

Struggling States

- ▶ The colonial legacy: The majority of states that are struggling in the current global nation-state system are former European colonies.
- ▶ encomienda system A forced labor system introduced by the Spanish during the conquest of the Americas that effectively transferred indigenous land to the Conquistadors and made the local populations landless slaves.
- ▶ Neo-colonialism is another factor contributing to the struggles of former colonies to establish themselves as successful independent states
- ▶ Neo-colonialism refers to the involvement of more powerful states in the domestic affairs of less powerful ones.

members including the use of the label feminist as a self identifier by both individuals as well as the organisation as a whole By exploring the range of activities that AWARE has been involved in since the mid 1980s the text describes in detail the fraught relationship between feminism and the state in Singapore The author uses the framework of transnational feminism to explore the ways in which gender race ethnicity and class intersect in the construction of historically and culturally specific feminisms The book will be of interest to scholars from a range of disciplines including those working on gender studies feminist history and Southeast Asian studies

Imperialism, Race and Resistance Barbara Bush, 2002-01-04
 Imperialism Race and Resistance marks an important new development in the study of British and imperial interwar history Focusing on Britain West Africa and South Africa Imperialism Race and Resistance charts the growth of anti colonial resistance and opposition to racism in the prelude to the post colonial era The complex nature of imperial power is explored as well as its impact on the lives and struggles of black men and women in Africa and the African diaspora Barbara Bush argues that tensions between white dreams of power and black dreams of freedom were seminal in transforming Britain's relationship with Africa in an era bounded by global war and shaped by ideological conflict

Constant Struggle Julien Mauduit, Jennifer Tunnicliffe, 2021-10-06
 Most Canadians assume they live under some form of democracy Yet confusion about the meaning of the word and the limits of the people's power obscures a deeper understanding Constant Struggle looks for the democratic impulse in Canada's past to deconstruct how the country became a democracy if in fact it ever did This volume asks what limits and contradictions have framed the nation's democratization process examining how democracy has been understood by those who have advocated for or resisted it and exploring key historical realities that have shaped it Scholars from a range of disciplines tackle this elusive concept suggesting that instead of looking for a simple narrative we must be alert to the slower untidier and incomplete processes of democratization in Canada Constant Struggle offers a renewed sometimes unsettling depiction stretching from studies of early Indigenous societies through colonial North America and Confederation into the twentieth century Contributors reassess democracy in light of settler colonialism and white supremacy investigate connections between capitalism and democracy consider alternative conceptions of democracy from Canada's past and highlight the various ways in which the democratic ideal has been mobilized to advance particular visions of Canadian society Demonstrating that Canada's democratization process has not always been one that empowered the people Constant Struggle questions traditional views of the relationship between democracy and liberalism in Canada and around the world

The University Socialist Club and the Contest for Malaya Kah Seng Loh, Cheng Tju Lim, Edgar Liao, Guo-Quan Seng, 2025-10-01
 The book using a small group of left wing student activists as a prism explores the complex politics that underpinned the making of nation states in Singapore and Malaysia after World War Two While most works have viewed the period in terms of political contestation groups the book demonstrates how it is better understood as involving a shared modernist project framed by British planned decolonization This pursuit of nationalist modernity was characterized by an optimism to replace the colonial system with a new state and mobilize the people into a new relationship with the state according them new responsibilities as well as new rights This book based on student writings official documents and oral history interviews brings to life various modernist strands liberal democratic ethnic communal and Fabian and Marxist socialist seeking to determine the form of postcolonial Malaya It uncovers a hitherto little seen world where the meanings of loud slogans were fluid vague and deeply contested This world also comprised as much convergence between the groups as conflict including collaboration between the Socialist Club and other political and student groups which were once its rivals while its main ally eventually became its nemesis
