Singapore EthniCity Curtis C. Roseman, Hans-Dieter Laux, Günter Thieme, 1996 Urban ethnic groups frequently are confronted by residential segregation discrimination xenophobia and conflict However ethnic diversity has also enriched the urban scene with a variety of languages religions businesses and cultural activities In this volume distinguished scholars present analyses of ethnic population change in twelve urban areas Chicago Los Angeles Sydney Melbourne Paris London Amsterdam the Ruhr conurbation Vienna Milan Madrid Johannesburg Durban and Singapore EthniCity reveals fundamental commonalities in ethnic community dynamics as well as significant differences from place to place It will be important for scholars and students of human geography sociology anthropology and history Singapore Studies National University of Singapore. Centre for Advanced Studies, 1986 World In Transition: Singapore's Future Heng Chee Chan, 2021-02-05 Professor Chan Heng Chee is the Institute of Policy Studies 7th S R Nathan Fellow for the Study of Singapore This book is an edited collection of her three IPS Nathan Lectures delivered between June and July 2020 and includes highlights of her question and answer segments with our virtual audience Professor Chan analyses the uncertain and fast changing world and Singapore's place in it She examines the major fault lines today wrought by the sudden COVID 19 pandemic the ongoing malfunctioning of democracies and capitalist economies and the unravelling of the world order The United States China rivalry has continued to intensify with ripple effects on the world order global trade and technology Singapore will need to navigate this evolving relationship skilfully while adapting its governance and economic models to respond to other challenges But is it all doom and gloom for Singapore Could our circumstances help us as we approach the new normal that lies ahead of us The IPS Nathan Lecture series was launched in 2014 as part of the S R Nathan Fellowship for the Study of Singapore It seeks to advance public understanding and discussion of issues of critical national interest for Singapore Combating A Crisis: The Psychology Of Singapore's Response To Covid-19 David Chan, 2020-07-28 The COVID 19 pandemic has caused and will continue to cause great disruptions to lives livelihoods ways of life and quality of life We will need to learn to live with the coronavirus for a long time even as we combat the coronavirus crisis collectively and fight our own daily battles individually This book examines Singapore's reaction and response to the coronavirus and draws lessons for crisis management psychological preparedness and adaptability Consisting of 12 chapters the book is organized into three parts Part 1 elaborates on the context of the coronavirus crisis and discusses human reactions to the outbreak and the key adaptation challenges that people faced Part 2 discusses Singapore's leadership and public responses focusing on negative emotions social responsibility adoption of new technology for contact tracing and the handling of the outbreak among migrant workers at the dormitories Part 3 addresses issues of psychological preparedness amid the evolving COVID 19 situation in terms of adapting to post pandemic realities enabling positive attitudes and experiences building psychological capital and learning to work together to emerge stronger and better from the coronavirus crisis Population Change and Economic Development in East Asia Andrew Mason, 2001 The fifteen essays in this volume address from several viewpoints

the question of what role population change played in East Asia's rapid economic development Dynamic Governance: Embedding Culture, Capabilities And Change In Singapore (English Version) Boon Siong Neo, Geraldine Chen, 2007-07-03 In a world of uncertainty and change current achievements are no guarantee for future survival Even if the initial chosen set of principles policies and practices are good static efficiency and governance would eventually lead to stagnation and decay No amount of careful planning can assure a government of continual relevance and effectiveness if there is no capacity for learning innovation and change in the face of ever new challenges in a volatile and unpredictable global environment This book provides an in depth look at dynamic governance the key to success in a world of rapid increasing globalization and unrelenting technological advancements If bureaucratic public institutions can evolve and embed the culture and capabilities that enable continuous learning and change their contributions to a country's socio economic progress and prosperity would be enormous The lessons from their efforts in institutionalizing culture capabilities and change could provide meaningful and valuable insights for transforming organizations in other contexts Historical Dictionary of Singapore Justin Corfield, 2010-12-02 In spite of Singapore's small size it has long had a major impact on the world because of its geographical location and its wealth The British initially made the island a major port for the shipping of goods and later as an airline hub for the region These factors along with a steady government have helped to contribute to the country's affluence This multicultural multiracial and multi religious island nation is the envy of many countries in the world which have tried to emulate the economic success of Singapore The new edition of the Historical Dictionary of Singapore has been completely rewritten since the first edition was released 20 years ago It relates the history of this country through a chronology an introductory essay an expansive bibliography and over 500 cross referenced dictionary entries on significant persons events places organizations and other aspects of Singapore history from the earliest times to the present New Culture in a New World David Kenley, 2004-06 During the 1920s China's intellectuals called for a new literature system of thought and orientation towards modern life the May Fourth Movement or the New Culture Movement spilled beyond China to the overseas Chinese communities This work analyzes the New Culture Movement from a diaspora perspective of the overseas Chinese in Singapore Politics and Change in Singapore and Hong Kong Stephan Ortmann, 2009-12-04 In democratization theory Singapore continues to be a remarkable country for its extremely low level of contentious politics despite rapid economic development In contrast many different groups in Hong Kong have taken their demands to the streets since the 1970s Even though there is an obvious difference in the willingness of the population to actively challenge the regime the political developments of the two city states show a similar pattern of political mobilization and government reaction This book examines the changing pattern of contentious politics in the democratization process of these Asian city states It explores the causal connections between popular contention and democratization using a multi disciplinary approach with theoretical insights from the political sciences sociology and psychology The political process model is applied to provide further understanding of the patterns of interaction between contenders opposition groups or social movements and the ruling elite The book argues that differences in the strategies applied by the ruling elite explain why members of the opposition were empowered or obstructed in challenging the government

Indian Communities in Southeast Asia (First Reprint 2006) K S Sandhu,A Mani,2006 In Indian Communities in Southeast Asia thirty one scholars provide an analytical commentary on the contemporary position of ethnic Indians in Southeast Asia The book is the outcome of a ten year project undertaken by the editors at the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies Singapore It is multi disciplinary in focus and multi faceted in approach providing a comprehensive account of the way people originating from the Indian subcontinent have integrated themselves in the various Southeast Asian countires The study provides insights into understanding how Indians an intra ethnically diverse immigrant group have intermingled in Southeast Asia a region that itself is ethnically diverse

Leadership For Change: The Singapore Schools' Experience Thiam Seng Koh,David Wei Loong Hung,2017-12-27 The book shares stories of the role of school leadership in Singapore with case studies from selected schools that provides some insights on how Singapore delivers a high quality education that had led to it achieving high rankings in TIMMS and PISA This book will provide both the historical and present contexts of changes in the education system school leadership and teacher leadership in Singapore that made it what it is today It will distil some universal principles of educational change that school leaders and policy makers can apply in bringing about educational changes that will enhance the learning experiences of students and prepare them for future challenges
