Colish, 2023-05-31 The papers in this second selection of articles by Professor Colish focus on thinkers of the patristic age and relate to her three monographic studies in this area published over the last two decades At the same time these papers look beyond the patristic period both backward to these authors appropriation of the classical and Christian traditions and forward to their function as authorities in later medieval intellectual history from the Carolingian Renaissance to Anselm of Canterbury the scholastics and Dante Themes which these papers address include the transmission and use of Platonism and Stoicism logic and linguistic theory and the ethics of lying moral indifference and the salvation of the virtuous pagan The Fullness of Divine Worship Uwe Michael Lang, 2018-07-11 This volume offers a selection of essays from the pages of Antiphon A Journal for Liturgical Renewal the official organ of the Society for Catholic Liturgy The Society was founded in 1995 as a multidisciplinary association of Catholic scholars teachers pastors and ecclesiastical professionals in the Anglophone world with the aim of promoting the scholarly study and practical renewal of the sacred liturgy Augustine's Early Thought on the Redemptive Function of Divine Judgement Bart van Egmond, 2018-12-06 Augustine's Early Thought on the Redemptive Function of Divine Judgement considers the relationship between Augustine's account of God's judgment and his theology of grace in his early works How does God use his law and the penal consequences of its transgression in the service of his grace both personally and through his agents on earth Augustine reflected on this question from different perspectives As a teacher and bishop he thought about the nature of discipline and punishment in the education of his pupils brothers and congregants As a polemicist against the Manichaeans and as a biblical expositor he had to grapple with issues regarding God's relationship to evil in the world the violence God displays in the Old Testament and in the death of his own Son Furthermore Augustine meditated on the way God's judgment and grace related in his own life both before and after his conversion Bart van Egmond follows the development of Augustine's early thought on judgment and grace from the Cassiciacum writings to the Confessions The argument is contextualized both against the background of the earlier Christian tradition of reflection on the providential function of divine chastisement and the tradition of psychagogy that Augustine inherited from a variety of rhetorical and philosophical sources This study expertly contributes to the ongoing scholarly discussion on the development of Augustine's doctrine of grace and to the conversation on the theological roots of his justification of coercion against the Donatists The Emerging Christian Minority Victor Lee Austin, Joel C.

