Generation at the Crossroads Paul Rogat Loeb,1994 Challenging prevailing media stereotypes Generation at the Crossroads explores the beliefs and choices of the students who came of age in the 1980s and 1990s For seven years at over a hundred campuses in thirty states Paul Loeb asked students about the values they held He examines their concepts of responsibility the links they draw between present and future and how they view themselves in relation to the larger human community in which they live He brings us a range of voices from I m not that kind of person to I had to take a stand Loeb looks at how the rest of us can serve young people as better role models and give them courage and vision to help build a better world This insightful book explores the culture of withdrawal that dominated American campuses through most of the eighties He locates its roots in historical ignorance relentless individualism mistrust of social movements and a general isolation from urgent realities He examines why a steadily increasing minority has begun to take on critical public issues whether environmental activism apartheid hunger and homelessness affordable education or racial and sexual equity Loeb looks at individuals who have overcome precisely the barriers he has described and how their journeys can become models The generational choices he explores will shape our common future

Confronting Diversity Issues on Campus

Benjamin Bowser,Gale S. Auletta,Terry Jones,1993-08-24 This book provides an analysis of racism and goes on to provide some suggestions as to what can be done to reduce it The issue is explored from the standpoint of both students and faculty and in my opinion is well worth reading and studying The Academic Bookshelf No topic causes more concern at today s university than a discussion of diversity in education Controversies about affirmative action hires admission policies intercultural relations in the classroom the role of ethnic studies departments and changes in the course curriculum all seem to swirl around the changing ethnic composition of the campus How do we all get along Tackling this question are authors Benjamin P Bowser Gale S Auletta and Terry Jones who suggest some practical strategies for dealing with questions of racism diversity and intercultural communication Their suggestions are addressed to both European American faculty and faculty of color and range from strategies to improve intercultural interpersonal skills to broad structural changes the university needs to undergo to fully embrace its diverse population

Surviving Race, Ethnicity, and Nationality Jorge J. E. Gracia, 2005-11-01 Surviving Race Ethnicity and Nationality is the first book to explore philosophically the concepts of race ethnicity and nationality and offer a systematic and unified theory emphasizing metaphysical and epistemological issues Gracia argues for a familial historical view of ethnicity and race in the tradition of Du Bois and for a political view of nationality the roots of which can be traced to the French Enlightenment Meticulous criticism of Appiah on race Corlett on ethnicity and Miller on nationality set the stage for the presentation of Gracia's own analytically precise discussion Surviving Race Ethnicity and Nationality is an indispensable resource for anyone interested in the distinctive ways that philosophy informs and clarifies our common understanding of these complex concepts

Feminist Waves, Feminist Generations Hokulani K. Aikau, Karla A. Erickson, Jennifer L. Pierce, 2007 Feminist Waves Feminist Generations challenges the static figuring of feminist generations that positions the second wave of feminist scholars against a homogeneous third wave Based on life stories from contemporary feminist scholars this volume emphasizes how feminism develops unevenly over time and across institutions and ultimately offers a new paradigm for theorizing the intersections between generations and feminist waves of thought Contributors Sam Bullington U of Missouri Susan Cahn SUNY Buffalo Dawn Rae Davis U of Minnesota Lisa J. On Privilege, Fraudulence, and Teaching As Learning Peggy McIntosh, 2019-07-04 From one of the world's leading voices on white privilege and anti-racism work comes this collection of essays on complexities of privilege and power Each of the four parts illustrates Peggy McIntosh's practice of combining personal and systemic understandings to focus on power in unusual ways Part I includes McIntosh's classic and influential essays on privilege or systems of unearned advantage that correspond to systems of oppression Part II helps readers to understand that feelings of fraudulence may be imposed by our hierarchical cultures rather than by any actual weakness or personal shortcomings Part III presents McIntosh's Interactive Phase Theory highlighting five different world views or attitudes about power that affect school curriculum cultural values and decisions on taking action The book concludes with powerful insights from SEED a peer-led teacher development project that enables individuals and institutions to work collectively toward equity and social justice This book is the culmination of forty years of McIntosh's intellectual and organizational work

Embodying Inequality Nancy Krieger, 2016-12-05 To advance the epidemiological analysis of social inequalities in health and of the ways in which population distributions of disease disability and death reflect embodied expressions of social inequality this volume draws on articles published in the International Journal of Health Services between 1990 and 2000 Framed by ecosocial theory it employs ecosocial constructs of embodiment pathways of embodiment cumulative interplay of exposure susceptibility and resistance across the lifecourse and accountability and agency to address the question and who and what drives current and changing patterns of social inequalities in health

The System in Black and White Michael W. Markowitz, Delores D. Jones-Brown, 2000-04-30 In a collection of compelling contributions to the study of the nexus between race crime and justice noted scholars in the field critique many long held assumptions and myths about race challenging criminal justice policymakers to develop new and effective strategies for dealing with the social problems such misunderstandings create In sections devoted to criminological theory law enforcement courts and the law juvenile delinquency and gender contributors endeavor to dispel myths about African American involvement in the criminal justice system In so doing a number of important facts are established about the race crime nexus For example in an analysis of criminological theory it is concluded that race as a singular social factor has not been adequately represented in existing paradigms The subject of police profiling of African Americans reveals an evolution of court decisions that have marginalized rather than liberated African Americans since slavery Each contributor challenges both the reader and the criminal justice system to develop meaningful strategies for addressing the racism that still pervades our system of justice A chapter on women of color in prison makes a compelling argument that such institutions often represent safer environments than the life on the streets women leave behind This persuasive volume will be of interest to undergraduate and graduate students as well as faculty in Sociology Criminal Justice policy development African American and Women s Studies
