Private Eyelashes Radios Lady Detectives Paperback:

Private Eyelashes Jack French, 2004 The book examines radio and mystery drama from about 1932 to the genre's final appearance in the late 1950s. While its focus is on women detectives, French provides minute and fascinating details about dozens of mystery programs and includes a comprehensive listing of source material ranging from magazine articles to dime detective novels to film noir. Each lady detective appearing under one of eight cleverly conceived categories gets handsome multi-page treatment. The author traces the chronological appearance of the subjects, shows, examines the programs' history and origins and details with substantial documentation the manner of the shows' presentation and production. He intersperses the text with actual dialogue taken directly from the program scripts. Thrillers, Chillers, and Killers Frank Krutnik, 2005-05-13 Film noir is one of the most exciting and most debated products of studio era Hollywood, but did you know that American radio broadcast many programs in the noir vein through the 1940s and 1950s? These included adaptations of such well-known films as The Maltese Falcon, Murder My Sweet, and Double Indemnity, detective series devoted to the adventures of private eyes Philip Marlowe and Sam Spade, and the spine-tingling anthology programs Lights Out and Suspense. Thrillers, Chillers, and Killers is the first book to explore in detail noir storytelling on the two media, arguing that radio's noir dramas played an important role as a counterpart to, influence on, or a spin-off from the noir films. Besides shedding new light on long-neglected radio dramas and a medium that was cinema's major rival, this scrupulously researched yet accessible study also uses these programs to challenge conventional understandings of the much-debated topic of noir.

Radio Rides the Range Jack French, David S. Siegel, 2013-11-14 This is a comprehensive encyclopedia to the more than 100 radio programs portraying the American West in fact and fiction heard by generations of listeners from the Great Depression through the Cold War era. The book includes both the popular and lesser-known series as well as would-be offerings that never made it past the audition stage. Each entry describes the series, the extent to which it was based on actual facts, the audience it was written for, and its broadcast history. The descriptions also examine how the programs reflected society's changing social and cultural attitudes towards racial and ethnic minorities and the role of women. The availability of surviving audio copies and original scripts is noted. An extensive bibliography and several appendices provide additional sources of information about Western programming during the Golden Age of Radio. Talking Book Topics, 2006-05 Cassette Books Library of Congress. History in Blue Allan T. Duffin, 2010-02-02 This colorful history of women in American law enforcement brims with stranger-than-fiction episodes and unforgettable characters whose complete stories have never been told until now. Whether ferreting out cross-dressed German spies in New York City during World War I, breaking up forced prostitution rings in San Francisco, or exposing international drug cartels in Indianapolis, the uniformed women featured in this book fought a brave double battle for equality and an end to crime. Historian Allan Duffin offers an exhilarating celebration of ordinary women.
