Private Death Of Public Discourse:

The Private Death of Public Discourse Barry Sanders, 1998 An expansion on the author's argument for literacy in A is for Ox Re-Imagining Public Space D. Boros, J. Glass, 2014-12-09 Public space both literally and figuratively is foundationally important to political life From Socratic lectures in the public forum to Occupy Wall Street and the Arab Spring public spaces have long played host to political discussion and protest The book provides a direct assessment of the role that public space plays in political life Private Lives, Public Deaths Jonathan Strauss, 2013-07 Private Lives Public Deaths draws on classical studies Hegel and modern philosophical analyses to describe how Sophocles' tragedy Antigone expresses a key concern of ancient Greek culture the value of a living individual Epiestems of Death Pratham Parekh, 2017-01-01 Death and dying experiences are not common across human race because humans do not share common cultural heritage and physical environment The fact of death thus can be considered as socially constructed fact abounded by idiosyncratic religious beliefs and rituals existing within social life It is almost impossible to have common consensual understanding of death and dying This book tries to investigate various sources of knowledge about death in multiple disciplines from sociological lenses Managing Records as Evidence and Information Richard J. Cox, 2000-12-30 For the past three decades policies regarding a variety of information issues have emanated from federal agencies legislative chambers and corporate boardrooms Despite the focus on information policy it is still a relatively new concept and one only now beginning to be studied The subject area is wider than believed archives and records policies information resources management information technology telecommunications international communications privacy and confidentiality computer regulation and crime intellectual property and information systems and dissemination This is not a compendium of policies to be used but rather an exploration in a more detailed fashion of the fundamental principles supporting the setting of records policies Records policies are critically important for records professionals to develop and use as a means of strategically managing the information and evidence found in the millions of records created daily provided that the policies are based on comprehensible principles This is a series of discourses on the fundamentals of archives and records management needing to be understood before any organization attempts to define and set any policy affecting records and information The chapters concern defining records how information technology plays into policy compiling the fundamental tasks of identifying and maintaining records as critical to records and information policy public outreach and advocacy as a key objective for such policy and the role of educating records professionals in supporting sensible records policies A Pragmatist's Progress? John Pettegrew, 2000 In this volume a host of distinguished scholars examine Richard Rorty's influence on twentieth century American pragmatism and its commitment to achieving social democracy Rorty's reclaiming of the pragmatist tradition and his contribution to the discipline of intellectual history are highlighted at the same time each essay finds Rorty's pragmatism most fully enunciated in Contingency Irony and Solidarity lacking in its privatist vision of the good life This criticism is drawn out through explicit comparisons between Rorty and his grandfather Walter Rauschenbusch William James John Dewey Randolph Bourne Richard J Bernstein and other twentieth century pragmatist thinkers This volume offers the most complete historical treatment of this controversial intellectual to date Death, Dying and Bereavement Donna

Dickenson,Malcolm Johnson,Jeanne Katz,2000-09-28 The fully revised and updated edition of this bestselling collection combines academic research with professional and personal reflections Death Dying and Bereavement addresses both the practical and the more metaphysical aspects of death Topics such as new methods of pain relief guidelines for breaking bad news and current attitudes to euthanasia are considered while the mystery of death and its wider implications are also explored A highly distinctive interdisciplinary approach is adopted including perspectives from literature theology sociology and psychology There are wide ranging contributions from those who come into professional contact with death and bereavement doctors nurses social wo Celebrity and Mediated Social Connections Neil M. Alperstein,2019-05-16

Celebrity and Mediated Social Connections is a critical examination of the multiple realities of the mediated culture we traverse extending from our imaginary inner worlds to the imagined communities of digital media Chapters explore the dialogic at work when we connect with celebrities and internalize aspects of their personas due to the various social roles they serve within our everyday lives What might begin as strong identification and internalization within our imaginary worlds in this digital age sometimes seeps out as we connect to celebrities their fans friends and followers in ways that were not formerly possible The book contains topics that range from the degradation of micro celebrities the role of celebrities in promoting prescription drugs and their role in contemporary social movements The common thread that runs through the book presents a mediated world that paradoxically allows if not encourages people to daydream engage in stream of consciousness thinking and fantasize about celebrities all while concurrently compelling us to engage in a digitally based objective world The possibility of interaction on and through digital media intensifies the emotional connection between celebrity and fan The more personal details one gives up the closer we feel we become digital intimacy based on the excessive self Digital media entice us to engage and remain tethered to technology staying continuously connected so as not to miss the latest post or meme To suggest we should build a proverbial wall between the two imaginary and objective worlds runs counter to the reality of an always on always connected culture in which we presently live Mass Media James B.

