Crisis and Change in the British and Dutch Prison Services Sandra L. Resodihardjo, 2016-12-05 What happens when incidents result in a policy sector losing its legitimacy When a malfunctioning policy sector receives so much negative public attention that it has to fight for its survival This study describes three such cases in detail within the British and Dutch Prison Services examining the incidents the negative response of the media and Members of Parliament to these incidents and the way in which policy makers tried to deal with the crises This book establishes under which conditions such crises led to reform

Prison Profiteers Tara Herivel, Paul Wright, 2011-05-10 No country in history has ever handed over so many inmates to private corporations This book looks at the consequences Eric Schlosser bestselling author of Fast Food Nation In Prison Profiteers coeditors Tara Herivel and Paul Wright follow the money to an astonishing constellation of prison administrators and politicians working in collusion with private parties to maximize profits Publishers Weekly From investment banks guard unions and the makers of Taser stun guns to health care providers telephone companies and the US military which relies heavily on prison labor this network of perversely motivated interests has turned the imprisonment of 1 out of every 135 Americans into a lucrative business Called an essential read for anyone who wants to understand what's gone wrong with criminal justice in the United States by ACLU National Prison Project director Elizabeth Alexander this incisive and deftly researched volume shows how billions of tax dollars designated for the public good end up lining the pockets of those private enterprises dedicated to keeping prisons packed An important analysis of a troubling social trend that is sure to inform and outrage any concerned citizen Prison Profiteers reframes the conversation by exposing those who stand to profit from the imprisonment of millions of Americans Booklist Indispensable An easy and accessible read and a necessary one The San Diego Union Tribune This is lucid eye opening reading for anyone interested in American justice Publishers Weekly Impressive A thoughtful comprehensive and accessible analysis of the money trail behind the prison industrial complex The Black Commentator

The Procurement of Goods and Services by HM Prison Service Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Public Accounts Committee, 2009 In this report the Committee of Public Accounts revisits the Prison Service's procurement system five years after publishing a critical report on it 41st report session 2002 03 HC 676 ISBN 9780215012647 The Committee notes that the Service has responded positively and decisively It has implemented a new strategy and introduced a centralised professional procurement team supported by five regional procurement teams and a new information technology system As a direct result of implementing the Committee's recommendations the Service has generated cash savings of 120 million to 2007 08 Whenever problems have been encountered the Service has addressed them promptly including difficulties in phasing in its new computer system Compliance with laid down procedures is being tightened to ensure that all areas of the Service utilise the procurement system as effectively and efficiently as possible The Ministry of Justice announced in October 2008 that it is to centralise procurement across the Ministry into a single function which would include the Prison Service With a potential budget of 2.5 billion the new procurement function offers the opportunity to secure substantial savings

Prison Media Anne Kaun, Fredrik Stiernstedt, 2023-05-09 How prisoners serve as media laborers while the prison serves as a testing ground for new media technologies Prisons are not typically known for cutting edge media technologies Yet from photography in the nineteenth century to AI enhanced tracking cameras today there is a long history of prisons being used as a testing ground for technologies that are later adopted by the general public If we recognize the prison as a central site for the development of media technologies how might that change our understanding of both media systems and carceral systems Prison Media foregrounds the ways in which the prison is a model space for the control and transmission of information a place where media is produced and a medium in its own right Examining the relationship between media and prison architecture as surveillance and communication technologies are literally built into the facilities this study also considers the ways in which prisoners themselves often do hard labor as media workers labor that contributes in direct and indirect ways to the latest technologies developed and sold by multinational corporations like Amazon There is a fine line between ankle monitors and Fitbits and Prison Media helps us make sense of today's carceral society

Prisons and Community Corrections Philip Birch, Louise Sicard, 2020-08-09 This edited collection brings together leading international academics and researchers to provide a comprehensive body of literature that informs the future of prison and wider corrective services training education research policy and practice This volume addresses a range of 21st century issues faced by modern corrective services including prison overcrowding young and ageing offenders mental health sexual assault in corrective facilities trans communities in corrective services and radicalisation of offenders within corrective services Taking a multi disciplinary approach and drawing together theoretical and practice debates the book comprehensively considers current challenges and future trajectories for corrective systems the people within them and service delivery This volume will also be a welcomed resource for academics and researchers who have an interest in prisons corrective services practice and broader criminal justice issues It will also be of interest to those who want to join corrective services those who are currently training to become personnel in corrective services and related allied professions and those who are currently working in the field

