What can Singapore do to prepare for an ageing population? This volume explores a range of possible answers to these questions and more. Singapore, the Energy Economy Weng Hoong Ng, 2013-05-24. Singapore might not have survived the 1960s and prospered thereafter had it not built its economy on the foundations of oil refining, trading and support for oil and gas exploration and production. Intellectual Property, Competition Law and Economics in Asia R Ian McEwin,2011-10-07 This book results from a conference held in Singapore in September 2009 that brought together distinguished lawyers and economists to examine the differences and similarities in the intersection between intellectual property and competition laws in Asia The prime focus was how best to balance these laws to improve economic welfare Countries in Asia have different levels of development and experience with intellectual property and competition laws Japan has the longest experience and now vigorously enforces both competition and intellectual property laws Most other countries in Asia have only recently introduced intellectual property laws due to the Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights TRIPS Agreement and competition laws sometimes due to the World Bank International Monetary Fund or free trade agreements It would be naive to think that laws even if similar on the surface have the same goals or can be enforced similarly Countries have differing degrees of acceptance of these laws different economic circumstances and differing legal and political institutions To set the scene
