Harold James Jenks

Harold James Jenks practically grew up behind bars spending all of his teenage years in jails, reformatories and prisons. Jenks was not free until he was 24 years old — learned how to fight as a matter of survival. On the "inside" Jenks' "real" knowledge acquired in prison has been managing "dirty" customers in nightclubs, etc. — getting upwards of $400 a day for occasional "trouble-shooting." In addition to knowledge acquired in prison Jenks dealt with knife experts on the street whose tricks, moves and expertise had been passed down for generations — such as the "bait" and "moves with the ice-pick grip." Jenks' forte in prison was his ability to command, control and "move" on other prisoners when the occasion required. Jenks is currently the national president of the Iron Cross Motorcycle club, formerly based in Southern California and has served time in Lasamworth, Chittenden, State House, St. Petersburg, & PITS.

Michael H. Brown

Michael H. Brown served in the U.S. Army Airborne, 101st and 82nd (2 years each) 1960 — 1964. Lost gunnery attack against the Communist forces at San Francisco during 1965. Put down of Communists in hospital while suffering no casualties themselves. In the Summer of 1967 Mike had an armed confrontation against the Black Panther headquarters — the Panthers had had men in an attack against over 7500 Communist "peace marchers" putting scores of them in the hospital. Mike founded the Iron Cross Motorcycle Club in June 1968 and served as California president through 1970. Served time in Litchburg & Terre Haute Federal penitentiaries (24 years) for the August 6, 1974 attempted dynamiting of the United Nations Building in New York City. Mike was introduced to the use of the "shank" (homemade knife) by other convicts in the machine shop at Litchburg.

Prisons Bloody Iron:

American Prisons David Musick, Kristine Gunsaulus-Musick, 2017-05-18 Imprisonment has become big business in the United States Using a history of ideas approach this book examines the cultural underpinnings of prisons in the United States and explores how shared ideas about imprisonment evolve into a complex loosely connected nationwide system of prisons that keeps enough persons to populate a small nation behind bars razor wire and electrified fences Tracing both the history of the prison and the very idea of imprisonment in the United States this book provides students with a critical overview of American prisons and considers their past their present and directions for the future Topics covered include a history of imprisonment in America from 1600 to the present day the twentieth century prison building binge the relationship between U S prisons and the private sector a critical account of capital punishment less visible prison minorities including women children and the elderly and sex violence and disease in prison This comprehensive book is essential reading for advanced courses on corrections and correctional management and offers a compelling and provocative analysis of the realities of American penal culture from past to present It is perfect reading for students of criminal justice corrections penology and the sociology of punishment

Prison Worlds Didier Fassin, 2017-05-23 The prison is a recent invention hardly more than two centuries old yet it has become the universal system of punishment How can we understand the place that the correctional system occupies in contemporary societies What are the experiences of those who are incarcerated as well as those who work there To answer these questions Didier Fassin conducted a four year long study in a French short stay prison following inmates from their trial to their release He shows how the widespread use of imprisonment has reinforced social and racial inequalities and how advances in civil rights clash with the rationales and practices used to maintain security and order He also analyzes the concerns and compromises of the correctional staff the hardships and resistance of the inmates and the ways in which life on the inside intersects with life on the outside In the end the carceral condition appears to be irreducible to other forms of penalty both because of the chain of privations it entails and because of the experience of meaninglessness it comprises Examined through ethnographic lenses prison worlds are thus both a reflection of society and its mirror At a time when many countries have begun to realize the impasse of mass incarceration and question the consequences of the punitive turn this book will provide empirical and theoretical tools to reflect on the meaning of punishment in contemporary societies

Engendering Resistance: Agency and Power in Women's Prisons Mary Bosworth, 2017-03-02 This book explores how power is negotiated in women's prisons Drawing on fieldwork conducted in three penal establishments in England it analyses how women manage the restrictions of imprisonment and the manner in which they attempt to resist institutional control It is proposed that power is negotiated on a private individual level as women often resist the institution simply by trying to maintain an image of control over their own lives However their image of themselves as active reasoning agents is undermined by institutional regimes which encourage traditional passive feminine behaviour at the same time as they deny the women their identities and responsibilities as mothers wives girlfriends and sisters Femininity is therefore both the form and the goal of women's imprisonment Yet paradoxically femininity also offers the possibility of resistance because women manage to rebel by appropriating and changing aspects of it women s reformatory has a dark and extraordinary history From ghosts to legendary prisoners there has been an infamous collection of Long Bay guests including the formidable Neddy Smith convicted rapists the Skaf brothers and shamed entrepreneur Rene Rivkin Former inmates Rodney Adler Graham Abo Henry Tom Domican John Elias and others tell all about the brutal reality of life behind bars And Mr Big Ian Hall Saxon finally comes clean about his prison escape which baffled the nation Delve into the personal accounts of the prison guards Long Bay s unsung heroes as they open up about their experiences dealing with some of the most dangerous men in the country The Encyclopedia of American Prisons Carl Sifakis,2014-06-30 Examines the history of prisons in the United States with articles about convict labor escapes famous and infamous wardens fires notable prisoners riots prison society reformers terminology and more The National and Domestic History of England William Hickman Smith Aubrey,1867 The Bloody Religion of Peace Didymus D.
