Private Ownership Of Public Housing In Singapore:

Private Ownership of Public Housing in Singapore Sook Yee Tan, 1998 In Singapore 81% of all Housing Development Board flat dwellers own the units in which they live However there have been views questioning the meaning of private ownership of public housing because of the 99 year leases for public housing and the restrictions on such ownership and its transfer This book examines the rights of the owners of public and other types of housing in Singapore tracing in detail the legislation introduced in support of the development of public housing estates and their management in Singapore It also examines the role of town councils their authority in passing by laws and the implications for private ownership of public housing Clearly written and easy to read the book should be of interest and use to professionals who would like the legislative and regulatory information on public housing and to students in building and estate management courses as well as to law students and researchers looking into urban housing and its legal framework This book should also interest general readers and HDB flat owners who want to have a better understanding of their rights over their property Private Ownership of Public Housing in Singapore Beng Huat Chua, 1996 Critical Issues In Asset Building In Singapore's Development S Vasoo, Bilveer Singh, 2018-06-19 Singapore's progress as an independent nation and the uplifting of its people's livelihood have been made possible by stable social and political conditions A more important factor in driving these positive changes lies with people centric leadership One can contrast the case of Singapore with societies led by self serving leaders whose lack of honesty and integrity brings about immense social and economic hardships to various communities When people suffer under undesirable circumstances they often migrate to seek better future for themselves and their families This book reveals how Singapore's governance grounded on the principle of asset building facilitates the country's growth and development Policies being discussed in this volume include multi culturalism accessible housing social mobility for low income families water resource management and national conscription Highly relevant for students policy makers and the general public interested in socio political and economic development issues this unique piece of work not only gives readers a documentary account of what has been undertaken to empower and assist citizens in the last 50 years or so but also prompts them to reflect on Singapore's future trajectory Related Link s Transforming Social Housing

Sasha Tsenkova, 2020-12-23 The recent global crisis exposed vulnerabilities of housing markets pointing to the need to build resilience through better policy tools and sustainable provision of social housing In the context of fiscal austerity social housing is affected by changing politics privatization and concentration of urban poverty Transforming Social Housing International Perspectives explores the differences and similarities in housing policies and practices by focusing on social housing institutions and their ability to influence affordability and quality of housing The focus is on private and not for profit provision in mixed income developments supported through partnerships and a mix of policy instruments The book brings together contributions by leading scholars on key debates affecting social housing in cities around the world The international perspectives provide an interdisciplinary robust overview of complex processes of change affecting people places and homes It is particularly well suited for students scholars policymakers and professionals interested in housing urban planning and public policy The chapters in this book were originally published in various issues of the Urban Research Practice journal Singapore's Real Estate: 50 Years Of Transformation Tien Foo Sing, Shi Ming Yu, Ngee Huat Seek, 2016-02-25 Singapore's Real Estate 50 Years of Transformation documents the transformation and development of the real estate market in Singapore over the past 50 years This volume is organised around two major themes and covers issues from the bricks and mortar to the capital markets and from local to international real estate markets The themes aptly describe how real estate has played an important role in the economic development and growth of Singapore from a third world to a first world country Written by well renowned experts with deep academic and practical knowledge of the progress of real estate in Singapore this book highlights the uniqueness of real estate markets and institutions in Singapore which have constantly been replicated and adopted in other markets Singapore Politics Under the People's Action Party Diane K. Mauzy, Robert Stephen Milne, 2002 The party has coped successfully with the needs of a multiethnic population claims for more extensive human rights the nascent development of a civil society and the problems of defending a small country in a turbulent region Global Housing Markets Ashok Bardhan, Robert H. Edelstein, Cynthia A. Kroll, 2011-10-27 A global look at the reasons behind the recent economic collapse and the responses to it The speculative bubble in the housing market began to burst in the United States in 2007 and has been followed by ruptures in virtually every asset market in almost every country in the world Each country proposed a range of policy initiatives to deal with its crisis Policies that focused upon stabilizing the housing market formed the cornerstone of many of these proposals This internationally focused book evaluates the genesis of the housing market bubble the global viral contagion of the crisis and the policy initiatives undertaken in some of the major economies of the world to counteract its disastrous affects Unlike other books on the global crisis this guide deals with the housing sector in addition to the financial sector of individual economies Countries in many parts of the world were players in either the financial bubble or the housing bubble or both but the degree of impact outcome and responses varied widely This is an appropriate time to pull together the lessons from these various experiences Reveals the housing crisis in the United States as the core of the meltdown Describes the evolution of housing markets and policies in the run up to the crisis their impacts and the responses in European and Asian countries Compares experiences and linkages across countries and points to policy implications and research lessons drawn from these experiences Filled with the insights of well known contributors with strong contacts in practice and academia this timely guide discusses the history and evolution of the recent crisis as local to each contributor's part of the world and examines its distinctive and common features with that of the U S the trajectory of its evolution and the similarities and differences in policy response Research Handbook on the Law of Virtual and Augmented Reality Woodrow Barfield, Marc Jonathan Blitz, 2018-12-28 Virtual and augmented reality raise significant questions for law and policy When should virtual world activities or augmented reality images count as protected First Amendment speech and when are they instead a nuisance or trespass When does copying them infringe intellectual property laws When should a person or computer face legal consequences for allegedly harmful virtual acts The Research Handbook on the Law of Virtual and Augmented Reality addresses these questions and others drawing upon free speech doctrine criminal law issues of data protection and privacy legal rights for increasingly intelligent avatars and issues of jurisdiction within virtual and augmented reality worlds Heteroglossic Asia Francis Chia-Hui Lin,2015-01-09

