

English Language Proficiency Policy

Graduate & Professional Applicants

A satisfactory command of the English language is required for admission to Pacific University College of Optometry. All graduate students whose first language is not English must meet the English language proficiency requirement prior to admission. Please note that this requirement applies to all applicants, including resident aliens and citizens.

Requiring valid proof of English language proficiency is a mandate of the Graduate & Professional Programs & Colleges. Thus, only the program or College can approve any exceptions.

TOEFL and IELTS tests must be taken by the second week of January in order to be considered. This allows processing time for immigrations documents as needed.

Valid Proof of English Language Proficiency

- The minimum required official score on the International Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), the Pacific Institutional TOEFL, or the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) exam.
 - Test scores are valid for 2 years after the test date.
 - Test score more than two years old will be considered valid if the score exceeded the minimum requirement and you have maintained continuous residency in the United States since the exam date.
- Completion of a bachelor's, master's, doctorate, or professional degree at an accredited college or university where English is the only language of instruction.
 - NOTE: Individuals who are in the process of earning a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution may be admitted to some programs.
