Mathematics is playing an ever more important role in the physical and biological sciences provoking a blurring of boundaries between scientific disciplines and a resurgence of interest in the modern as well as the classical techniques of applied mathematics This renewal of interest both in research and teaching has led to the establishment of the series Texts in Applied Mathematics TAM The development of new courses is a natural consequence of a high level of excitement on the research frontier as newer techniques such as numerical and symbolic computer systems dynamical systems and chaos mix with and reinforce the traditional methods of applied mathematics Thus the purpose of this textbook series is to meet the current and future needs of these advances and to encourage the teaching of new courses TAM will publish textbooks suitable for use in advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate courses and will complement the Applied Mathematics Sciences AMS series which will focus on advanced textbooks and research level monographs v Preface to the Second Edition The most significant differences between this edition and the first are as follows Additional chapters and sections have been written dealing with nonlinear controllability via Lie algebraic methods variational and numerical approaches to nonlinear control including a brief introduction to the Calculus of Variations and the Minimum Principle time optimal control of linear systems feedback linearization single input case nonlinear optimal feedback controllability of recurrent nets and controllability of linear systems with bounded controls

Mathematical Control Theory for Stochastic Partial Differential Equations Qi Lü, Xu Zhang, 2021-09-17 This is the first book to systematically present control theory for stochastic distributed parameter systems a comparatively new branch of mathematical control theory The new phenomena and difficulties arising in the study of controllability and optimal control problems for this type of system are explained in detail Interestingly enough one has to develop new mathematical tools to solve some problems in this field such as the global Carleman estimate for stochastic partial differential equations and the stochastic transposition method for backward stochastic evolution equations In a certain sense the stochastic distributed parameter control system is the most general control system in the context of classical physics Accordingly studying this field may also yield valuable insights into quantum control systems A basic grasp of functional analysis partial differential equations and control theory for deterministic systems is the only prerequisite for reading this book

Mathematics of Complexity and Dynamical Systems Robert A. Meyers, 2011-10-05 Mathematics of Complexity and Dynamical Systems is an authoritative reference to the basic tools and concepts of complexity systems theory and dynamical systems from the perspective of pure and applied mathematics Complex systems are systems that comprise many interacting parts with the ability to generate a new quality of collective behavior through self organization e g the spontaneous formation of temporal spatial or functional structures These systems are often characterized by extreme sensitivity to initial conditions as well as emergent behavior that are not readily predictable or even completely deterministic The more than 100 entries in this wide ranging single source work provide a comprehensive explication of the theory and applications of mathematical complexity covering ergodic theory fractals and multifractals dynamical systems perturbation theory solitons systems and control theory and related topics Mathematics of Complexity and Dynamical Systems is an essential reference for all those interested in mathematical complexity from undergraduate and graduate students up through professional researchers
