icon of Black resistance identity and remembrance One of the most iconic images of slavery is a schematic wood engraving depicting the human cargo hold of a slave ship First published by British abolitionists in 1788 it exposed this widespread commercial practice for what it really was shocking immoral barbaric unimaginable Printed as handbills and broadsides the image Cheryl Finley has termed the slave ship icon was easily reproduced and by the end of the eighteenth century it was circulating by the tens of thousands around the Atlantic rim Committed to Memory provides the first in depth look at how this artifact of the fight against slavery became an enduring symbol of Black resistance identity and remembrance Finley traces how the slave ship icon became a powerful tool in the hands of British and American abolitionists and how its radical potential was rediscovered in the twentieth century by Black artists activists writers filmmakers and curators Finley offers provocative new insights into the works of Amiri Baraka Romare Bearden Betye Saar and many others She demonstrates how the icon was transformed into poetry literature visual art sculpture performance and film and became a medium through which diasporic Africans have reasserted their common identity and memorialized their ancestors Beautifully illustrated Committed to Memory features works from around the world taking readers from the United States and England to West Africa and the Caribbean It shows how contemporary Black artists and their allies have used this iconic eighteenth century engraving to reflect on the trauma of slavery and come to terms with its legacy All Life Is Memory Pasquale De Marco, 2025-07-10 Memory is the thread that weaves the fabric of our lives It is the tapestry of our experiences the repository of our knowledge and the foundation of our identity Without memory we would be lost in a sea of forgotten moments unable to make sense of the world around us In this thought provoking and elegantly written book Pasquale De Marco takes us on a journey through the fascinating world of memory Drawing on the latest research in neuroscience psychology and philosophy Pasquale De Marco explores the many facets of memory from its biological underpinnings to its profound impact on our lives Pasquale De Marco begins by examining the nature of memory itself What is it How does it work And why is it so essential to our existence We then explore the different types of memory from short term to long term and the various ways that we encode store and retrieve information We also delve into the role that memory plays in our identity our learning and our emotional lives We discover how our memories shape our sense of self how they influence our decisions and how they can be a source of both joy and pain Finally we explore the ethical dimensions of memory manipulation As our understanding of memory continues to grow we are faced with new and challenging questions about how we can use this knowledge to improve our lives and the lives of others All Life Is Memory is a captivating and insightful exploration of one of the most fundamental aspects of human existence It is a book that will change the way you think about memory and its profound impact on your life If you like this book write a review Writing the Holocaust Jean-Marc Dreyfus, Daniel Langton, 2011-09-01 Writing the Holocaust provides students and teachers with an accessibly written overview of the key themes and major theoretical developments which continue to inform the nature of historical writing on the Holocaust Holocaust studies is at a paradox while historians of the Holocaust defend it as a legitimate and well defined area of research they write against a complex political and ideological background that undermines any claim for it as a normative field of historical study Writing the Holocaust offers a lucid enquiry into this complex field by demonstrating the impact of current theories from the humanities and social sciences upon the treatment of Performing European Memories Milija Gluhovic, 2013-04-23 Asking whether a genuinely shared European memory is possible while addressing the dangers of a single homogenized European memory Gluhovic examines the contradictions specificities continuities and discontinuities in the European shared and unshared pasts as represented in the works of Pinter Tadeusz Kantor Heiner Muller and Artur Zmijewski Projecting the Holocaust into the Present Lawrence Baron, 2005-11-01 Most Holocaust scholars and survivors contend that the event was so catastrophic and unprecedented that it defies authentic representation in feature films Yet it is precisely the extremity of the Final Solution and the issues it raised that have fueled the cinematic imagination since the end of World War II Recognizing that movies reach a greater audience than eyewitness historical or literary accounts Lawrence Baron argues that they mirror changing public perceptions of the Holocaust over time and place After tracing the evolution of the most commonly employed genres and themes in earlier Holocaust motion pictures he focuses on how films from the 1990s made the Holocaust relevant for contemporary audiences While genres like biographical films and love stories about doomed Jewish Gentile couples remained popular they now cast Jews or non Jewish victims like homosexuals in lead roles more often than was the case in the past Baron attributes the recent proliferation of Holocaust comedies and children's movies to the search for more figurative and age appropriate genres for conveying the significance of the Holocaust to generations born after it happened He contends that thematic shifts to stories about neo Nazis rescuers survivors and their children constitute an expression of the continuing impact the Holocaust exerts on the present The book concludes with a survey of recent films like Nowhere in Africa and The Pianist Trauma Cinema Janet Walker, 2023-11-15 Trauma