Fiscal Policy Alan J. Auerbach, 1997 The eight chapters in this volume fall into three subject areas government budget management and control federal entitlement programs and attempts to influence private sector behavior through tax code management Policymakers are often hard pressed to understand what economists have to say on policy issues and scholars and students need to know what the latest research findings are and what questions remain unanswered Fiscal Policy Lessons from Economic Research presents the work of leading contributors to the public finance literature The papers were originally presented at a 1996 conference sponsored by the Robert D Burch Center for Tax Policy and Public Finance at the University of California Berkeley Although the papers are broad in scope they are not intended to be neutral comprehensive surveys of the literature Instead authors were encouraged to focus on the issues they thought most important or interesting The conference confirmed that on some questions there is a broad consensus and on others there is strong disagreement Because perspectives differ after each paper two discussants offer their own views on the subject More so than in many conference volumes these comments are an integral part of each presentation The eight chapters fall into three subject areas government budget management and control federal entitlement programs and attempts to influence private sector behavior through tax code management Contributors Henry J Aaron B Douglas Bernheim David M Cutler Nada Eissa Jeffrey Frankel William G Gale Roger H Gordon Edward M Gramlich Bronwyn H Hall Kevin A Hassett James R Hines Jr Hilary Williamson Hoynes R Glenn Hubbard Robert P Inman Laurence J Kotlikoff Robert A Moffitt Joseph P Newhouse James M Poterba John M Quigley Robert D Reischauer David Romer Daniel L Rubinfeld John B Shoven Jonathan S Skinner Joel Slemrod John B Taylor centered policies in Asia change when should policy changes occur and how should such change happen gradually or abruptly Experts in agricultural policy use case studies from South Asia Bangladesh India and Pakistan and East Asia Indonesia the Philippines and Vietnam to answer these questions and a concluding chapter synthesizes these countries experiences with price stabilization programs In light of the evidence which indicates that parastatals played important roles in the past but have become overly expensive and that reduced intervention can promote competition help develop alternative institutions and release funds for development and antipoverty programs without jeopardizing price stability the editors highlight the challenges ahead and propose suggestions for reforming the existing paradigm for price related policies This volume provides valuable analyses for anyone concerned with balancing government intervention with market friendly policies