Pagan Virtue J. Warren Smith,2011-01-27 Warren Smith examines the neglected biblical liturgical and theological foundations of Ambrose s thought on ethics Earlier studies have found little that was distinctively Christian in Ambrose s image of the virtuous person Smith shows that although like the pagans he emphasized moderation courage justice and prudence for Ambrose these characteristics were shaped by the church's beliefs about God's salvific economy Theodoret of Cyrus Istvan Pasztori Kupan, 2006-09-27 The larger part of Theodoret of Cyrus' extant body of work still remains untranslated and this lack provides a fragmented representation of his thought and has led to his misrepresentation by ancient medieval and some modern scholars Theodoret of Cyrus presents a fresh collection of texts from all periods of his career including two complete treatises On the Trinity and On the Incarnation as well as representative selections from two others A Cure of Greek Maladies and A Compendium of Heretical Mythification so far unpublished in English with a critical introduction concerning his life legacy and place in the history of Christian doctrine This book provides the reader with a more balanced picture of Theodoret's often neglected depreciated and largely inaccessible theological legacy Sacrifice in Pagan and Christian Antiquity Robert J. Daly, 2019-08-22 Robert J Daly S J examines the concept of sacrifice in the ancient Mediterranean world and discusses how the rise of bloodless Christian sacrifice and the use of sacrificial language in reference to highly spiritualized Christian lives would have seemed unsettling and radically challenging to the pagan mind Acknowledging the difficulties posed by an overwhelmingly Christian scholarly narrative around the topic of sacrifice Daly specifically sets out to tell the non-Christian side of this story He first outlines the pagan trajectory and then the Jewish Christian trajectory before concluding with a representative series of comparisons and contrasts Covering the concept of sacrifice in relation to prayer ethics and morality the rhetoric and economics of sacrificial ceremonies and heroes and saints Daly finishes with an estimation of how this study might inform further study of sacrifice Basil of Caesarea, Gregory of Nyssa, and the Transformation of Divine Simplicity Andrew Radde-Gallwitz, 2009-10 Divine simplicity is the idea that as the ultimate principle of the universe God must be a non-composite unity not made up of parts or diverse attributes Radde-Gallwitz explores how this idea was appropriated by early Christian theologians from non-Christian philosophy with particular reference to Basil of Caesarea and Gregory of Nyssa Missa Est! Eugene R. Schlesinger, 2016-12-15 The twenty-first century church cannot afford to neglect mission When church and culture no longer share a common outlook the only way forward is mission Pope Francis recognizes this in his call for a missionary conversion of the church Responding to this invitation is a constructive work in ecclesiology addressing the relationship between liturgy and mission in the church's life It advances a notion of the church grounded in both liturgy and mission where neither is subordinated to nor collapsed into the other The church's liturgical rites disclose and enact the church's identity as a missionary community Close examination of the sources at the heart of traditional communion ecclesiology Trinitarian theology the sacraments of initiation and eucharistic theology yields an ecclesiology in which the church is constituted by both liturgy and mission These are two distinct ways of participating in the triune life of God which is revealed in the paschal mystery The church's pilgrimage to God's kingdom takes it through the world in mission The church as the body of Christ is given away to God and to the world for the world's salvation The result is a contemporary restatement of traditional ecclesiology transposed into a missional key

Possidius of Calama Erika Hermanowicz,2008-03-06 Possidius the bishop of Calama was a life long friend of St Augustine s and best known for writing a biography of the bishop of Hippo the Vita Augustini Hermanowicz analyzes both the biography and the legally oriented career of Possidius to illustrate how active Augustine s colleagues were in soliciting imperial support against their religious competitors and to show just how often Augustine s close friends disagreed with him on important matters of law coercion and diplomacy It is still widely asserted by scholars that St Augustine dominated the theological landscape of North Africa but this engaging study demonstrates how often he was in fact singular and isolated in his beliefs

Papyri and the Social World of the New Testament Sabine R. Huebner,2019-07-11 Explores the socio economic background of people in the New Testament using papyrological evidence from Roman Egypt Religion Index One ,2007

The Pelagian Controversy Stuart Squires,2019-10-02 The Pelagian Controversy 411 431 was one of the most important theological controversies in the history of Christianity It was a bitter and messy affair in the evening of the Roman Empire that addressed some of the most important questions that we ask about ourselves Who are we What does it mean to be a human being Are we good or are we evil Are we burdened by an uncontrollable impulse to sin Do we have free will It was comprised by a group of men who were some of the greatest thinkers of Late Antiquity such as Augustine Jerome John Cassian Pelagius Caelestius and Julian of Eclanum These men were deeply immersed in the rich Roman literary and intellectual traditions of that time and they along with many other great minds of this period tried to create equally rich Christian literary and intellectual traditions This controversy which is usually of interest only to historians and theologians of Christianity should be appreciated by a wide audience because it was the primary event that shaped the way Christians came to understand the human person for the next 1 600 years It is still relevant today because anthropological questions continue to haunt our public discourse Augustine and Rhetoric ,2023-11-27 This volumes examines the place of classical rhetoric in Augustine s theology Rather than seeing rhetoric as a matter only of style the authors examine the argumentative techniques that Augustine would have learned and taught as a professional rhetorician Essays pay particular attention to the rhetorical practice of invention in order to uncover the ways in which Augustine s thought is not only expressed rhetorically but constructed rhetorically as well If you want to know what kind of rhetoric Augustine used in the actual practice as a Christian writer and preacher this volume will answer your question
