Penal Systems Michael Cavadino, James Dignan, 2005-10-26 Cavadino and Dignan's Penal Systems A Comparative Approach looks across national boundaries to see how penal systems differ and why It is hands down the most comprehensive and up to date book on the subject and should become a staple textbook for use in law and social science courses on comparative penal policy and practice Michael H Tonry University of Minnesota This book is an important addition to the literature on punishment It is a highly readable and very well researched overview of some of the major differences in punitiveness between neo liberal corporatist and social democratic countries This is a major contribution to comparative penology by two of the leading authors in this field Alison Liebling Director of the Prisons Research Centre UK A major and seminal work David Downes Professor Emeritus at the London School of Economics Penal Systems A Comparative Approach is a comprehensive and original introduction to the comparative study of punishment Analysing twelve countries Cavadino and Dignan offer an integrated and theoretically rigorous approach to comparative penology They draw upon material provided by a team of eminent penologists to produce an important and highly readable contribution to scholarship in this area Early chapters introduce the reader to comparative penology set out the theoretical framework and consider whether there is currently a global penal crisis Each country is then discussed in turn Chapters on comparative youth justice and the privatization of prisons follow Comparisons between countries are drawn within each chapter giving the reader a synoptic and truly comparative vision of penalty in different jurisdictions

Criminal Statistics, England and Wales Great Britain. Home Office, 1997

Prisoners' Work and Vocational Training Frances H. Simon, 2005-09-01 Most prisoners in the UK are required to work Yet prison work is a relatively neglected subject in the existing literature on imprisonment and few studies have focused on the nature of prison work prisoners experience of it and the extent to which it meets the need of rehabilitating prisoners Prisoners Work and Vocational Training sheds new light on this crucial area in the work of prisons and examines the nature of training received by prisoners the actual work they undertake how this relates to the world or work outside the role it plays in helping to secure employment on release Frances Simon employs a balance of qualitative and quantitative data including first hand accounts from UK prisons gathered during field research Her book will be essential reading for all those studying criminology and prison studies and all professionals working with prisoners including probation officers and social workers

Drug Use and Prisons John B Davies, David Shewan, 2000-03-09 Prisons today contain large proportions of drug users Drug Use and Prisons provides the first comprehensive account of patterns of drug use and risk behaviours in prisons and of the different responses to this feature of prison life Experts from Europe North and South America Africa and Australia from a variety of professional backgrounds provide an international perspective on this ongoing problem In the past prisoners were one of the hidden populations of drug users But with increasing recognition of the potential for the prison setting to act as a conduit for HIV and transmission within the prisoner population and thence into the community failure to face this prospect is no longer an option for public health researchers or policymakers nor for those working in the prison system

Crime Unlimited? Pat Carlen, Rod Morgan, 2016-07-27 Crime Unlimited Questions for the Twenty First Century comprises nine chapters contextualising crime and social control within debates about modernism globalism risk and technological innovation It includes discussion of contemporary issues such as steroid use gun control privatised policing and youth scares involving alcopops and drugs It also re examines recurring issues about policing and punishment The authors include Rebecca and Russell Dobash Chris Hale Dick Hobbs Ian Loader Tim Newburn Howard Parker Richard Sparks and Ian Taylor

Dunlop, PhD, Pamela Entzel, JD, 2004-01-01 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of interactions between older people and the criminal justice system The editors present current research on elders in a multitude of roles from victim and offender to attorney defendant witness juror and prisoner Of particular interest are chapters on the psychological and medical conditions of elder prisoners and issue around selective decarceration Each contributor documents empirical data and identifies social policy and ethical implications where applicable Recommended for gerontologists sociologists social workers and professionals in the legal and criminal justice fields

Prison Service Annual Report and Accounts Great Britain. HM Prison Service, 1997

Social Change, Social Policy and Social Work in the New Europe Anna Kwak, Robert Dingwall, 2019-01-04 First published in 1998 this edited volume reflected on the role of universities and aimed to improve the preparation of social welfare professionals by the University of Warsaw for employment in the new market oriented society that was being created in Poland after the end of real socialism in 1989 Many of its articles were previously published in Polish and were published revised and updated in English for the first time in this collection The contributors discuss two key issues First should universities worry about the employment of their graduates and the skills that are needed by the wider economy and society or just focus on transmitting advanced learning Second they considered the modernisation of the welfare state The Polish experience and the Western partners reaction to it has proved an excellent case study for these issues

Youth Justice Barry Goldson, 2019-07-09 Published in 1999 the aim of this text is to offer a critical analysis of contemporary policy and practice in relation to children and crime It provides an integrated edited text combining a critical commentary of contemporary social criminal justice policy with analyses of progressive practice in the UK It offers coverage of each discrete stage in the processing of child offenders in the criminal justice system

It develops an alternative policy and practice framework drawing on experience from the UK Europe the USA Canada Australia and New Zealand      Community Punishment Ian Brownlee,1998 Reflecting the overcrowding in Britain s prisons and the increase in non custodial sentences this text provides an account of the range of non custodial sentences available      Sessional Index for Session ... Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1997      Youth and Crime John Muncie,1999-04-05 Youth research and criminology are the topics introduced by this book The work includes social histories the extent and causes of offending youth cultures social policy and the youth justice system Study questions are also provided      Journals of the House of Commons Great Britain.
