Shadow Play Shadow And Light In Contemporary Art A Homage To Hans Christian Andersen:

Grasping Shadows William Chapman Sharpe, 2017-08-04 What is in a shadow Menace seduction or salvation Immaterial but profound shadows lurk everywhere in literature and the visual arts signifying everything from the treachery of appearances to the unfathomable power of God From Plato to Picasso from Rembrandt to Welles and Warhol from Lord of the Rings to the latest video game shadows act as central players in the drama of Western culture Yet because they work silently artistic shadows often slip unnoticed past audiences and critics Conceived as an accessible introduction to this elusive phenomenon Grasping Shadows is the first book that offers a general theory of how all shadows function in texts and visual media Arguing that shadow images take shape within a common cultural field where visual and verbal meanings overlap William Sharpe ranges widely among classic and modern works revealing the key motifs that link apparently disparate works such as those by Fra Angelico and James Joyce Clementina Hawarden and Kara Walker Charles Dickens and Kumi Yamashita Showing how real world shadows have shaped the meanings of shadow imagery Grasping Shadows guides the reader through the techniques used by writers and artists to represent shadows from the Renaissance onward The last chapter traces how shadows impact the art of the modern city from Renoir and Zola to film noir and projection systems that capture the shadows of passers by on streets around the globe Extending his analysis to contemporary street art popular songs billboards and shadow theatre Sharpe demonstrates a practical way to grasp the dark side that looms all around us Vera Röh

Röh Vera Röh, Eugen Gomringer, Stephen Bann, 2006 Both a sculptor and a photographer German born Vera Röh is best known for her unorthodox approach to visual art Using a repertoire of only elementary geometrical shapes Röh's incisions mutilations and cross sections of various materials evoke the very real challenges of restoration and reconstruction Vera Röh is the first comprehensive collection of this contemporary artist's work to be presented to an English speaking public It explores the changing shape of Röh's art in such installations as Integrations and Shadow Objects as her photographs of the Jaipur Observatory and works such as the cube series bearing the inscription Night is the Earth's Shadow which form part of a significant corpus of work connected with language Accompanied by essays from renowned poet and critic Eugen Gomringer and the art historian Stephen Bann Vera Röh is lavishly illustrated with images from her exhibitions Luc Tuymans

Tuymans Eva Meyer-Hermann, 2018-01-09 This first volume in a catalogue raisonné of Tuymans's paintings surveys nearly 200 works from the vital early years of his career Credited with a key role in the revival of painting in the 1990s Belgian artist Luc Tuymans b 1958 continues to produce subtle and at times unsettling works that engage with history technology and everyday life This first volume in a catalogue raisonné of Tuymans's paintings surveys nearly 200 works that were vital to his artistic development The years 1972 to 1994 witnessed the maturation of his signature method of painting from preexisting imagery such as magazine images Polaroids and television footage as well as his first solo exhibition Also dating from this period are many of his seminal canvases along with ten poignant portraits of the ailing human body and the enigmatic series Superstition that comprised his first works exhibited in the United States. The catalogue features brilliant new photography of each of the paintings and an illustrated chronology with archival images and installation shots of the works in this volume. This publication is a testament to Tuymans's persistent assertion of the relevance and importance of painting a conviction that he maintains even in today's digital world when his work continues to be a touchstone for artists and scholars.

Alibis Kathy Halbreich, Mark Benjamin Godfrey, Lanka Tattersall, Magnus Schaefer, 2014. Working across an unusually broad range of media including painting, photography, film, drawing and sculpture, Sigmar Polke (German 1941–2010) is widely regarded as one of the most influential and experimental artists of the post-war generation. Published in conjunction with an exhibition at The Museum of Modern Art, this richly illustrated publication provides an overview of Polke's cross-disciplinary innovations and career. It features more than 500 illustrations and 18 contributions by scholars and artists that examine the full range of Polke's exceptionally inventive oeuvre. Authors such as exhibition curators Kathy Halbreich, Mark Godfrey and Lanka Tattersall, artists John Kelsey and Jutta Koether and renowned professors Benjamin Buchloh and Christine Mehring discuss a wide range of topics that include Polke's engagement with German history, abstraction and the paranormal, his continuous questioning of conventional artistic disciplines and social norms, and his experiments with materials and tools as diverse as toxic pigments, patterned fabrics, images taken from a vast range of sources and the Xerox machine. Four lead essays trace broad themes in Polke's work across mediums and across his career, while twelve shorter texts each focus on a single work or aspect of Polke's practice, which allows for a concentrated consideration of critical issues such as Polke's use of language or textiles that have never been discussed before in any depth. A richly illustrated chronology presents a cultural frame for Polke's work and an interview with Benjamin Buchloh offers insight on Polke's first retrospective held in 1976. The catalogue includes contributions by a wide range of authors with great expertise, most of whom have never published on Polke before, thus broadening the scope of scholarship on Polke and offering new thinking about this chameleon-like artist.

