Builders of a New South Aaron D. Anderson, 2013-01-23 Builders of a New South describes how between 1865 and 1914 ten Natchez mercantile families emerged as leading purveyors in the wholesale plantation supply and cotton handling business and soon became a dominant force in the social and economic Reconstruction of the Natchez District They were able to take advantage of postwar conditions in Natchez to gain mercantile prominence by supplying planters and black sharecroppers in the plantation supply and cotton buying business They parlayed this initial success into cotton plantation ownership and became important local businessmen in Natchez participating in many civic improvements and politics that shaped the district into the twentieth century This book digs deep in countless records including census tax property and probate as well as thousands of chattel mortgage contracts to explore how these traders functioned as entrepreneurs in the aftermath of the Civil War examining closely their role as furnishing merchants and land speculators as well as their relations with the area s planters and freed black population Their use of favorable laws protecting them as creditors along with a solid community base that was civic minded and culturally intact greatly assisted them in their success These families prospered partly because of their good business practices and partly because local whites and blacks embraced them as useful agents in the emerging new marketplace The situation created by the aftermath of the war and emancipation provided an ideal circumstance for the merchant families and in the end they played a key role in the district s economic survival and were the prime modernizers of Natchez

Natchez Joan W. Gandy, Thomas H. Gandy, 1999 In its earliest days Natchez Mississippi attracted entrepreneurial people who saw potential for future enterprises In fact by the 1850s Natchez boasted more millionaires per capita than any other small town in the country This wealth and the energy that came along with it created a vibrant and bustling early environment in Natchez The city streets served as the stage on which the action took place and where the drama of real life in a young and hopeful America unfolded Natchez City Streets Revisited captures through vintage photography the images of this unique period in the city s history Included are the early businesses that prospered in Natchez as well as the grand homes of the pioneering families who brought prosperity to Natchez This visual journey is possible due to the skill craftsmanship and foresight of the city s early photographers Henry D Gurney Henry C Norman and his son Earl Norman Henry Norman trained under Gurney and went on to become Natchez s most sought after portrait artist In addition to portraiture he photographed everyday life in Natchez strolling the brick sidewalks of the city to document elaborate new storefronts and merchandise displayed on curbs Earl Norman carried on his father s tradition and continued to photograph the city and its people in his own highly acclaimed collection

Lost landmarks of Mississippi Mary Carol Miller,2002-01-01 Many of Mississippi's landmark buildings have been lost over the years victims of war fire neglect or decay Sprawling Gulf Coast hotels rose prospered and disappeared Spas overflowed for decades with revelers then vanished as their healing waters lost their cachet Huge college buildings were pressed into service as Civil War hospitals and were destroyed in the process Lost Landmarks of Mississippi reviews dozens of these forgotten buildings capturing their beauty in rare black and white photographs and telling the stories of their place in Mississippi history

Lost Mansions of Mississippi, Volume II Mary Carol Miller,2010-09-14 As preservationist Mary Carol Miller talked with Mississippians about her books on lost mansions and landmarks enthusiasts brought her more stories of great architecture ravaged by time The twenty seven houses included in her new book are among the most memorable of Mississippi's vanished antebellum and Victorian mansions The list ranges from the oldest house in the Natchez region lost in a 1966 fire to a Reconstruction era home that found new life as a school for freed slaves From two Gulf Coast landmarks both lost to Hurricane Katrina to the mysteriously misplaced facades of Hernando's White House and Columbus's Flynnwood these homes mark high points in the broad sweep of Mississippi history and the state's architectural legacy Miller tells the stories of these homes through accounts from the families who built and maintained them These structures run the stylistic gamut from Greek revival to Second Empire and their owners include everyone from Revolutionary era soldiers to governors and scoundrels