Cinema focuses on a new breed of documentary films and videos that adopt catastrophe as their subject matter and trauma as their aesthetic Incorporating oral testimony home movie footage and documentary reenactment these documentaries express the havoc trauma wreaks on history and memory Janet Walker uses incest and the Holocaust as a double thematic focus and fiction films as a point of comparison Her astute and original examination considers the Hollywood classic Kings Row and the television movie Sybil in relation to vanguard nonfiction works including Errol Morris s Mr Death Lynn Hershman s video diaries and the chilling genealogy of incest Just Melvin Both incest and the Holocaust have also been featured in contemporary psychological literature on trauma and memory The author employs theories of post traumatic stress disorder and histories of the so called memory wars to illuminate the amnesias fantasies and mistakes in memory that must be taken into account along with corroborated evidence if we are to understand how personal and public historical meaning is made Janet Walker's engrossing narrative demonstrates that the past does not come down to us purely and simply through eyewitness accounts and tangible artifacts Her incisive analysis exposes the frailty of memory in the face of disquieting events while her joint consideration of trauma cinema and psychological theorizing radically reconstructs the roadblocks at the intersection of catastrophe memory and historical representation Trauma Cinema focuses on a new breed of documentary films and videos that adopt catastrophe as their subject matter and trauma as their aesthetic Incorporating oral testimony home movie footage and Visualizing the Holocaust David Bathrick, Brad Prager, Michael David documentary reenactment these documentaries ex Richardson, 2008 Visual representations are an essential but highly contested means of understanding and remembering the Holocaust Photographs taken in the camps in early 1945 provided proof of and visceral access to the atrocities Later visual representations such as films paintings and art installations attempted to represent this extreme trauma While photographs from the camps and later aesthetic reconstructions differ in origin they share goals and have raised similar concerns the former are questioned not as to veracity but due to their potential inadequacy in portraying the magnitude of events the latter are criticized on the grounds that the mediation they entail is unacceptable Some have even questioned any attempt to represent the Holocaust as inappropriate and dangerous to historical understanding This book explores the taboos that structure the production and reception of Holocaust images and the possibilities that result from the transgression of those taboos Essays consider the uses of various visual media aesthetic styles and genres in representations of the Holocaust the uses of perpetrator photography the role of trauma in memory aesthetic problems of mimesis and memory in the work of Lanzmann Celan and others and questions about mass cultural representations of the Holocaust David Bathrick is Emeritus Professor of German at Cornell University Brad Prager is Associate Professor of German at the University of Missouri and Michael D Richardson is Associate Professor of German at Ithaca College The Observational Navigator Pasquale De Marco, 2025-05-20 Embark on an intellectual journey into the depths of the human mind with this comprehensive exploration of perception thought consciousness and reality Drawing upon insights from philosophy psychology neuroscience and beyond this book offers a multifaceted examination of the cognitive landscape that shapes our experiences and understanding of the world At the heart of this inquiry lies the question of how we perceive and interpret the world around us We delve into the nature of perception the role of sensory experience and the limits of our sensory capabilities How do our senses shape our understanding of reality Are our perceptions an accurate reflection of objective reality or are they subjective interpretations filtered through the lens of our own minds Furthermore we explore the intricate workings of concepts and thought What are concepts and how do they enable us to organize and make sense of the world around us How does language influence our conceptualization of reality We examine the building blocks of thought the role of abstraction and the power of language in shaping our understanding of the world No exploration of the human mind would be complete without an examination of the normative dimension of thought We delve into the role of logic rationality and belief in our cognitive processes What is truth and how do we determine it How do we distinguish between rational and irrational thought We grapple with these questions exploring the nature of knowledge the problem of skepticism and the search for certainty The book also delves into the enigmatic realm of consciousness What is consciousness and how does it arise from the physical processes of the brain What is the relationship between consciousness and qualia the subjective experiences of taste smell color and other sensory qualities We explore different theories of consciousness and examine the latest findings from neuroscience and philosophy in an attempt to unravel these profound mysteries This book is an invitation to embark on an intellectual odyssey to explore the depths of our own minds and to contemplate the nature of reality itself It is a journey that will challenge our assumptions expand our understanding and perhaps even glimpse the profound mysteries that lie at the heart of human existence With its thought provoking insights and comprehensive examination of the human mind this book is an essential read for anyone seeking to understand the complexities of perception thought consciousness and reality If you like this book write a review The Nine Orders Ivan J.
