Making Sense of Race, Class, and Gender Celine-Marie Pascale, 2013-02-01 Using arresting case studies of how ordinary people understand the concepts of race class and gender Celine Marie Pascale shows that the peculiarity of commonsense is that it imposes obviousness that which we cannot fail to recognize As a result how we negotiate the challenges of inequality in the twenty first century may depend less on what people consciously think about difference and more on what we inadvertently assume Through an analysis of commonsense knowledge Pascale expertly provides new insights into familiar topics In addition by analyzing local practices in the context of established cultural discourses Pascale shows how the weight of history bears on the present moment both enabling and constraining possibilities Pascale tests the boundaries of sociological knowledge and offers new avenues for conceptualizing social change In 2008 Making Sense of Race Class and Gender was the recipient of the Distinguished Contribution to Scholarship Book Award of the American Sociological Association Section on Race Gender and Class for distinguished and significant contribution to the development of the integrative field of race gender and class
