Caliphs Yossef Rapoport, Emilie Savage-Smith, 2018-12-11 About a millennium ago in Cairo an unknown author completed a large and richly illustrated book In the course of thirty five chapters this book guided the reader on a journey from the outermost cosmos and planets to Earth and its lands islands features and inhabitants This treatise known as The Book of Curiosities was unknown to modern scholars until a remarkable manuscript copy surfaced in 2000 Lost Maps of the Caliphs provides the first general overview of The Book of Curiosities and the unique insight it offers into medieval Islamic thought Opening with an account of the remarkable discovery of the manuscript and its purchase by the Bodleian Library the authors use The Book of Curiosities to re evaluate the development of astrology geography and cartography in the first four centuries of Islam Their account assesses the transmission of Late Antique geography to the Islamic world unearths the logic behind abstract maritime diagrams and considers the palaces and walls that dominate medieval Islamic plans of towns and ports Early astronomical maps and drawings demonstrate the medieval understanding of the structure of the cosmos and illustrate the pervasive assumption that almost any visible celestial event had an effect upon life on Earth Lost Maps of the Caliphs also reconsiders the history of global communication networks at the turn of the previous millennium It shows the Fatimid Empire and its capital Cairo as a global maritime power with tentacles spanning from the eastern Mediterranean to the Indus Valley and the East African coast As Lost Maps of the Caliphs makes clear not only is The Book of Curiosities one of the greatest achievements of medieval mapmaking it is also a remarkable contribution to the story of Islamic civilization that opens an unexpected window to the medieval Islamic view of the world Milton's Paradise lost, books i. and ii., Comus, Lycidas, Il penseroso, and L'allegro, with intr., notes and glossary by J.G. R. R. Tolkien,2021-05-11 At the end of the 1937 J R R Tolkien reluctantly set aside his now greatly elaborated work on the myths and heroic legends of Valinor and Middle earth and began The Lord of the Rings This fifth volume of The History of Middle earth edited by Christopher Tolkien completes the presentation of the whole compass of his writing on those themes up to that time Later forms of the Annals of Valinor and the Annals of Berlerian had been composed The Silmarillion was nearing completion in a greatly amplified version and a new map had been made the myth of the Music of the Ainur had become a separate work and the legend of the Downfall of Numenor had already entered in a primitive form introducing the cardinal ideas of the World Made Round and the Straight

Path into the vanished West Closely associated with this was the abandoned time travel story The Lost Road which was to link the world of Numenor and Middle earth with the legends of many other times and peoples A long essay The Lhammas had been written on the ever more complex relations of the languages and dialects of Middle earth and an etymological dictionary had been undertaken in which a great number of words and names in the Elvish languages were registered and their formation explained thus providing by far the most extensive account of their vocabularies that has appeared
