Prisoners' Work and Vocational Training Frances H. Simon,2005-09-01 Most prisoners in the UK are required to work Yet prison work is a relatively neglected subject in the existing literature on imprisonment and few studies have focused on the nature of prison work prisoners experience of it and the extent to which it meets the need of rehabilitating prisoners Prisoners Work and Vocational Training sheds new light on this crucial area in the work of prisons and examines the nature of training received by prisoners the actual work they undertake how this relates to the world or work outside the role it plays in helping to secure employment on release Frances Simon employs a balance of qualitative and quantitative data including first hand accounts from UK prisons gathered during field research Her book will be essential reading for all those studying criminology and prison studies and all professionals working with prisoners including probation officers and social workers Prison Conditions in Romania Holly Cartner,1992 In the Shadow of Prison Helen Codd,2013-05-13 This book

Solarities Cymene Howe,Jeff Diamanti,Amelia Moore,2023 Solarities Elemental Encounters and Refractions is a transdisciplinary essay collection that explores the physical conceptual and political possibilities materialized by solarity a form of relation to the sun and its elemental force upon planetary life The authors propose that a different set of questions becomes possible when the material specificities of solar become the compass for thought prompting us to uncover our relationship to the sun How does solarity materialize in the bodies and lives of humans and non humans now and in the future What can we learn if we no longer take the sun for granted How do we continue to persist on a planet that is so intimately bound up in a state of love fear and dependence on this primary source of all living energy Each of the essays in Solarities take solar radiation as an interpretive lens that takes multiple forms often transforming as it does so Solarities draws inspiration from Black ecologies Indigenous philosophy feminist science technology studies and more than human discussions in the human sciences recognizing the phenomenological and ontological openings they make available The authors understand solarity as an energy source channeled through photovoltaic cells for example but the essays gathered here focus on the lives that solarity creates or impedes The experimental task is to find how solarities work their way into materials and processes across our work seeking out the particular influences of solarity in making beings These relations are core to thinking the elemental conditions of solarity since it is through particular forms of focalizing the sun that life is sustained or made to wither across the planet In these ways the elemental condition of solarity is at once hyper particular and also shared across organic and inorganic bodies conditioned by physical form and material composition Throughout the collection the authors explore how solarity appears or recedes from view when we concentrate our attentions on it surfacing the existential omnipresence of the sun to open new thought possibilities inspire new actions and refract new dimensions of socionatural encounter The Human Rights Watch Global Report on Prisons Human Rights Watch (Organization),1993 14

Meditation for Prisoners Lewis Elbinger,2020-12-14 MEDITATION FOR PRISONERS I started studying meditation because I firmly expected to go to prison as a result of my refusal to participate in the Vietnam War I knew instinctively that I would have to find resources within myself to prepare for and protect from long hours of boredom hostile strangers and oppressive situations These studies took me around the world and although I never actually entered prison I gathered what I needed to arm myself against the sudden deprivation of material comfort and freedom HOW TO USE THIS BOOK This book contains 31 meditations one for each day of the month Use the meditation that corresponds to the date of the month Find a comfortable place and read the introduction and meditation once Then say each line of the meditation aloud if possible silently if necessary Concentrate on the meaning Close your eyes quiet your mind watch your breath observe your thoughts and most importantly follow your intuition THE MIND TURNS TO LIBERATION I write for those few brothers and sisters who are forced by circumstance to contemplate the meaning of liberation I write with a sense of camaraderie because everyone is in some sense a prisoner True for most people imprisonment is self imposed Nevertheless once imposed the mind turns to liberation

Annual Report of the Board of Prison Commissioners of Massachusetts ,1915 Votes & Proceedings New South Wales. Parliament. Legislative Council,1895 Situational Prison Control Richard K. Wortley,2002-03-25 This book examines the control of problem behaviour in prison from a situational crime prevention perspective Following the success of situational crime prevention in community settings Richard Wortley argues that the same principles can be used to help reduce the levels of assault rape self harm drug use escape and collective violence in our prison systems This pioneering new study proposes a two stage model of situational prevention that moves beyond traditional opportunity reduction it attempts to reconcile the contradictory urges to control prison disorder by tightening up and hardening the prison environment on the one hand and loosening off and normalising it on the other Combining a comprehensive synthesis and evaluation of existing research with original investigation and ground breaking conclusions Situational Prison Control will be of great interest to academics and practitioners both in the areas of correction and crime prevention more generally