Prison Architecture Leslie Fairweather, Sean McConville, 2013-05-13 Current and future prison designs are examined in this book within the government's prison building programme and the confines of current penal philosophies and legislation America has led the way in prison design with two main types of architecture predominating radial layouts outside cells with windows and linear blocks inside cells with grilles Now new generation prisons central association surrounded by small groups of cells look set to become the fashion But are they a better answer and should they be copied worldwide before we know Architects and administrators show in this book the designs of these new generation prisons and assess their impact Most countries in central Europe also have a rising crime rate and a demand for new prisons Contributions from significant architects from the UK Europe and America comment on these issues Other topics within the book are setting current prison architecture and design against an historical setting looking at penal ideas and prison architecture and design in the post war period the psychological effects of the prison environment the influence of technology and design on security management and how prison architecture and design can be more flexible and innovative

Prison Privatization Byron Eugene Price, John Charles Morris, 2012-09-20 This book examines the current state of both the theory and practice of prison privatization in the United States in the 21st century providing a balanced compendium of research that allows readers to draw their own conclusions about this controversial subject This three volume set brings together noted scholars and experts in the field to provide a comprehensive treatment of the subject of privatized prisons in the United States It is a definitive work on the topic that synthesizes current thought on both the theory and practice of prison privatization Volume I provides a broad brush overview of private prisons that discusses the history of prison privatization and examines the expansion of the private prison industry and the growth of inmate populations in the United States Volume II focuses on the corrections industry itself providing essays that explore the business models profit motivations economic factors and operations of the corporations that offer corrections services while Volume III explores the political and social environment of prison privatization Academics practitioners policy makers and advocates for and against private prisons will find this work useful and enlightening while general readers can use the unbiased information to draw their own conclusions in respect to the merits of prison privatization

The Procurement of Goods and Services by H. M. Prison Service Great Britain. National Audit Office, 2008 Since a critical 2003 National Audit Office report HC 562 session 2002 03 ISBN 9780102921250 the Prison Service has implemented a new procurement strategy led by a new centralised professional procurement team backed up by regional purchasing units which negotiate central contracts for a range of goods and services At the same time the Prison Service has introduced a shared service centre to provide administrative functions including purchasing for prisons The implementation of these two reforms has enabled the Prison Service to make significant savings in both purchasing and administrative costs As a result of the changes prisons now receive more consistent supplies of goods and services often at much lower prices than before The progress made by the Prison Service has been recognised by the Chartered Institute of Purchasing and Supply with two awards for excellence in 2006 and 2007 The Prison Service is still capable of making further savings In the near term it should concentrate its efforts on bringing more expenditure under the remit of its nationally negotiated contracts and help to improve compliance by prisons with the new arrangements by further communicating the benefits of its national procurement approach

Health and Well-Being in Prison Design Alberto Urrutia-Moldes, 2022-05-07 This book establishes a new framework for prison design to promote the health and well being of all prison users Based on international research in Norway Finland the USA and Chile and drawing on the expertise of key international advisors this book uniquely reveals the perspectives of both designers and prison authorities concerning well being in prison architecture It is the first book to compare perspectives between prison models while providing essential guidance for the design of prison environments to promote the rehabilitation of inmates and their desistance from crime. The promotion of health and well-being of people in prison is vital to enable rehabilitation. Traditional prison architecture severely weakens both rehabilitation efforts and opportunities for desistance. Only a handful of prison systems in the world have shown significant changes in their prison designs. Underpinned by Critical Realism and the PERMA theory of well-being, this book reveals significant new insights to inform prison design. The author presents international case study research with interviews with prison authorities and designers from four countries and the three different prison models as well as key international United Nations advisors. For the first time, the visions of prison designers are contrasted with those of prison authorities, bringing a new synthesised understanding of the differences and similarities in their approach to the health and well-being of both inmates and staff, from which to generate a new framework for design considerations. This book illuminates new directions for prison design and is essential reading for policymakers, academics, and students involved in the study and development of criminology, corrections, and penology. It is also an indispensable source of up-to-date knowledge for prison authorities, public health officials, architects, and designers involved in the design of prisons and any other type of coercive detention facilities.

The Evolving Protection of Prisoners' Rights in Europe Gaëtan Cliquénnois, 2022-12-30. The Evolving Protection of Prisoners' Rights in Europe explores the development of the framing of penal and prison policies by the European Court of Human Rights (ECHR), clarifying the European expectations of national authorities and describing the various models existing in Europe with a view to analysing their mechanisms and highlighting those that seem the most suitable. A new frame of penal and prison policies in Europe has been progressively established by the ECHR and the Council of Europe (CoE) to protect the rights of detainees in Europe. European countries have reacted very diversely to these policies. This book has several key benefits for readers: A global and detailed overview of the ECHR jurisprudence on penal and prison policies through an analysis of its development over time; An analysis of the interactions between the Strasbourg Court and the CoE bodies (Committee of Ministers, Committee for the Prevention of Torture) and their reinforced framing of domestic penal and prison policies; A detailed examination of the impacts of the European case law on penal and prison policies within ten nation states in Europe, including Romania, which is currently very underresearched; A robust engagement with the diverse national reactions to this European case law as a policy strategy. This book will be of great interest to scholars and students of Law, Criminal Justice, Criminology, and Sociology. It will also appeal to civil servants, judges, lawyers, etc., professionals and policymakers working for the CoE, the European Union, and the United Nations Ministries of Justice, prison departments, and human rights institutions, as well as activists working for INGOs and NGOs.

