Sacrificial Logics Feminist Theory And The Critique Of Identity:

Sacrificial Logics Allison Weir,1996 Allison Weir sets forth a concept of identity which depends on an acceptance of nonidentity difference and connection to others defined as a capacity to participate in a social world Weir argues that the equation of identity with repression and domination links relational feminists like Nancy Chodorow who equate self identity with the repression of connection to others and poststructuralist feminists like Judith Butler who view any identity as a repression of nonidentity or difference Weir traces this conception of identity as domination back to Simone de Beauvoir s theories of the relation of self and other Sacrificial Logics Allison Weir,2014-07-16 Allison Weir sets forth a concept of identity which depends on an acceptance of nonidentity difference and connection to others defined as a capacity to participate in a social world Weir argues that the equation of identity with repression and domination links relational feminists like Nancy Chodorow who equate self identity with the repression of connection to others and poststructuralist feminists like Judith Butler who view any identity as a repression of nonidentity or difference Weir traces this conception of identity as domination back to Simone de Beauvoir s theories of the relation of self and other The Power of Feminist

Theory Amy Allen,2018-03-05 Power is clearly a crucial concept for feminist theory Insofar as feminists are interested in analyzing power it is because they have an interest in understanding critiquing and ultimately challenging the multiple array of unjust power relations affecting women in contemporary Western societies including sexism racism heterosexism and class oppression In The Power of Feminist Theory Amy Allen diagnoses the inadequacies of previous feminist conceptions of power and draws on the work of a diverse group of theorists of power including Michel Foucault Judith Butler and Hannah Arendt in order to construct a new feminist conception of power The conception of power developed in this book enables readers to theorize domination resistance and solidarity and perhaps more importantly to do so in a way that illuminates the interrelatedness of these three modalities of power The Rites of Identity Beth Eddy,2009-01-10 The Rites of Identity

argues that Kenneth Burke was the most deciding influence on Ralph Ellison s writings that Burke and Ellison are firmly situated within the American tradition of religious naturalism and that this tradition properly understood as religious offers a highly useful means for considering contemporary identity and mitigating religious conflict Beth Eddy adds Burke and Ellison to a tradition of religious naturalism that traces back to Ralph Waldo Emerson but received its most nuanced expression in the work of George Santayana Through close readings of the essays and fiction of Burke and Ellison Eddy shows the extent to which their cultural criticisms are intertwined Both offer a naturalized understanding of piety explore the psychological and social dynamics of scapegoating and propose comic religious resources And both explicitly connect these religious categories to identity be it religious racial national ethnic or gendered Eddy arguing that the most socially damaging uses of religious language and ritual are connected to the best uses that such language has to offer finds in Burke and Ellison ways to manage this precarious situation and to mitigate religious violence through wise use of performative symbolic action By placing

Burke and Ellison in a tradition of pragmatic thought The Rites of Identity uncovers an antiessentialist approach to identity that serves the moral needs of a world that is constantly negotiating performing and ritualizing changes of identity The Cambridge Companion to Feminism in Philosophy Miranda Fricker, Jennifer Hornsby, 2000-01-27 The thirteen specially commissioned essays in this volume are written by philosophers at the forefront of feminist scholarship and are designed to provide an accessible and stimulating guide to a philosophical literature that has seen massive expansion in recent years Ranging from history of philosophy through metaphysics to philosophy of science they encompass all the core subject areas commonly taught in anglophone undergraduate and graduate philosophy courses offering both an overview of and a contribution to the relevant debates Together they testify to the intellectual value of feminism as a radicalizing energy internal to philosophical inquiry This volume will be essential reading for any student or teacher of philosophy who is curious about the place of feminism in their subject Dialectics of the Body Lisa Yun Lee, 2016-05-06 The study of Theodor Adorno has largely ignored or dismissed the enigmatic and provocative moments in his writing on the body Dialectics of the Body corrects this gap by arguing that Adorno's analysis of reified society emanates and returns to the body and that hope and desire are present throughout Adorno's philosophy The Politics of Gender Yoke-Lian Lee, 2010-10-18 This new title in the Politics of series addresses the major theme of the politics of gender Chapters on a variety of issues contributed by experts in the field of gender include Human Trafficking and EU Law Gender in International Relations the Gender Politics of Philosophy Political Theory the Construction of Masculinity in Hollywood Movies the Politics of Law and the Politics of Mainstreaming Gender in the Peace and Security Agenda of the African Union An A Z glossary offers supplementary information on key terms with entries including abortion Commission on the Status of Women ecofeminism equal access human rights migration population control and sex tourism Feminist Philosophy Herta Nagl-Docekal, 2018-03-08 Are we in a post feminist era Has the term feminist grown out of its resisted stance What from today's standpoint is an appropriate concept of feminist philosophy And is it not the case that all people thinking democratically must share its central concern In this book internationally acclaimed philosopher Herta Nagl-Docekal discusses and critiques the theories of today Her study ranges across philosophical anthropology aesthetics philosophy of science the critique of reason political theory and philosophy of law Continually confronting the persistent problem of the hierarchical relations of the sexes Nagl-Docekal affirms the importance of feminist thought as she presses for effective approaches to common problems Nature Ethics Marti Kheel, 2008 In Nature Ethics An Ecofeminist Perspective Marti Kheel explores the underlying worldview of nature ethics offering an alternative ecofeminist approach Seeking to heal the divisions between the seemingly disparate movements and philosophies of feminism animal advocacy environmental ethics and holistic health Kheel proposes an ecofeminist philosophy that underscores the importance of empathy and care for individual beings as well as larger wholes

Decolonizing Freedom Allison Weir, 2024 Freedom is celebrated as the definitive ideal of modern western civilization Yet in western thought and practice the freedom of some has typically been defined through opposition to the unfreedom of others These exclusions are not secondary to a prior concept of freedom but are constitutive exclusions that have shaped the ways in which western theorists define what freedom is Allison Weir draws on Indigenous political philosophies and practices of decolonization grounded in conceptions of relationality and resurgence in dialogue with western philosophies to reconstruct a tradition of relational freedom as a distinctive political conception of freedom a radically democratic mode of engagement and participation in social and political relations with an infinite range of strange and diverse beings perceived as free agents in interdependent relations in a shared world Through the work of Leanne Betasamosake Simpson John Borrows Glen Coulthard Audra Simpson Rauna Kuokkanen Joanne Barker Jodi Byrd James Tully and many others this book traces a tradition of colonial unknowing in western conceptions of freedom from Hobbes through republican and critical theories and explores a countertradition of relations between freedom and collective love exemplified in Leanne Betasamosake Simpson's love of land and Hannah Arendt's love of the world. It considers Indigenous modes of world creation as performative affective embodied strategies of democratic life skilled modes of addressing diversity and conflict fear and hostility in practices of freedom that embrace polycentric knowledges and rooted dynamisms in contexts of complexity and constant change. Weir argues that Indigenous women's struggles to belong to communities and participate in governance have engendered new theories of relational rights that combine politics of rights and resurgence and calls for a coalitional politics guided by queer and feminist Indigenous models of transformative resurgence. Finally, Weir proposes an approach to critical theory as a practice of self transformation through openness to the other oriented toward relational freedom.
