NONEX NONE Keeping Up Appearances Catherine Horwood, 2011-06-01 The British have always been concerned about accent appearance and class but at no time during the twentieth century was keeping up appearances more important than during the 1920s and 1930s From the impecunious youth anxious to create a favourable impression at the local tennis club dance to female office workers advised by the Daily Mail that women in business kept their position partly if not chiefly by appearance we peer into the intimate lives and anxieties of the middle classes as they dressed to impress Choices were influenced as much by the advent of mass production economic stringency snobbery and the influence of America as by personal aesthetics Seemingly insignificant items such as ties braces gloves and hats could convey a lack of breeding if worn incorrectly This engagingly written and illustrated book explores the social mores behind one of society's most popular activities and reveals not only how we dressed but why

Interwar Gavin Stamp, 2024-03-07 A FINANCIAL TIMES BOOK OF THE YEAR 2024 A Country Life Architecture Book to Read in 2025

Elegant erudite and entertaining a superbly detailed picture of an architectural era The Times A magnificent monument in itself to a fine architectural writer Simon Heffer Telegraph British architecture between the wars is most famous for the rise of modernism the flat roofs clean lines and concrete of the Isokon flats in Hampstead and the Penguin Pool at London Zoo but the reality was far more diverse As the modernists came of age and the traditionalists began to decline there arose a rich variety of styles and tastes in Britain and across the empire a variety that reflected the restless zeitgeist of the years before the Second World War At the time of his death in 2017 Gavin Stamp one of Britain's leading architectural critics was at work on a deeply considered account of British architecture in the interwar period correcting what he saw as the skewed view of earlier historians who were unable to see past modernism Beginning with a survey of the modern movement after the armistice Interwar untangles the threads that link lesser known movements like the Egyptian revival with the enduring popularity of the Tudorbethan to chronicle one of Britain's most dynamic architectural periods The result is more than an architectural history it is the portrait of a changing nation As an account of the period that still shapes much of Britain's towns and cities Gavin Stamp's final work is the definitive history of British architecture between the Great War and the Blitz

The Cumulative Book Index, 1998 A world list of books in the English language Women in the 1920s Pamela Horn, 1995 Drawing on family papers contemporary publications and archive research this book presents a vivid picture of women's lives in the 1920s Essential reading for students of women's history and social historians Up and Down Stairs Jeremy Musson, 2009-11-12 Country houses were reliant on an intricate hierarchy of servants each of whom provided an essential skill Up and Down Stairs brings to life this hierarchy and shows how large numbers of people lived together under strict segregation and how sometimes this segregation was broken as with the famous marriage of a squire to his dairymaid at Uppark Jeremy Musson captures the voices of the servants who ran these vast houses and made them work From unpublished memoirs to letters wages newspaper articles he pieces together their daily lives from the Middle Ages through to the twentieth century The story of domestic servants is inseparable from the story of the country house as an icon of power civilisation and luxury This is particularly true with the great estates such as Chatsworth Hatfield Burghley and Wilton Jeremy Musson looks at how these grand houses were for centuries admired and imitated around the world American Book Publishing Record, 1998 Proceedings of the ACSA Annual Meeting Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture, 1986 The American Country House Clive Aslet, 2004-01-01 This magnificent book describes the great country houses built with American industrial fortunes from the end of the Civil War until 1940 The American Country House draws on the rich and often amusing writings of contemporaries to evoke the lives the buildings served as well as architectural shapes they took 275 illustrations Subject Catalog, 1982 Library of Congress, 1982 Servants: A Downstairs History of Britain from the Nineteenth Century to Modern Times Lucy Lethbridge, 2013-11-18 A New York Times Book Review Editor's Choice Beautifully written sparkling with insight and a pleasure to read Servants is social history at its most humane and perceptive Paul Addison Times Literary Supplement From the immense staff running a lavish Edwardian estate to the lonely maid of all work cooking in a cramped middle class house domestics were an essential yet unobtrusive part of the British hierarchy for much of the past century required to tread softly and blend into the background Lucy Lethbridge's Servants gives them a voice in this discerning portrait of the complex relationship between the server the served and the world they lived in opening a window on British society from the Edwardian period to the present
