Film Composers in America is a landmark in the history of film Here renowned film scholar Clifford McCarty has attempted to identify every known composer who wrote background musical scores for films in the United States between 1911 and 1970 With information on roughly 20 000 films the book is an essential tool for serious students of film and a treasure trove for film fans It spans all types of American films from features shorts cartoons and documentaries to nontheatrical works avant garde films and even trailers Meticulously researched over 45 years the book documents the work of more than 1 500 composers from Robert Abramson to Josiah Zuro including the first to score an American film Walter C Simon It includes not only Hollywood professionals but also many composers of concert music as well as popular music and other genres whose cinematic work has never before been fully catalogued The book also features an index that lets readers quickly find the composer for any American film through 1970 To recover this history much of which was lost or never recorded McCarty corresponded with or interviewed hundreds of composers arrangers orchestrators musical directors and music librarians He also conducted extensive research in the archives of the seven largest film studios Columbia MGM Paramount RKO 20th Century Fox Universal and Warner Bros and wherever possible he based his findings on the most reliable evidence that of the manuscript scores and cue sheets as opposed to less accurate screen credits The result is the definitive guide to the composers and musical scores for the first 60 years of American film The Encyclopedia of Best Films Jay Robert Nash, 2019-10-23 This all inclusive A Z encyclopedia by one of the world's foremost experts on cinema provides comprehensive annotations of the best films produced from 1914 on The work offers more than 5 000 three to five star entries three stars good four stars excellent five stars masterpiece and yes author Jay Robert Nash has viewed every single one of them as well as many more that did not make the cut In addition to a precis each film's entry also includes a listing of the cast as well as the key principles involved in production from the director to the hair stylist Especially unique to this book is a rating system that helps parents determine whether or not a film is appropriate for their children Unlike the industry rating system which can be influenced by studio lobbying Nash objectively evaluates each film and confers upon it one of four recommendations for viewing recommended acceptable cautionary and unacceptable Backmatter includes a list of top films by genre i.e. animated drama sports mystery adventure etc as well as an annotated name index listing all persons mentioned along with their dates of birth and death Rounding out this essential volume for the film buff are over 500 still photos from the author's private collection Imagining Ancient Cities in Film Marta Garcia Morcillo, Pauline Hanesworth, Óscar Lapeña Marchena, 2015-02-11 In film imagery urban spaces show up not only as spatial settings of a story but also as projected ideas and forms that aim to recreate and capture the spirit of cultures societies and epochs Some cinematic cities have even managed to transcend fiction to become part of modern collective memory Can we imagine a futuristic city not inspired at least remotely by Fritz Lang's Metropolis In the same way ancient Babylon Troy and Rome can hardly be shaped in popular imagination without conscious or subconscious references to the striking visions of Griffiths Intolerance Petersen's Troy and Scott's Gladiator to mention only a few influential examples Imagining Ancient Cities in Film explores for the first time in scholarship film representations of cities of the Ancient World from early cinema to the 21st century The volume analyzes the different choices made by filmmakers art designers and screen writers to recreate ancient urban spaces as more or less convincing settings of mythical and historical events In looking behind and beyond intended archaeological accuracy symbolic fantasy primitivism exoticism and Hollywoodesque monumentality this volume pays particular attention to the depiction of cities as faces of ancient civilizations but also as containers of moral ideas and cultural fashions deeply rooted in the contemporary zeitgeist and in continuously revisited traditions The Ancient World in Silent Cinema Pantelis Michelakis, Maria Wyke, 2013-08-15 In the first four decades of cinema hundreds of films were made that drew their inspiration from ancient Greece Rome Egypt and the Bible Few of these films have been studied and even fewer have received the critical attention they deserve The films in question ranging from historical and mythological epics to adaptations of ancient drama burlesques cartoons and documentaries suggest a fascination with the ancient world that competes in intensity and breadth with that of Hollywood's classical era What contribution did antiquity make to the development of early cinema How did early cinema's representations affect modern understanding of antiquity Existing prints as well as ephemera scattered in film archives and libraries around the world constitute an enormous field of research This extensively illustrated edited collection is a first systematic attempt to focus on the instrumental role of silent cinema in twentieth century conceptions of the ancient Mediterranean and Middle East The American Review of Reviews Albert Shaw,1926 American Monthly Review of Reviews Albert Shaw,1927 Seduction and Power Silke Knippschild,Marta Garcia Morcillo,2013-10-10 Based on a conference held at the University of Bristol in September 2010
