Prisoner of the Rising Sun William Aylor Berry, James Edwin Alexander, 1993 A World War II veteran relates his experiences in a Japanese POW camp

Prisoner of the Rising Sun John M. Beebe, 2006 On May 6 Japanese troops assaulted Corregidor and secured the island in less than twelve hours Beebe was among those captured and held prisoner until the end of the war in the Pacific more than four years later

Prisoner of the Rising Sun Stanley Wort, 2009-09-19 A memoir of serving in prewar Hong Kong being held prisoner by the Japanese and surviving slave labor This is the story of a young man thrust into the Royal Navy in distant Hong Kong With both drama and humor he relates some of the situations in which he found himself and provides a realistic account of what life was like for servicemen in prewar Hong Kong Prisoner of the Rising Sun describes the prelude to war from his point of view and his part in the Battle for Hong Kong There follows the story of what happened to him when taken prisoner and life and death in prison camps in Hong Kong and Japan It tells what it was like to be shipped to Japan in the hold of Japanese merchant men in constant fear of being torpedoed In Japan he and his fellow prisoners were used as slave labor Treatment was harsh and brutal and although many of them died the Japanese never broke the spirit of the survivors The author explains how it felt to be a prisoner working in a Japanese factory when a major earthquake struck He also relates what it was like to be on the receiving end of a B29 fire raid and what the Japanese did to downed American airmen In August 1945 he saw the Japanese bow before loudspeakers and although he did not realize it then he heard the Japanese Emperor announce the surrender of Japan He also includes a heartfelt tribute to the efficiency and kindness of the American forces that got him out and on his way home

Foo, a Japanese-American Prisoner of the Rising Sun Frank Fujita, 1993 During his time as a POW Frank Foo Fujita kept a diary of daily happenings embellished with drawings of life in the camp He secreted the diary in the walls of his barracks as the practice was forbidden That diary forms the basis of these memoirs Fujita's memoirs are also unique in that he was one of the fewer than nine hundred Americans taken prisoner on the island of Java The bulk of American POWs in Japanese hands surrendered in the Philippines and most of the published POW memoirs reflect their experience Fujita's account of the defense of Java and of the fate of the Lost Battalion of Texas artillerymen serves to distinguish this memoir from others At one point while a POW in Japan Fujita was forced to be part of the Japanese radio group broadcasting propaganda After the war he testified at some of the war crime trials in San Francisco and the diary on which this book is based was used as evidence in those trials

Angels of the Underground Theresa Kaminski, 2016 Angels of the Underground makes a significant contribution to the work on women's wartime experiences Through the lens of Utinsky and Phillips who never wavered in their belief that it was their duty as patriotic American women to aid the Allied cause Kaminski highlights how women have always been active participants in war whether or not they wear a military uniform An impressive work of scholarship grounded in archival research and personal interviews this is also a stunning story of courage and heroism in wartime