Heteroglossic Asia presents an analysis of geographic historical cultural economic spatial and political factors underlying Taiwan s maritime urbanity by means of case studies based on Taipei and Kaohsiung two cities which represent the multi accentual character of Taiwan s urban environment and its recent changes and development through architecture Focussing on the concept of a heteroglossic Asia Pacific exemplified by the analysis of Taiwan s urban transformation the study argues that Taiwan s urban environment shows a form of intended fuzziness which cannot be described as resting on either a simplified nationalist base or chaotic societal anxiety Rather this form lies between binary poles autocracy and democracy nation state and day to day life top down and bottom up orientations orthodoxy and hybridisation Understanding

Singapore Politics (Second Edition) Bilveer Singh,2021-08-23 Understanding Singapore Politics Second Edition aims to present a structural functional understanding of politics in Singapore This textbook provides a foundational knowledge of Singapore s politics by discussing key topics including the country s history political and party systems role of parastatal organisations nation building political leadership electoral politics hot button national issues and the role of Lee Kuan Yew in Singapore politics Recommended for anyone who has an interest or a stake in the island republic this introductory text provides insights on what drives shapes and influences Singapore s politics and explains the political behaviour of Singaporeans Spatial Planning for a Sustainable Singapore Tai-Chee Wong,Belinda Yuen,Charles

Goldblum,2008-02-28 This book analyses and provides an insight to Singapore s planning system and practices associated with sustainable development It takes a reflective approach in reviewing the direction impact and significance of sustainable development in Singapore planning and the future challenges facing the city state which is often looked upon by many developing countries as a model Governing Urban Development in China Fulong Wu,Fangzhu Zhang,2024-12-17 The book investigates urban development and governance in China and introduces China perspectives to the understanding of governing urban development in the 21st century Building upon a rich and burgeoning literature on China the book explains major changes in governance offers a well synthesized account of state centered governance and provides in depth discussions on urban governance city and regional planning financing and financialization urban redevelopment local economic development and innovation and environmental governance The book bridges theoretical concepts in critical urban studies and empirical research on China and thus depicts a fuller picture of changing and variegated urban governance in the contemporary world The book theorizes Chinese urban governance from the ground up and derives a concept of state entrepreneurialism as a framework for narrating urban governance in China Following this framework each chapter begins with a brief introduction to key concepts in urban geography and then depicts the urban development process on the ground in China Then the chapters discuss these concepts and explanations because many are derived from a different context often in Western economies At the end of each chapter the phenomenal urban changes are evaluated with their theoretical implications This book offers contextualized insights into critical geographical studies of urban governance and is the first essential complementary reading for both urban scholars and those exploring the geography of China It will be of interest to students and researchers in Urban Geography Urban Studies Urban Planning Sociology Political Science and China Studies The book can also be complementary reading in China Studies especially in governance and politics

