Quintland. The Canadian Dionne Quintuplets During the Great Depression Blake Sullivan,2014-12-08
Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject History America grade A language English abstract The 1930s were very dark and depressing years for most Canadians The Great Depression had global ramifications and Canada did not avoid the economic strain that was impacting the rest of the world millions of Canadians were out of work and hundred of thousands more struggled to survive on drastically reduced incomes With the births of Annette C cile Emilie Marie and Yvonne Dionne in 1934 the province of Ontario coupled with Canada discovered a Human Goldmine From the moment the Quints were born they were subjected to awful living standards and were abused by the Provincial government for financial gains But why were the Dionne Quintuplets and their parents Elzire and Oliva manipulated into such a horrible fate During an era that was struggling economically the Ontario government took advantage of a very rare event to make short term financial gains The small Franco Ontario hamlet of Corbeil birthplace of the Quintuplets became a booming tourist attraction that generated massive crowds and huge sums of money By analyzing the Ontario government s political policies during the Great Depression it is evident that the Dionne Quintuplets were unjustly treated as provincial property rather than ordinary children Specifically the Ontario Liberal government abused its political power and influence to legally economically and culturally take advantage of a single family all to bolster its popularity and security in a depressing and dark era "This shark, swallow you whole" Kathy Merlock Jackson, Philip L.
