Joseph W. Morton, 1893 Prisoner Reentry in the 21st Century Keesha M. Middlemass, Calvin John Smiley, 2019-11-04 This groundbreaking edited volume evaluates prisoner reentry using a critical approach to demonstrate how the many issues surrounding reentry do not merely intersect but are in fact reinforcing and interdependent The number of former incarcerated persons with a felony conviction living in the United States has grown significantly in the last decade reaching into the millions When men and women are released from prison their journey encompasses a range of challenges that are unique to each individual including physical and mental illnesses substance abuse gender identity complicated family dynamics the denial of rights and the inability to voice their experiences about returning home Although scholars focus on the obstacles former prisoners encounter and how to reduce recidivism rates the main challenge of prisoner reentry is how multiple interdependent issues overlap in complex ways By examining prisoner reentry from various critical perspectives this volume depicts how the carceral continuum from incarceration to reentry negatively impacts individuals families and communities how the criminal justice system extends different forms of social control that break social networks and how the shifting nature of prisoner reentry has created new and complicated obstacles to those affected by the criminal justice system This volume explores these realities with respect to a range of social community political and policy issues that former incarcerated persons must navigate to successfully reenter society A springboard for future critical research and policy discussions this book will be of interest to U S and international researchers and practitioners interested in the topic of prisoner reentry as well as graduate and upper level undergraduate students concerned with contemporary issues in corrections community based corrections critical issues in criminal justice criminal justice policies and reentry

History of the Fire Lands William W. Williams,1879 The Long Honduran Night Dana Frank,2018-11-27 This powerful narrative recounts the tumultuous time in Honduras that witnessed then President Manuel Zelaya deposed by a coup in June 2009 told through first person experiences and layered with deeper political analysis It weaves together two perspectives first the broad picture of Honduras since the coup including the coup itself its continuation in two repressive regimes and secondly the evolving Honduran resistance movement and a new broad solidarity movement in the United States Although it is full of terrible things this not a horror story this narrative directly counters mainstream media coverage that portrays Honduras as a pit of unrelenting awfulness in which powerless sobbing mothers cry over bodies in the morgue Rather it s about sobering challenges and the inspiring collective strength with which

Publics in Action Christopher Kutz, C William Maxeiner Distinguished Professor Law and by Courtesy Philosophy and Political Science Christopher Kutz, 2025-08-27 In Publics in Action Christopher Kutz looks at how people should and do come together to create their shared institutions and the lessons we can learn from one another He argues that a healthy dynamic public takes itself seriously as a subject of action not just the passive beneficiary of a state institution Kutz builds the book around an extended metaphor we should understand ourselves as a public that improvises listening to each other as we riff off shared standards and so creating something new responsive to the scene and the moment
