Race and Ethnicity Warren I. Cohen, 2003-03-07 This course reader collects the essential texts necessary for a comparative and theoretically informed approach to the study of race and ethnicity The introduction gives an account of race and ethnicity in contemporary society Racism and Ethnicity Ian Law, 2013-09-05 Racism and Ethnicity Global Debates Dilemmas Directions examines in detail the theories histories and principal debates of race racism and ethnicity within a global context The text offers critical evaluation of the work of major figures from Du Bois to Goldberg and presents new research on pre modern racisms contemporary scientific racisms racist violence racism reduction ethnicity in the UK and European patterns of exclusion and discrimination Richly illustrated throughout with examples and case studies drawn from across the world and time the book also offers a range of in text features to aid study including chapter summaries key concept boxes chapter activities and further reading Racism and Ethnicity Global Debates Dilemmas Directions will be core reading for students at all levels across the social sciences and the humanities ranging from history and cultural studies through sociology to political and policy analysis It will also be of significant interest to researchers and policy makers in a range of fields The Routledge Companion to Race and Ethnicity Stephen M. Caliendo, Charlton D. McIlwain, 2020-10-27 The second edition of The Routledge Companion to Race and Ethnicity offers readers a broad overview of scholarly exploration of the ways that humans have organized themselves and have been organized according to racial and ethnic divisions More than 80 scholars from around the world and representing multiple academic traditions contribute entries to this accessible yet sophisticated volume that addresses contemporary issues in historical context The first half of the book challenges readers to grapple with some of the most controversial aspects of categorization prejudice and discrimination through focused chapters ranging from the notion of Whiteness to the supposed biological rationale for racial categorization The second half is comprised of 70 shorter entries on specialized concepts persons and groups that are crucial to understanding these issues Taken as a whole this volume provides a broad multi disciplinary and global overview of issues that continue to provide challenges to notions of equality and justice An Introduction to the Sociology of Religion Inger Furseth, Pål Repstad, 2017-03-02 Is it true that religion is weakening in modern times or are we facing religious resurgence What is fundamentalism How does it emerge and grow What role does religion play in ethnic and national conflicts Is religion a fundamental driving force or do political leaders use religion for their own purposes Do all religions oppress women These are some of the questions addressed in this book An Introduction to the Sociology of Religion provides an overview of sociological theories of contemporary religious life Some chapters are organized according to topic Others offer brief presentations of classical and contemporary sociologists from Karl Marx to Zygmunt Bauman and their perspectives on social life including religion Throughout the book illustrations and examples are taken from several religious traditions Racial Theories in Social Science Sean Elias, Joe R. Feagin, 2016-04-14 Racial Theories in Social Science A Systemic Racism Critique

provides a critique of the white racial framing and lack of systemic racism analysis prevalent in past and present mainstream race theory As this book demonstrates mainstream racial analysis and social analysis more generally remain stunted and uncritical because of this unhealthy white framing of knowledge and evasion or downplaying of institutional structural and systemic racism In response to ineffective social science analyses of racial matters this book presents a counter approach systemic racism theory The foundation of this theoretical perspective lies in the critical insights and perspectives of African Americans and other people of color who have long challenged biased white framed perspectives and practices and the racially oppressive and exclusionary institutions and social systems created by whites over several centuries Assessing Culturally Informed Parenting in Social Work Davis Kiima,2021-03-07 This book explores how social workers incorporate issues of culture when evaluating the parenting competence of Black Asian and Minority Ethnic BAME parents and highlights the gap in how social workers assess safe parenting in BAME families Drawing on a study that combined a phenomenological research philosophy with frame analysis the book explores how culturally informed parenting is construed by social workers and BAME parents It argues that effective assessment of the parenting competence of BAME parents is predicated on understanding how culture frames perspectives of what constitutes competent parenting Throughout the eight chapters the book moves the debate within the literature away from the universality of parenting concepts to a focus on a deeper understanding of culture It highlights the influence that culture has on the way that BAME parents socialise their children as well as how parents and social workers conceptualise safe parenting The result is useful insights into the cultural context of parenting The book will be of interest to all scholars and students of social work childhood studies sociology and social policy as well as social work professionals more broadly