Death on the Hellships Gregory F

Michno,2016-07-15 Now available in paperback Death on the Hellships chronicles the true dimensions of the Allied POW experience at sea It is a disturbing story many believe the Bataan Death March even pales by comparison Survivors describe their ordeal in the Japanese hellships as the absolute worst experience of their captivity Crammed by the thousands into the holds of the ships moved from island to island and put to work they endured all the horrors of the prison camps magnified tenfold Gregory Michno draws on American British Australian and Dutch POW accounts as well as Japanese convoy histories declassified radio intelligence reports and a wealth of archival sources to present a detailed picture of the horror Bataan Survivor David L. Hardee,2017-12-01 A forgotten account written in the immediate aftermath of World War II which vividly portrays the valor sacrifice suffering and liberation of the defenders of Bataan and Corregidor through the eyes of one survivor The personal memoir of Colonel David L Hardee first drafted at sea from April May 1945 following his liberation from Japanese captivity is a thorough treatment of his time in the Philippines A career infantry officer Hardee fought during the Battle of Bataan as executive officer of the Provisional Air Corps Regiment Captured in April 1942 after the American surrender on Bataan Hardee survived the Bataan Death March and proceeded to endure a series of squalid prison camps A debilitating hernia left Hardee too ill to travel to Japan in 1944 making him one of the few lieutenant colonels to remain in the Philippines and subsequently survive the war As a primary account written almost immediately after his liberation Hardee s memoir is fresh vivid and devoid of decades of faded memories or contemporary influences associated with memoirs written years after an experience This once forgotten memoir has been carefully edited illustrated and annotated to unlock the true depths of Hardee s experience as a soldier prisoner and liberated survivor of the Pacific War American POW Memoirs from the Revolutionary War through the Vietnam War Jon Alexander,2007-02-01 Fourteen student papers from an undergraduate seminar examine American POW memoirs from the Revolutionary War through the Vietnam War The focus of the student authors is on how American POWs have constructed narratives of their internments The papers examine various styles of narration characterization and plot construction and how the POW memoirs are framed with introductions quotations maps and illustrations Overall these papers suggest that the contexts in which authors write POW memoirs may influence the character of the memoirs they write as much as the attributes of their POW experiences American POW Memoirs is a unique collection of papers This publication provides an example of how an undergraduate seminar might move from training students in scholarly practice to providing students a first experience as scholarly practitioners Historical Dictionary of World War II Anne Sharp Wells,2023-12-15 World War II was the largest and most costly conflict in history the first true global war Fought on land on sea and in the air it involved numerous countries and killed maimed or displaced millions of people both civilian and military around the world In spite of the alliances that bound many of the same participants the war was essentially two separate but simultaneous conflicts one involved Japan as the major antagonist and took place mostly in Asia and the Pacific and the other initiated by Germany and Italy was contested mainly in Europe North Africa the Mediterranean and the Atlantic This book focuses on the lesser known war the war with Japan It begins with Japan's seizure of Manchuria from China in 1931 and covers Japan's ambitious attacks on Pearl Harbor and other territories ten years later the use of atomic bombs on Japan's cities and the end of the Allied occupation of Japan in 1952 Although Japan renounced war in its 1947 constitution conflict continued across Asia as former colonies fought for independence and civil war engulfed other areas Historical Dictionary of World War II The War Against Japan Second Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 500 cross referenced entries on the military diplomatic political social economic and scientific aspects of the war in addition to the lives of the people who participated in and directed the war This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the war against Japan during World War II Prisoners of the Home Front Martin F. Auger, 2011-11-01 In the middle of the most destructive conflict in human history almost 40 000 Germans civilians and prisoners of war were detained in internment and work camps across Canada Five internment camps were located on the southern shores of the St Lawrence River in the province of Quebec at Farnham Grande Ligne le aux Noix Sherbrooke and Sorel Prisoners of the Home Front details the organization and day to day affairs of these internment camps and reveals the experience of their inmates Martin Auger shows how internment imposed psychological and physical strain in the form of restricted mobility sexual deprivation social alienation and lack of physical comfort In response Canadian authorities introduced labour projects and education programs to uphold morale thwart internal turmoil and prevent escapes These initiatives were also intended to expose prisoners to the values of a democratic society and prepare them for postwar reintegration Auger concludes that Canada abided by the Geneva Convention its treatment of German prisoners was humane Prisoners of the Home Front sheds light on life behind barbed wire filling an important void in our knowledge of the Canadian home front during the Second World War The Prisoner Hwang Sok-yong, 2021-08-03 A sweeping account of imprisonment in time in language and in a divided country from Korea's most acclaimed novelist In 1993 writer and democracy activist Hwang Sok yong was sentenced to five years in the Seoul Detention Center upon his return to South Korea from North Korea the country he had fled with his family as a child at the start of the Korean War Already a dissident writer well known for his part in the democracy movement of the 1980s Hwang's imprisonment forced him to consider the many prisons to which he was subject of thought of writing of Cold War nations of the heart In this capacious memoir Hwang moves between his imprisonment and his life as a boy in Pyongyang as a young activist protesting South Korea's military dictatorships as a soldier in the Vietnam War as a dissident writer first traveling abroad and in so doing narrates the dramatic revolutions and transformations of one life and of Korean society during the twentieth century A Prisoner's Welcome Shane Moore, 2006-12 The people of Beykla are attacked by dwarves dwarfs frozen by a giant white dragon and paralyzed by magical rings In a story that weaves fantasy with revelations about love loss and freedom young Lance learns to cope with and heal from the travesties and triumphs he miscellaneous character of its eighteenth century forebear although poems continued to be included until 1862 and a small number of official papers and other important texts continue to be reproduced to this day Includes a long historical essay on the History of the Present War the Seven Years War 1756 63 In his preface to the 1758 volume Burke noted the difficulties he had faced in writing the history section of the book Taking the broken and unconnected materials and creating from them one connected narrative had been he commented a work of more labour than may at first appear The 1758 volume is considered a unique contemporaneous account of the Seven Years War analyzing its origins and development with a perspective not readily available at the time in newspapers or magazines The Annual Register ,1835 Annual Register Edmund Burke,1835 Annual Register of World Events ,1835 The Annual Register, Or, A View of the History, Politics, and Literature for the Year ... ,1835 Prisoners in Paradise Theresa Kaminski,2000 Draws on letters diaries of American wives missionaries teachers nurses and spies to uncover their heroic tales while captives of the Japanese during World War II
