Race J. Kameron Carter, 2008-09-02 In

Race A Theological Account J Kameron Carter meditates on the multiple legacies implicated in the production of a racialized world and that still mark how we function in it and think about ourselves These are the legacies of colonialism and empire political theories of the state anthropological theories of the human and philosophy itself from the eighteenth century Enlightenment to the present Carter's claim is that Christian theology and the signal transformation it along with Christianity underwent is at the heart of these legacies In that transformation Christian anti Judaism biologized itself so as to racialize itself As a result and with the legitimation of Christian theology Christianity became the cultural property of the West the religious ground of white supremacy and global hegemony In short Christianity became white The racial imagination is thus a particular kind of theological problem Not content only to describe this problem Carter constructs a way forward for Christian theology Through engagement with figures as disparate in outlook and as varied across the historical landscape as Immanuel Kant Frederick Douglass Jarena Lee Michel Foucault Cornel West Albert Raboteau Charles Long James Cone Irenaeus of Lyons Gregory of Nyssa and Maximus the Confessor Carter reorients the whole of Christian theology bringing it into the twenty first century Neither a simple reiteration of Black Theology nor another expression of the new theological orthodoxies this groundbreaking book will be a major contribution to contemporary Christian theology with ramifications in other areas of the humanities

Louis Guilloux: Ear-witness Walter Redfern, 2023-12-28 This is the first truly comprehensive study in any language of the writings of Louis Guilloux It embraces all his fiction including his short stories to which little or no attention has previously been paid The title refers to Guilloux's lifelong stance an empathetic witness and listener to the lives of other people who lifts anecdotes to the level of social and psychological life studies Highly valued by writers such as Malraux and Camus Guilloux's work is studied here under several key categories which represent overlaps and tensions rather than bleak opposites memory and forgetfulness the shifting relationship of individual and community roots stasis and escape movement Guilloux and committed literature La Maison du Peuple Les Batailles perdues and the trip to the USSR with Gide and Dabit A long chapter is devoted to a close reading of Guilloux's baroque masterpiece Le Sang noir a much richer and less cerebral epic of an intellectual enmeshed in a provincial society than its successor Sartre's La Nausée Detailed attention is given to Guilloux's recycling of the model for the hero Cyprien the rogue elephant thinker Georges Palante Le Sang noir is a haunted book Guilloux's experiments with chronological dislocation Le Jeu de patience with narrative voices essais de voix Coco perdu with multiple personality La Confrontation and with the ambiguous pseudo science of physiognomy passim are all fully analysed Throughout wherever called for the culturally cosmopolitan Guilloux is compared or contrasted with writers from various countries Dostoevsky Tolstoy Gorky Silone Dickens Vall's Camus and Sartre This is a matter less of influence than of Guilloux's choice of companions

The Theater of Experiment Al Coppola, 2016-08-19 The first book length study of the relationship between science and theater during the long eighteenth century in Britain The Theater of Experiment explores the crucial role of spectacle in the establishment of modern science by analyzing how eighteenth century science was staged in a double sense On the one hand this study analyzes science in performance the way that science and scientists were made a public spectacle in comedies farces and pantomimes for purposes that could range from the satiric to the pedagogic to the hagiographic But this book also considers the way in which these plays laid bare science as performance that is the way that eighteenth century science was itself a kind of performing art subject to regimes of stagecraft that traversed the laboratory the lecture hall the anatomy theater and the public stage Not only did the representation of natural philosophy in eighteenth century plays like Thomas Shadwell's Virtuoso Aphra Behn's The Emperor of the Moon Susanna Centlivre's The Basset Table and John Rich's Necromancer or Harelequin Doctor Faustus influence contemporary debates over the role that experimental science was to play public life the theater shaped the very form that science itself was to take By disciplining and ultimately helping to legitimate experimental philosophy the eighteenth century stage helped to naturalize an epistemology based on self evident decontextualized facts that might speak for themselves In this the stage and the lab jointly fostered an Enlightenment culture of spectacle that transformed the conditions necessary for the production and dissemination of scientific knowledge Precisely because Enlightenment public science initiatives taking their cue from the public stages came to embrace the stagecraft and spectacle that Restoration natural philosophy sought to repress from the scene of experimental knowledge production eighteenth century science organized itself around not the sober masculine modest witness of experiment but the sentimental feminized eager observer of scientific performance
