Prisoners Of The East:

Prisoners of the East Allana Corbin, 2002 Author's account of the lives of her great grandmother great aunt and grandparents who were caught up in the Japanese invasion of Hong Kong in late 1941 Relates how along with hundreds of other civilians they were imprisoned by the Japanese in the Stanley Civilian Internment Camp Records the privations endured and the family's journey to Australia after they were liberated in 1945 Includes photos and bibliography Author is a commercial helicopter pilot and motivational speaker who previously wrote The Best I Can Be Millard's Review of the Far East, 1918 Vol 37 includes Special number on extraterritoriality issued June 19 1926 Great Britain and the East, 1915 The School, 1917 History of Prisoner of War Utilization by the United States Army, 1776-1945 George Glover Lewis, John Mewha, 1955 This study is primarily a treatment of the use of prisoner of war labor by the United States Army It also provides a comprehensive treatment of the employment of prisoners of war by private employers in the United States The primary objective of this monograph is to provide in one volume a comprehensive record of the use of prisoner of war labor for the guidance of General Staff officers and students in the Army school system It is hoped that this study will assist the industrial and military mobilization planners of the future in planning for the use of prisoner of war labor The material will also aid those interested in military affairs to understand some of the basic problems connected with the employment of prisoners of war Foreword Surviving the Sword Brian MacArthur, 2005 During World War II there were few fates that could befall a soldier so hellish as internment in a Japanese prisoner of war camp To this day many survivors most of whom are in their eighties still cannot talk about their experiences without unearthing terrible memories Surviving the Sword gives voice to these tens of thousands of Allied POWs and offers us a powerful reminder of the terror and deprivations of war and the resilience of the human spirit In this important book Brian MacArthur draws on the diaries of American British Dutch and Australian Fepows Far Eastern prisoners of war some of whose recollections are published here for the first time These soldiers wrote and kept their diaries in secret because they were determined that to record for posterity how they were starved and beaten marched almost to death or transported on hellships how their fellows were summarily executed by guards or felled by the thousands by tropical diseases and how they were used as slave labor most notoriously on the Burma Thailand railway as depicted in The Bridge on the River Kwai The diaries excerpted in this book make plain why the Fepows believed that their brutal treatment by Japanese and Korean guards was literally incomprehensible to those who did not live it The prisoners whose stories appear here risked torture and execution to keep diaries and make sketches and drawings that they hid from the guards wherever they could sometimes burying them in the graves of lost comrades The survivors' narratives reveal not just a litany of horrors but are a moving testament to the nobler instincts of humanity as well detailing how the POWs prevailed over horrible conditions even finding or creating a precious few creature comforts and sustaining the rudiments of culture learning and play Forced into solidarity by inhuman conditions the soldiers showed incredible compassion for one another improvising ingenious ways to care for the sick boost morale by subtly mocking their jailers authority or even turn meager rations into the occasional feast Countless thousands died in Japanese prison camps during World War II Those fortunate enough to emerge from their ordeal were never the same again Surviving the Swordat last fills a notable historical gap in our understanding while also commemorating and memorializing the Fepows struggle and sacrifice Prisons of Canon City Victoria R. Newman, Museum of Colorado Prisons, 2008 Ca on City sits in a geological bowl surrounded by the Rocky Mountains and the Sangre de Cristo mountain range Historically it has been known as the prison capital of the world with eight soon to be nine state prisons in the area and four federal facilities located 11 miles away in Florence The first prison in Ca on City was built in 1868 before Colorado became a state and was opened in 1871 Originally known as the Colorado Territorial Penitentiary it is currently called the Colorado Territorial Correctional Facility and holds approximately 800 male inmates Ca on City has grown up around the prisons and the area s colorful history is defined by daring prison breaks infamous inmates such as the Colorado cannibal Alferd Packard and by the stories of the inmates and employees who have been part of the prison system Reform and Human Rights in Eastern Europe ,1989 ,
