loiseaux, Section of Geography and Map Libraries, 2012-01-02 No detailed description available for World Directory of Map Collections

Maps and Plans for the Local Historian and Collector David Smith, 1988 The World of the Tavern Beat Kümin, B. Ann Tlusty, 2017-07-05 The subject of drink received a great deal of attention from early modern Europeans Preachers physicians authorities artists and travellers all addressed it from a range of different perspectives At the same time inns taverns and alehouses served as multifunctional centres in towns and villages throughout Europe This combination resulted in a wealth of sources both institutional and cultural which are only now beginning to be explored This anthology features new research on public houses in England Russia and the German lands In a series of general thematic and regional studies contributors engage with broader debates in early modern history shedding light on such key issues as consumption travel and communication state building confessional identity fiscal practice gender and household relations and the use of public spaces The result is a volume that should appeal to anybody with an interest in early modern cultural history A