Common Lines and City Spaces Gui Weihsin, 2014-11-07 This collection of essays on the Singaporean writer and artist Arthur Yap is dedicated to his multifaceted creative work and makes it accessible to both general and academic readers It features new and innovative essays on Yap's prose poetry and paintings by an international group of scholars and critics The essays approach Yap's work through literary and analytical methods drawn from postcolonial criticism ecocriticism studies of urban spaces visual art and sexuality with particular consideration for how his work contributes to a specifically Singaporean form of postcolonial critique

China's Exchange Rate System Reform Paul Sau-Leung Yip, 2011 The author of this book is the original proponent of China's exchange rate system reform announced in 2005 This book discusses The transitional medium term and long term designs of the reform China's achievements and mistakes on the reform China's banking reform and its lessons to other emerging economies Maintaining a certain trade surplus as a dynamically optimal choice for China China's stock market bubble and the gradual bubble squeezing strategy China's property inflation and its solution China's fiscal and monetary policies during and after the global financial tsunami Risk of global asset inflation CPI inflation and cycle of exchange rate after the financial tsunami Likelihood of an asset bubble and then a crisis in economies outside the US during the overheated phase of the recovery Through these discussions the author hopes to share his knowledge on macroeconomic policy management accumulated over the past thirty five years In particular he would like to share his insights on macroeconomic policy management before during and after an asset inflation era or a crisis period He would also like to warn policy makers and financial investors on the likelihood of an asset bubble and then a crisis in economies outside the US The author hopes this book could eventually stimulate the emergence of OC macroeconomic policy management OCO as a new and important discipline in economics While the focus of the book is on macroeconomic policy management it also offers important lessons and strategies on share and property investments Thus economists policy makers central bank officials economics students business and finance professionals individual investors and academia in other disciplines will find the book useful

Dissent and Cultural Resistance in Asia's Cities Melissa Butcher,Selvaraj Velayutham,2009-03-23 This book documents urban experiences of dissent and emergent resistance against disjunctive global and local capital technology and labour flows that converge and intersect in some of Asia's fastest growing cities Rather than constructing occupants of the city as simply passive victims of globalisation or urbanisation it presents ways in which people are using everyday strategies embedded in cultural practice to challenge dominant socio economic and political forces impacting on urban space Taking the city as a site of contestation and a stage where social conflicts are played out the book highlights the connections between urban power and dissent the nature and impact of resistance how the spatiality and built environment of the city generates conflict and conversely how protagonists use the cityscape to stage their everyday and public dissent The contributors explore the conditions strategies and outcomes of such dissent and forms of cultural resistance and explore the following themes the impact of urban development gentrification and ghettoisation urban counter narratives and the reimagining of city spaces the role of grassroots activism and social movements cultural resistance in the creation of neighbourhoods and communities the impact of gender class and the politics of identity on forms of dissent the formation of transgressive spaces

Ageing Matters John Doling,2018-01-18 The implications of population ageing have long concerned politicians policy makers and governmental and non governmental organizations in the welfare states of Europe However an ageing workforce is increasingly a matter of concern for the developed and fast developing countries of Asia Japan leads the field in this respect on account of the speed of its postwar economic development But the little tigers of Hong Kong Singapore South Korea and Taiwan are poised to catch up and Malaysia though in the second tier of developing Asian economics faces the prospect of population ageing sufficient to daunt an as yet under prepared infrastructure for old age support This book is the first to examine in detail the experiences and prospects of population ageing in those Asian countries with the highest GDP per capita The authors pose the question to what extent Asia and old Europe can learn from each other in terms of policy planning The first section of the book sets out the field in terms of the demographic characteristics and policy predicaments of European and Asian countries The second section presents case studies of six countries Japan Hong Kong Singapore South Korea Taiwan and Malaysia

The Speculative City Cecilia L. Chu, Shenjing He, 2022-01-27 The Speculative City explores property speculation as a key aspect of financialization and its role in reshaping the contemporary built environment The book offers a series of case studies that encompass a range of cities whose urban fabrics have undergone significant transformation in recent years While the forms of these developments shared many similarities their trajectories and social outcomes were contingent upon existing planning and policy frameworks and the historical roles assumed by the state and the private sector in housing and welfare provision By paying close attention to the forces and actors involved in property development this book underscores that the built environment has played an integral part in the shaping of new values and collective aspirations while facilitating the spread of financial logics in urban governance It also shows that these dynamics represent a larger shift of politics and culture in the ongoing production of urban space and prompts reflections on future trajectories of finance led property speculation
