Private Letters of Edward Gibbon Edward Gibbon, Rowland E. Prothero, 2021-03-05      PRIVATE LETTERS OF EDWARD GIBBON, 1896      Private Letters of Edward Gibbon (1753-1794), Vol. 1 (Classic Reprint)

Edward Gibbon, 2015-07-07 Excerpt from Private Letters of Edward Gibbon 1753 1794 Vol 1 The centenary of the death of Edward Gibbon died January 1794 aged fifty six was recorded by a public commemoration held in London in November 1894 at the instance of the Royal Historical Society. The distinguished committee of English and foreign students who were associated on that occasion invited me to become their President as representing the family with which Gibbon had been so intimately connected and which still retained the portraits, manuscripts, letters and relics of the historian. The exhibition of these in the British Museum and the commemoration held on November 15 reawakened interest in the work and remains of one of the greatest names in English literature and a general desire was expressed that the manuscripts should be again collated and that what was yet unpublished might be given to the world. As is well known it was my grandfather the first Earl who made the historian almost his adopted brother; gave him a home both in town and in country; was his devisee and literary executor and edited and published the famous Autobiography, the letters and remains. All of these passed under Edward Gibbon's will to Lord Sheffield and together with books, relics, portraits and various mementos they have been for a century preserved by my father and myself with religious care and veneration in Sheffield Park. The original autograph manuscripts of the Memoirs, the Diaries, Letters, Note books, etc. have now become the property of the British Museum, subject to the copyright of all the unpublished parts which was previously assigned to Mr Murray.
