Annals of Theoretical Psychology Paul Van Geert, Leendert P. Mos, 2013-11-11 This is the first of a two volume work in the Annals series devoted to developmental psychology The project was originally conceived in 1985 when Paul van Geert who had just completed his Theory building in developmental psychology North Holland 1986 agreed to collaborate on an Annals volume examining foundational issues pertaining to the concept of development The project attracted considerable interest and in view of the length of the resulting manuscript a decision was made to publish it in two volumes Fortunately the contributors provided coherent perspectives on two relatively distinct developmental themes which served to facilitate our task of dividing their contributions into two volumes The first volume deals with the foundations of developmental theory and methodology the second volume to appear as Volume 8 of the Annals with theoretical issues in developmental psychology In this first volume the contributions by Willis Overton and Joachim Wohlwill were completed in 1988 those by Roger Dixon Richard Lerner and David Hultsch and Paul van Geert in 1989 Commentaries followed quickly and replies to commentaries were completed in 1990 Paul van Geert provides a general framework within which the founda tional issues of development are discussed He is especially concerned with the nature of transition models and the structure of time in developmental theory The relationship between methods and framework or theory is the topic of Joachim Wohlwill's contribution