Martin,2002 Mass media has become an integral part of the human experience News travels around the world in a split second affecting people in other countries in untold ways Although being on top of the news may be good at least for news junkies mass media also transmits values or the lack thereof condenses complex events and thoughts to simplified sound bites and often ignores the essence of an event or story The selective bibliography gathers the books and magazine literature over the previous ten years while providing access through author title and subject indexes Public Discourse and Private Lives Elizabeth A. Constantine,2001 Responding to Margaret Thatcher's Death L. Hadley,2014-04-11 Louisa Hadley examines the range of responses to Margaret Thatcher's death in relation to the cultural discourses surrounding Thatcher in the 1980s and since her resignation. The responses examined include the anticipation of Thatcher's death in anti-Thatcher songs, social media responses, obituaries, picture tributes, and the ceremonial funeral. A. S. Byatt and Intellectual Women

Leanne Bibby, 2022-08-30. This monograph is a study of the work of British author A. S. Byatt, exploring the cultural representation of the woman intellectual in her fiction. It argues that Byatt's representations of this figure show narratives of intellectual women to be inherently mythopoeic or capable of restructuring the myth of the intellectual as male by default. This mythopoeia is furthermore intrinsically feminist in function, thus potentially broadening the conventional, limited view of women in intellectual history. The book will be the first study of Byatt's work to examine this figure in detail and the first study of women intellectuals in historical and literary discourse to apply concepts of mythopoeia and sexual difference in ways that allow new readings of women's status and work in public spheres. Les idées en mouvement Michel Ducharme, Damien-Claude Bélanger, Sophie Coupal, 2004. Between Mass Death and Individual Loss Alon Confino, Paul Betts, Dirk Schumann, 2008-07-01. Recent years have witnessed growing scholarly interest in the history of death. Increasing academic attention toward death as a historical subject in its own right is very much linked to its pre-eminent place in 20th-century history, and Germany predictably occupies a special place in these inquiries. This collection of essays explores how German mourning changed over the 20th century in different contexts, with a particular view to how death was linked to larger issues of social order and cultural self-understanding. It contributes to a history of death in 20th-century Germany that does not begin and end with the Third Reich. Where These Memories Grow W. Fitzhugh Brundage, 2015-12-01.

Southerners are known for their strong sense of history. But the kinds of memories southerners have valued and the ways in which they have preserved, transmitted, and revitalized those memories have been as varied as the region's inhabitants themselves. This collection presents fresh and innovative perspectives on how southerners across two centuries and from Texas to North Carolina have interpreted their past. Thirteen contributors explore the workings of historical memory among groups as diverse as white artisans in early nineteenth-century Georgia, African American authors in the late nineteenth century, and Louisiana Cajuns in the twentieth century. In the process, they offer critical insights for understanding the many communities that make up the American South. As ongoing controversies over the Confederate flag, the Alamo, and depictions of slavery at historic sites demonstrate, southern history retains the power to stir debate. By placing these and other conflicts over the recalled past into historical context, this collection will deepen our understanding of the continuing significance of history and memory for southern regional identity. Maffly Kipp, C. Brenden Martin, Anne Sarah Rubin, Stephanie E. Yuhl. Speaking the Unspeakable in Postwar Germany Sonja

Boos, 2015-03-10. Speaking the Unspeakable in Postwar Germany is an interdisciplinary study of a diverse set of public speeches given by major literary and cultural figures in the 1950s and 1960s Through close readings of canonical speeches by Hannah Arendt Theodor W Adorno Ingeborg Bachmann Martin Buber Paul Celan Uwe Johnson Peter Szondi and Peter Weiss Sonja Boos demonstrates that these speakers both facilitated and subverted the construction of a public discourse about the Holocaust in postwar West Germany The author s analysis of original audio recordings of the speech events several of which will be available on a companion website improves our understanding of the spoken performative dimension of public speeches While emphasizing the social constructedness of discourse experience and identity Boos does not neglect the pragmatic conditions of aesthetic and intellectual production most notably the felt need to respond to the breach in tradition caused by the Holocaust The book thereby illuminates the process by which a set of writers and intellectuals instead of trying to mend what they perceived as a radical break in historical continuity or corroborating the myth of a new beginning searched for ways to make this historical rupture rhetorically and semantically discernible and literally audible