Handbook on Prisons Yvonne Jewkes, 2012-08-21. This is the most comprehensive and ambitious book on prisons to have been published a key text for anybody studying the subject and an essential work of reference for practitioners working in prisons and other parts of the criminal justice system It is especially timely in view of the many changes and debates about the role of prisons and their future organisation and management as part of the National Offender Management Service A key aim of the book is to explore a wide range of historical and contemporary issues relating to prisons imprisonment and prison management and to chart likely future trends Chapters in the book are written by leading scholars in the field and reflect the range and depth of prison research and scholarship Like the Handbook of Policing and Handbook of Crime Prevention and Community Safety the Handbook on Prisons will be the essential book on the subject      Building the

Prison State Heather Schoenfeld,2024-05-31 The United States incarcerates more people per capita than any other industrialized nation in the world about 1 in 100 adults or more than 2 million people while national spending on prisons has catapulted 400 percent Given the vast racial disparities in incarceration the prison system also reinforces race and class divisions How and why did we become the world s leading jailer And what can we as a society do about it Reframing the story of mass incarceration Heather Schoenfeld illustrates how the unfinished task of full equality for African Americans led to a series of policy choices that expanded the government s power to punish even as they were designed to protect individuals from arbitrary state violence Examining civil rights protests prison condition lawsuits sentencing reforms the War on Drugs and the rise of conservative Tea Party politics Schoenfeld explains why politicians veered from skepticism of prisons to an embrace of incarceration as the appropriate response to crime To reduce the number of people behind bars Schoenfeld argues that we must transform the political incentives for imprisonment and develop a new ideological basis for punishment

The Routledge Handbook on Global Community Corrections Ioan Durnescu,James M. Byrne,Benjamin J. Mackey,Faye S. Taxman,2024-06-25 The Routledge Handbook on Global Community Corrections assesses and analyzes the status of community corrections systems around the world highlighting inter regional and intra regional variations in their design implementation and impact on policy and practice Covering both probation and parole this handbook brings together leading international experts to examine the myriad of systems developed under the broad heading of community corrections to manage community corrections populations at the pre adjudication adjudication and post release stages Chapters are designed to consider the following questions How many offenders are placed in community corrections systems around the globe What are the key design features of these community corrections systems What do we know about the effectiveness of community corrections within and across global regions This is an essential reference text for all those engaged with community corrections probation and post release policy in criminal justice      Medical Care of Prisoners and Detainees G. ### The Partnership Model in Human Services Rosalyn

Benjamin Darling, 2005-12-11 This book provides students and practitioners with a theoretical and methodological foundation for implementing client and family centered partnership approaches in human services Unlike other texts in the field the author integrates the principles and practices of sociology with applied work in the helping professions and shows how key sociological concepts can be used to explain the nature of clients perspectives and expand client opportunities Innovation Across Central Government Great Britain. National Audit Office, 2009 Government faces increasing pressure to do more with fewer financial resources and with challenges such as climate change and an ageing population will require innovation in public services Departments have started to implement some of the recommendations of the National Audit Office's 2006 report on innovation HC 1447 I session 2005 06 ISBN 9780102942330 but are still not maximising the opportunities to innovate The majority of cases of innovation originate with senior management within departments There is potential to encourage more innovation from front line staff and service users At the front line public servants can be reluctant to put forward ideas where they do not appreciate how innovation relates to the goals of the organisation and can resist change they feel is forced upon them Other barriers include risk averse attitudes within departments and a concentration on targets budgets and high profile national initiatives Departments should develop strategies for encouraging and developing innovation It is not possible to identify exactly how much central government spends on developing innovation but estimates by the NAO suggest that departments have allocated at least 3 billion in the form of innovation budgets and the Department for Innovation Universities and Skills announced a further 2.5 billion to be spent encouraging and supporting innovation from 2008 9 to 2010 11 There are no measures in place to assess the impact of this expenditure Government should make use of the survey work done by the NAO for this report and develop it further to determine how effective this expenditure is