Medienästhetik des Schattens Kathrin Tillmanns, 2017-05-15. Der menschliche Schatten im Zeitalter seiner technischen Reproduzierbarkeit: Grundlage der Untersuchung von Kathrin Tillmanns bildet die artifizielle Präsenz des Schattens in ausgewählten Artefakten der visuellen und performativen Kunst des 20. und 21. Jahrhunderts. Ihr Fokus richtet sich auf künstlerische Formen des Ausdrucks innerhalb der Bereiche Fotografie, Video, Tanz und Relational Architecture. Die Studie zeigt, dass der Schatten des menschlichen Körpers nicht mehr einzig als ästhetische, poetische Erscheinung zu fassen ist, sondern vielmehr als Teil eines Gefüges, welches zwischen medientechnologischen Ästhetisierungen, sozialen Verhaltensweisen und nicht zuletzt der Glaubwürdigkeit in gleicher Bilder diffundiert.

Rethinking Light and Shadow in Contemporary Artwork Alvin Xiong, 2015 Light has been an important element in the world since ancient civilizations The sanctity of light and sun is one of the most ancient and persistent themes within sacred art and architecture a concept associated with the cultural structures and rituals of Stonehenge the Egyptian pyramids as well as both Mayan and Aztec civilizations People in ancient times worshipped the sun a lot reflecting their ancient thoughts that the sun had immortal power over human mortality They needed to find a way to revere the power that they believed came from their gods Light has a particular materiality in connecting human life to the touch of an unknown field Within mankind s ancient cultures the sun had been given an extraordinary position It is possible that social leaders in that period used their knowledge of the seasons to maintain their own power and status over those people of lower classes Such political and religious agendas may have given Man the understanding of his appropriate place in relation to the universe and the creator or God People were convinced that their commitment to worshiping the sun was the proper way to build a direct relationship between both them and the creator In the Christian tradition light is also indispensable In Genesis 1 3 it reads And God said Let there be light and there was light Light was an integral component to creation in the Christian world This same concept of light illuminating is prominent in religious architecture Stained glass windows are an important device in churches and cathedrals The function of stained glass is not only showing people the beauty of light but also reminds the believer that the power of light comes from their God so their lives cannot be without God or light The importance of light is not only apparent in ancient art but also appears in minimalism and post minimalism earth art Sunlight space and human beings have been involved together in combination for millennium Also if we look at history Mankind s interest in working with visual phenomena of sunlight and space has continued since early civilization During past decades up until now contemporary artists have used and are using light to create their artworks This provides the viewer with an immersive experience of the power of light James Turrell's monumental The Roden Crater Project and Nancy Holt's Sun Tunnels are both good examples of this Contemporary artists are using artwork to create a unique worship space for the viewer to understand the power of light For Turrell's The Roden Crater Project the power of light is manifested by the architecture and sun bringing the light of the heavens down to Earth linking viewers with the celestial movements of planets stars and distant galaxies Both light and space have been perfectly used in this monumental art project I think Turrell was influenced by the design of the architecture to enhance his visual perception in this project I also believe that Turrell explored and understood the Ancient's treasure As Turrell says I admire Borobudur Angkor Wat Pagan Machu Picchu the Mayan pyramids the Egyptian pyramids Herodium Old Sarum Newgrange and the Maes Howe These places and structures have certainly influenced my thinking These thoughts will find concurrence in Roden Crater New York critic Calvin Tompkins writes about Turrell's work His work is not about light or a record of light it is light the physical presence of light made manifest in sensory form The function of the work is using light and space to engage the viewer within the limits and wonder of human perception Light is not only important to me but also important to human beings Without light we would be in darkness
