Terrorism and Temporality in the Works of Thomas Pynchon and Don DeLillo James Gourley,2013-06-06

Terrorism and Temporality in the Works of Thomas Pynchon and Don DeLillo starts from a simple premise that the events of the 11th of September 2001 must have had a major effect on two New York residents and two of the seminal authors of American letters Pynchon and DeLillo By examining implicit and explicit allusion to these events in their work it becomes apparent that both consider 9 11 a crucial event and that it has profoundly impacted their work From this important point the volume focuses on the major change identifiable in both authors work a change in the perception and conception of time This is not however a simple change after 2001 It allows at the same time a re examination of both authors work and the acknowledgment of time as a crucial concept to both authors throughout their careers Engaging with several theories of time and their reiteration and examination in both authors work this volume contributes both to the understanding of literary time and to the work of Pynchon and DeLillo

Spirit and Self in Medieval China Nanxiu Qian,2001-06-01 The Shih shuo hsin yu conventionally translated as A New Account of Tales of the World is one of the most significant works in the entire Chinese literary tradition It established a genre the Shih shuo t i and inspired dozens of imitations from the later part of the Tang dynasty 618 907 to the early Republican era of the twentieth century The Shih shuo hsin yu consists of more than a thousand historical anecdotes about elite life in the late Han dynasty and the Wei Chin period about A D 150 420 Despite a general recognition of the place of the Shih shuo hsin yu in China s literary history and to a lesser extent that of Japan the genre itself has never been adequately defined or thoroughly studied Spirit and Self in Medieval China offers the first thorough study in any language of the origins and evolution of the Shih shuo t i based on a comprehensive literary analysis of the Shih shuo hsin yu and a systematic documentation and examination of more than thirty imitations The study also contributes to the growing interest in the Chinese idea of individual identity By focusing on the Shin shuo genre which provides the starting point in China for a systematic literary construction of the self it demonstrates that contrary to Western assertions of a timeless Chinese tradition an authentic understanding of personhood in China changed continually and often significantly in response to changing historical and cultural circumstances
