Prints Illustrateds Six Centuries:

Harold Innis's History of Communications William J. Buxton, Michael R. Cheney, Paul Heyer, 2014-12-18 For decades media historians have heard of Harold Innis's unpublished manuscript exploring the history of communications but very few have had an opportunity to see it. In this volume editors and Innis scholars William J. Buxton, Michael R. Cheney, and Paul Heyer make widely accessible for the first time three core chapters from the legendary Innis manuscript. Here Innis 1894-1952 examines the development of paper and printing from antiquity in Asia through to 16th century Europe. He demonstrates how the paper printing nexus intersected with a broad range of other phenomena including administrative structures, geopolitics, militarism, public opinion, aesthetics, cultural diffusion, religion, education, reception, production processes, technology, labor relations, and commerce, as well as the lives of visionary figures. Buxton, Cheney, and Heyer knit the chapters into a cohesive narrative and help readers navigate Innis's observations by summarizing the heavily detailed factual material that peppered the unpublished manuscript. They provide further context for Innis's arguments by adding annotations, references, and pertinent citations to his other writings. The end result is both a testament to Innis's status as a canonical figure in the study of communication and a surprisingly relevant contribution to how we might think about the current sea change in all aspects of social, cultural, political, and economic life stemming from the global shift to digital communication.

Art Information and the Internet Lois Swan Jones, 2013-12-16 In the first book of its kind, art information expert Lois Swan Jones discusses how to locate visual and textual information on the Internet and how to evaluate and supplement that information with material from other formats: print sources, CD-ROMs, documentary videos, and microfiche sets to produce excellent research results. The book is divided into three sections: Basic Information, Formats, Types of Websites, and How to Find Them, and How to Use Web Information. Jones discusses the strengths and limitations of Websites; scholarly and basic information resources are noted, and search strategies for finding pertinent Websites are included. Art Information and the Internet also discusses research methodology for studying art, historical styles, artists working in various media, individual works of art, and non-Western cultures, as well as art education, writing about art, problems of copyright, and issues concerning the buying and selling of art. This title will be periodically updated.

Illustrated Religious Texts in the North of Europe, 1500-1800 Feike Dietz, Adam Morton, Lien Roggen, 2016-12-05 In recent years many historians have argued that the Reformation did not, as previously thought, hamper the development of Northern European visual culture but rather gave new impetus to the production, diffusion, and reception of visual materials in both Catholic and Protestant milieus. This book investigates the crosscurrents of exchange in the realm of illustrated religious literature within and beyond confessional and national borders and against the background of recent insights into the importance of, on the one hand, material as well as, on the other hand, sensual and emotional aspects of early modern culture Each chapter in the volume helps illuminate early modern religious culture from the perspective of the production of illustrated religious texts to see the book as object a point at which various vectors of early modern society met Case studies together with theoretical contributions shed light on the ways in which illustrated religious books functioned in evolving societies by analysing the use re use and sharing of illustrated religious texts in England France the Low Countries the German States and Switzerland Interpretations based on points of material interaction show us how the most basic binaries of the early modern world Catholic and Protestant word and image public and private were disrupted and negotiated in the realm of the illustrated religious book Through this approach the volume expands the historical appreciation of the place of imagery in post Reformation Europe

Illustrated Religious Texts in the North of Europe, 1500-1800 Prof Dr Els Stronks, Dr Adam Morton, Asst Prof Feike Dietz, Professor Marc Van Vaecck, Ms Lien Roggen, 2014-07-28 Illustrated Religious Texts in the North of Europe 1500 1800 provides a new perspective on the role of visual imagery in the Reformation period by focusing on international forms of collaboration and makes a significant contribution to ongoing debates concerning the history of the book by focusing on the ideological as well as practical side of international contacts

Nineteenth Century and After, 1897 Media and Print Culture Consumption in Nineteenth-Century Britain Paul Raphael Rooney, Anna Gasperini, 2016-10-27 This book explores Victorian readers consumption of a wide array of reading matter Established scholars and emerging researchers examine nineteenth century audience encounters with print culture material such as periodicals books in series cheap serials and broadside ballads Two key strands of enquiry run through the volume First these studies of historical readership during the Victorian period look to recover the motivations or desired returns that underpinned these audiences engagement with this reading matter Second contributors investigate how nineteenth century reading and consumption of print was framed and or shaped by contemporaneous engagement with content disseminated in other media like advertising the stage exhibitions and oral culture

Bibliography and Modern Book Production Percy Freer, 2024-08-01 Bibliography and Modern Book Production is a fascinating historic journey through the fields of print history librarianship and publishing It covers key developments from 1494 to 1949 in bibliography and book production from the history of scripts and paper manufacture to the origins of typefaces and printing Although not a textbook the book was a guide for library students in the 1950s on the essential literature of librarianship As the first librarian appointed to Wits University in 1929 Percy Freer s near encyclopaedic knowledge of the subject of bibliography enabled him to develop a key resource for relevant library examinations in South Africa and abroad Due to its immense value as a historic record and to acknowledge Freer s contributions as scholar librarian and publisher it is being reissued as part of the Wits University Press Re Presents series to make it accessible to scholars in book histories publishing studies and information science

The New Cambridge History of the Bible: Volume 2, From 600 to 1450 Richard Marsden, E. Ann Matter, 2012-04-26 This volume examines the development and use of the Bible from late Antiquity to the Reformation tracing both its geographical and its intellectual journeys from its homelands throughout the Middle East and Mediterranean and into northern Europe Richard Marsden and E Ann Matter's volume provides a balanced treatment of eastern and western biblical traditions highlighting processes of transmission and modes of exegesis among Roman and Orthodox Christians Jews and Muslims and illuminating the role of the Bible in medieval inter religious dialogue Translations into Ethiopic Slavic Armenian and Georgian vernaculars as well as Romance and Germanic are treated in detail along with the theme of allegorized spirituality and established forms of glossing The chapters take the study of Bible history beyond the cloisters of medieval monasteries and ecclesiastical schools to consider the influence of biblical texts on vernacular poetry prose drama law and the visual arts of East and West Drawing ,1995
